GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORICAL

The obvious need for better-educated teachers for all public schools of Mississippi and the organized efforts of the State Teachers Association culminated during the legislative session of 1910 in an enabling act establishing the Mississippi Normal College. This victory of progressive and democratic leadership inspired the first Board of Trustees to make broad and far-reaching plans for the new institution. The generosity of Forrest County and Hattiesburg in offering $260,000 in cash, 840 acres of land, and other valuable considerations for the privilege of having the college located in Hattiesburg made it possible for the newly-elected president and the board to begin the construction of buildings.

In September, 1912, the college opened with an enrollment of 220 students. The course of study, prescribed by legislative enactment, consisted of a certificate course and a diploma course. The need for such an institution and the success with which it was fulfilling its purpose was evidenced by an increase in the enrollment from 220 in the regular session of 1912-13 to 791 during the regular session of 1915-16 and 894 during the 1916 summer session.

The rapid development of high schools called for a higher course of study at Mississippi Normal College, and in 1922 the legislature authorized the college to grant degrees. In 1924 the name was changed to State Teachers College, and by 1929 the diploma course was dropped, the old certificate course having been discontinued several years before. In 1928 the Home Economics Department was certified for the training of vocational home economics teachers. In 1934 the Board of Trustees authorized the degree of Bachelor of Music. In 1938 the Bachelor of Arts degree was authorized, and in 1940 the name of the institution was changed to Mississippi Southern College.

In 1947 the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning in Mississippi authorized Mississippi Southern College to give one year of graduate work leading to the degree of Master of Arts in education. In 1951 the board authorized an additional year of graduate work leading to the degree of Master of Education.

Throughout its history Mississippi Southern College has made a continuing contribution to the development of the public schools of the state.

The expansion of existing departments and the addition of new ones, the employment of new faculty members with superior training, and the general raising of academic standards have all played a part in making Mississippi Southern College the modern institution it is today.

The following men have served as president of Mississippi Southern College:

Joseph Anderson Cook, A.B., 1912-1928

Claude Bennette, A.B., A.M., 1928-1933

Jennings Bryan George, B.S., Ph.D., 1933-1945

Robert Cecil Cook, B.S., M.A., Ed.D., 1945-1955

Richard Aubrey McLemore, A.B., M.A., Ph.D., Acting-President, January 1 to September 1, 1955

William David McCain, B.S., M.A., Ph.D., 1955-

PURPOSE OF THE COLLEGE

Mississippi Southern College was founded for the purpose of serving the people of Mississippi. Although this service has been mainly in the area of teacher education, the college offers outstanding courses in liberal arts, preprofessional fields, fine arts, and many practical fields of knowledge. The faculty, library, laboratories, classrooms, special clinics, and student welfare services are equal to those in other colleges and universities in the United States.

Although the college is primarily concerned with resident teaching, it reaches, through various extension centers, workshops, and correspondence courses, citizens in all parts of Mississippi and in various other parts of the world. It is estimated that during the 1953-54 session more than 7,200 different individuals were served by the college, both on the campus and off the campus.

The college is proud of the friendly relationship between students and faculty members, and an effort is made to work with students as individuals in their educational, social, and religious development.

The purposes of the college as developed by the administration and the faculty are as follows:

1. To have a highly trained faculty, an imaginative, sympathetic, and understanding administration, an efficient and cooperative staff, a wise and progressive Board of Trustees, loyal and active alumni, adequate equipment, and high academic standards.
2. To educate in the acquiring of knowledge, skills, disciplines, moral and ethical values and humanistic ideals and in the attaining of dignified, honest, and alert citizenship.
3. To base education on a sound and thorough understanding of the traditional and liberal areas of human knowledge.
4. To provide together with counseling and guidance, a well-rounded program of activities for the purpose of developing in each student a well-balanced personality.
5. To provide areas of developments in professional and vocational education in accordance with facilities of the college.
6. To develop in students the highest types of social graces.
7. To give each student an understanding of the nature and the fundamental problems of the physical world in which he lives and the moral and intellectual knowledge that will enable him to adjust himself to, or change, the environment in which he lives.

THE CAMPUS

Mississippi Southern College is located in Hattiesburg, near the center of South Mississippi. Excellent air, rail, and bus transportation services and a splendid highway system make it easily accessible to all parts of the state. The City of Hattiesburg provides excellent religious, social, recreational and shopping facilities for the college student. Buses run from the heart of the city to the campus every fifteen minutes.

The college campus consists of 840 acres, 200 of which lie within the city limits of Hattiesburg. Included on the main campus are the principal buildings of the college, the playing fields, and a nine hole golf course. The campus buildings are conveniently located, and the grounds are beautifully landscaped. In addition to the permanent buildings listed below, there is a veterans' village, including 67 apartments, and there are two temporary buildings used for instructional purposes.

The Administration Building is a beautiful structure located at the center of the campus. It houses the offices of the president, dean of the college, dean of the Graduate School, dean of the Basic College, financial secretary, registrar, director of admission, and director of public relations.

The Auditorium has a seating capacity of 1536 and stage facilities for dramatic productions.

College Hall is a three-story fireproof building containing recitation rooms and offices.

Science Hall is a three-story fireproof building containing classrooms and laboratories especially designed for science and commerce. It also houses in the basement the college bookstore and postoffice. A two-story annex contains offices of the dean of student welfare dean of women, dean of men, and the Placement Bureau. On the second floor is a small air conditioned auditorium seating 200.

The Health and Physical Education Building is a new, modern two-story brick building specially planned for departmental offices, classrooms, and women's physical education activities.

The Arena is a modern brick-veneered building with 20,000 square feet of floor space. Folding bleachers make the total floor space usuable. The building is used for major sports activities and for men's physical education classes.

The Industrial Arts Building, a two-story brick structure, is used by the Industrial Arts and Military Science Departments.

The Joe Cook Memorial Library is a two-story air-conditioned brick building containing four large reading rooms, reference and periodical rooms, offices, and stack rooms for 75,000 volumes.

The Grace Bennett House and the Kate Hubbard House are frame dwellings used as home-management houses by the Division of Home Economics for the purpose of guiding senior home-economics majors in experiences involved in effective participation in the responsibilities and activities of the home.

The Home Economics Building is a two-story structure which houses the nursery school, classrooms, and laboratories of the Division of Home Economics.

The Frank E. Marsh Building houses the Fine Arts Division. It was completed in 1955. This facility provides air-conditioned soundproof studios, practice rooms, and a small concert hall.

R. C. Cook College Union Building was completed in 1956. It is a beautiful air-conditioned building with facilities for for students, alumni, and religious groups on the campus.

The Danforth Meditation Chapel will be completed in 1957 and will provide a place for noon day prayer services, meditation, and other religious functions.

West Hall is a reconditioned temporary structure providing facilities for drama and special education, and eight classrooms for academic work.

The White House is a temporary structure used to house the Department of Mathematics.

The George Hurst School is a modern building of fourteen rooms and a library. It affords facilitites for observation, participation, and student teaching in eight grades of public school work.

George Hurst School Gymnasium is a brick structure, enlarged and renovated during 1934 with the aid of funds from the Federal Government. Besides an ample playing floor and facilities for an audience of 700 people at games and exhibitions, it contains offices, storage rooms, lockers, showers, dressing rooms, and a lecture room.

Hattiesburg Hall and Mississippi Hall are dormitories for women. They are three-story fireproof buildings of modern construction. They contain comfortable bedrooms and reception halls, with well-appointed bathrooms on each floor.

Alma Hickman Hall, a women's dormitory joining Hattiesburg and Mississippi Halls, was completed in 1951. Its attractive bedrooms, with facilities for 104 students, are modern in every detail.

Willa Bolton Hall, a women's dormitory opened in 1954, is reserved for senior women. It is of modern, fireproof construction, attractively decorated and furnished.

Forrest County Hall is a three-story fireproof men's dormitory constructed on modern lines. It accommodates 124 students.

Weathrsby Hall is a brick fireproof building constructed on modern lines, housing 120 students. It is used as a dormitory for men.

East Stadium Dormitory is a dormitory for men. It is a fireproof building constructed on modern lines, housing 140 men. The stadium will seat 5,000 people and furnishes the facilities of an athletic clubhouse.

West Stadium Dormitory is a dormitory for men. It is a fireproof building constructed on modern lines, housing 96 men. The stadium will seat 5,000 people. The rooms are attractively furnished.

McCleskey Hall is a 14-apartment building for faculty members. There are four 3-bedroom apartments, six 2-bedroom apartments, two 1-bedroom apartments, and two efficiency apartments.

McMillin Hall is a brick two-story men's dormitory constructed on modern lines, housing 120 students.

The Panhellenic House is a two-story frame building, housing sorority rooms upstairs, and sorority rooms, hostess apartment, general kitchen, and spacious lobby downstairs.

The Clinic is a two-story structure adequate for taking care of students with minor ailments. Registered nurses are on duty at all times, and two physicians are subject to call to give medical attention to students needing emergency treatment.

The Cafeteria was constructed in 1928. It has a capacity of 1,000. In 1952 the State Building Commission provided funds for completely redecorating and re-equipping the building. In 1956 the cafeteria was air-conditioned. The cafeteria has all modern conveniences for reducing labor to a minimum, for storing and preserving foods, and for serving well-planned, attractive meals. There are two small dining rooms, where groups assemble for luncheon and dinner meetings.

The Institute of Latin-American Studies Building is a beautiful one-story building housing the Institute of Latin-American Studies. It includes all of the latest equipment for teaching English-American composition to foreign students. It is completely air-conditioned.

The Powerhouse was erected in 1934. It houses the central heating plant and workshops for the college engineers.

The Swimming Pool, 45 feet wide and 105 feet long, with showers and locker room adjoining, and lighted for night use, is of modern design with machinery for filtering and purifying the water every eight hours.

The Memorial Station, at the campus entrance, is a small, beautiful structure given by students, faculty, officers, and friends of the college, and erected in honor of the students, officers, and faculty members who participated actively in World War I.

A new men's and a new women's dormitory will be constructed in 1957, providing 99 rooms in the women's dormitory and 201 rooms in the men's building.

Green Village is a temporary housing project of hutments, which are occupied by men.

Additional projects being planned for construction in the near future are a new science building and a new library.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE COLLEGE

Mississippi Southern College is one of eight state-owned and state-operated colleges, along with the University of Mississippi, coming under the control of a Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning in Mississippi. This twelve-person board is the result of a constitutional amendment which directs that one trustee be named from each of the seven congressional districts, one from each of the three supreme court districts, and one from the state-at-large. Each trustee is appointed for a twelve-year term, and the term of office of four members expires each four years. The entire state is thus represented in the management of the college.

The principal administrative officers of Mississippi Southern College are as follows: president, dean of the college, dean of the Basic College, dean of the Graduate School, administrative assistant to the president, assistant dean of the college, registrar, financial secretary, assistant financial secretary, dean of student welfare, dean of men, dean of women, director of admissions, director of extension-correspondence, librarian, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, director of placement, and director of publicity.

CAMPUS LIFE

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

Students not living in their homes should arrange to live on the campus. Reservations may be made by sending $8.00 to the director of student housing. Students who wish to room together should make their reservations at the same time. Room reservations are accepted subject to the approval of application for admission to the college. Students already living in the dormitory rooms will receive preference in assignment of rooms if they make reservations before May 1. Except for this preference, rooms are reserved in the order in which deposits are received. No room deposit can be refunded unless the reservation is cancelled ten days prior to the opening of the quarter for which the reservation is made.

Rooms are equipped with the following furniture: single beds with comfortable inner-spring mattresses, a dresser, a chest of drawers, a lavatory, chairs, and study tables. Students must furnish all linens, bed covering, pillows, and curtains. Dormitories are equipped with an air-ventilation system.

Lodging in the fraternity houses is available to fraternity members. Arrangements are made directly with the president of the fraternity. The fraternity presidents will provide the director of student housing with official lists of students living in their houses.

A limited number of houses and apartments are available on the campus for married students.

Women students classified as sophomores or higher may live in approved homes in town; however, arrangements for living off the campus must be cleared with the dean of women. Freshmen women may not live in town except in their own homes unless they are given speecial permission by the president of the college. Rooms in off-campus homes must be approved by the dean of women or the dean of men.

All students not living in their own homes, whether rooming in dormitories or in private homes or rooming houses, are subject to the regulations, control and supervision of the college. The college makes an effort to safeguard such students, but its responsibility in this connection must necessarily be very limited.

The dormitory lobbies, which serve as social and recreational centers, are supplemented by the College Union Building. This building contains a lounge, a gameroom, a ballroom, a television lounge, a snack bar, offices for religious organizations and student government, and meeting rooms for other organizations, as well as five bedrooms, which are rented at a nominal fee to parents and other visitors to the campus. Students use the facilities of the College Union Building for games, music, enjoyment, social and religious activities, and other cultural and recreational purposes.

The Panhellenic House, the fraternity houses, the gymnasium, the field house, and the women's gymnasium also are available for social and recreational activities. Two private dining rooms adjoining the cafeteria may be used by clubs and organizations for banquets, dinners, and teas.

The college cafeteria serves well-planned, attractive meals at moderate prices.

HEALTH SERVICES

The health record of the college is an enviable one. The health education program, which aims at teaching each person how to assume responsibility for safeguarding his health, is supplemented by the health services which the college offers.

A medical examination blank is given the student at the time he applies for admission to the college. The student should have the medical examination done by his family physician and should return the completed medical examination form to the college along with his application for admission. It is urged that any defects noted in the examination be corrected prior to the beginning of the session in which the student will enroll.. The college reserves the right to require a medical examination of any student at any time. No student's admission is complete without a medical examination.

The college clinic is a well-equipped infirmary in which the ordinary illnesses occurring during the college year, but not during the vacation or recess periods, are cared for by the college physicians and nurses. Students with more serious illnesses or injuries, or those in need of immediate surgery, are referred to the regular hospitals in Hattiesburg. Such serious illnesses, injuries, and operations, together with hospital and medical care in private hospitals, cannot be the responsibility of the college.

A small charge is made when penicillin and antibiotic drugs as necessary prescriptions are given to the students. The college physicians have regular office hours for free consultation with students. A nurse is on duty twenty-four hours a day at the clinic.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND LOANS

There are a number of scholarships offered to students of Mississippi Southern College. Some of these scholarships are given by the college, and others are awarded by organizations interested in encouraging promising students to continue their college education.

Scholarships are offered by the college to talented students in piano, voice, stringed instruments, and band. A limited number of work scholarships are available. College and other loan funds are usually available to freshmen and sophomore students. The college will help worthy junior and senior students apply for a loan from one of several philanthropic foundations.

Students who are interested in securing a scholarship or a loan should write to the president of the college.

Information about scholarships for graduate students may be secured from the dean of the Graduate School.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A number of students are employed by the college both in secretarial and clerical work and in maintenance of buildings and grounds. The purpose of this employment is primarily to assist the student in earning a small part of his school expenses. Inquiries concerning these work assignments should be addressed to the dean of student welfare. The college also maintains a service to assist students in finding part-time employment in and near Hattiesburg. Students should remember, however, that their first business is to benefit by their college programs. Usually a student who spends several hours a day earning money must reduce his study load. Students should not expect to be able to earn a considerable part of their expenses and at the same time carry a full academic load. No student should plan a program that allows fewer than thirty hours a week for study.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The constitution of the Student Government Association at Mississippi Southern College states that the functions of the organization are "to insure a continuous exchange of ideas and opinions between the students and the administration, to secure valuable training and experience in democratic self-government, to assume the fullest powers and responsibilities of self-government consistent with the constitution and laws of the state of Mississippi and the policies of the president of this institution, to promote the general student welfare and to protect the herein enumerated rights of students."

There are three branches of student government: the legislative, the executive, and the judicial. The executive officers and the members of the legislative branch, the Senate, are elected by direct vote of the students. The justices of the student court are appointed by the president of student government subject to approval by the Student Senate.

Many functions of student government are carried out by standing committees, chief of which are the Committee on Social Life, the Elections Committee, and the Executive Committee.

The Committee on Social Life has been active and successful in overall supervision of social affairs on the campus and in direct management of affairs which concern the whole student body, such as after-game dances, the annual Beauty Ball and the bringing of big-name bands to the campus.

The local government unit in each dormitory is called the Dormitory Council. Councils are coordinated by the Men's Affairs Board and Women's Affairs Board. These units regulate all matters relating to dormitory life.

Student Publications: The Student Printz is the college newspaper. The Printz is published weekly by a staff of students under the direction of faculty advisers. It provides a medium through which the students may express themselves and serves as an agency for disseminating news among the students and alumni. The Southerner is a yearly publication. It is published by a student staff under the direction of a faculty adviser.

Religious Life: Mississippi Southern College is a state school and is entirely nonsectarian. Religious life is encouraged, and every effort is made to cooperate with the local churches. The Christian Federation unifies the activities of all religious groups on the campus. Its executive council is composed of two elected representatives of the student body, who serve as chairman and vice-chairman, and the presidents of all religious organizations on the campus. The Federation works through a number of committees whose chairmen form the Federation Cabinet. The Christian Federation seeks to provide channels for worship and religious development. It sponsors Religious Emphasis Week each year.

The Wesley Foundation, the Baptist Student Union, the Christian Church Student Group, the Westminster Fellowship, the Canterbury Club, the Newman Club and the Vasa League are student denominational groups. Several of these organizations have full-time directors on the campus.

A number of ministerial students and active pastors of churches in and near Hattiesburg are students of the college. They have organized the Ministerial League for worship and study.

HONORARY AND ACADEMIC ORGANIZATIONS

There are five general honor societies on the campus. A general honor society is an association that receives into membership individuals who have achieved high scholarship and who fulfill such additional requirements of distinction in some broad field of education and culture or in general leadership as the society has established. Pi Kappa Pi is a national honorary society composed of men and women who have made grades of A on seventy per cent of their work while earning ninety consecutive quarter hours of credit. Membership in Pi Kappa Pi is the highest recognition for scholarship accorded at the college. Omicron Delta Kappa is a national honorary leadership society for college men. Membership in Omicron Delta Kappa is the highest recognition accorded men students of the college. Phi Eta Sigma is a national society which aims to encourage and reward high scholastic attainment among freshman men. Phi Delta Rho is a local honorary leadership society for college women. Membership in Phi Delta Rho is the highest recognition accorded women students of the college. Alpha Lambda is a national society which aims to encourage and reward high scholastic attainment among freshman women.

Other national organizations having chapters on the campus include: Alpha Epsilon Alpha (honorary accounting fraternity), Alpha Epsilon Delta (honorary premedical society), Alpha Mu Chi (honorary music club), Alpha Psi Omega (honorary dramatic fraternity), American Chemical Society Student Affiliate, Beta Beta Beta (honorary biological fraternity), Delta Sigma Pi (professional business fraternity), Future Teachers of America, Home Economics Club, Kappa Mu Epsilon (honorary mathematics fraternity), Kappa Omicron Phi (honorary home economics fraternity), Kappa Pi (honorary art fraternity), Phi Delta Kappa (professional education fraternity), Pi Kappa Delta (honorary forensic society), Pi Kappa Lambda (honorary music society), Pi Omega Pi (honorary business education fraternity), Pi Delta Phi (honorary French society), Pi Tau Chi (honorary religious society), Sigma Alpha Eta (honorary speech fraternity), and Sigma Delta Pi (honorary Spanish fraternity).

Other honorary and academic organizations among the students include: Elementary Council, Geology and Geography Club, Graduate Club, Little Symphony, "M" Club, Modern Language Club, Physical Education Club, Prelegal Forum, Psychology Club, School Administrators Club, Sociology Club, Southern Players, Southern Radio Players, Southern Singers, Veterans' Club, and Yellow Jackets Club.

The Hattiesburg Choral Union is an oratorio chorus composed of students and citizens of Hattiesburg, which meets once a week for the purpose of studying the great master choral works. The organization presents "The Messiah" at Christmas.

The Vesper Choir is a choral organization composed chiefly of students. For many years it has been the custom for the choir to tour the state during National Music Week, presenting programs of sacred and secular music. The choir has sung in Philadelphia, Indianapolis, and Dallas, and before the National Federation of Music Clubs and the Louisiana State Federation of Music Clubs.

The Mississippi Southern College bands have an outstanding record of service to the college and the state.

The Marching Band is open to any regularly enrolled student. Its purpose is to provide color and atmosphere to athletic and community events, and to promote and enhance the dignity and reputation of the college.

The Concert Band and Varsity Band are made up of selected students. Both bands furnish oportunity for students who desire to play the best in instrumental music to become more proficient and also provide practice teaching for those desiring to be band directors.

There are two military bands on the Mississippi Southern College campus—the R.O.T.C. Band and the 313th Army Reserve Band. Both organizations are made up of college students. These organizations provide opportunity for those interested to receive extra financial assistance from government funds.

Scholarships in band are available to talented students. Auditions, held in the spring, may be arranged through the director of bands.

The Mississippi Southern College-Civic Symphony Orchestra is made up of faculty members and advanced students, and has won a unique place place for itself as a concert organization of more than ordinary importance.

OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

Six social fraternities hold membership in the Inter-Fraternity Council of the College. They are Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. Each fraternity has a house on the campus.

Seven social sororities hold membership in the Panhellenic Council of the college. They are Alpha Sigma Alpha, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Sigma Epsilon, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, and Sigma Sigma Sigma. The Panhellenic Council has supervision of the Panhellenic House, which is used for social purposes and sorority meetings.

BEST CITIZENS AWARDS

At the beginning of each academic year the president appoints a secret committee from the faculty for the purpose of selecting, near the end of the academic year, two students who, through superior character, leadership, and scholarship, have made the greatest contribution to the life of the college during the year. One man and one woman are selected. Upon recommendation of this committee, the students so selected receive the Best Citizens Awards as a public recognition of services.

Since the institution of the Best Citizen Awards in 1936, the following students have received such recognition: 1936—Miss Mary Evelyn Blanks and Mr. Shelby Rogers; 1937—Miss Katie Ruth Field and Mr. Doris W. Rivers; 1938—Miss Lida Frances Gilliam and Mr. Thomas Carruth; 1939—Miss Virginia Cole and Mr. Buell Evans; 1940—Miss Ruth Martin and Mr. F. J. Dickey; 1941—Miss Hazeline Wood and Mr. Gerald Adams; 1942—Miss Dulcie Davidge and Mr. Leonard Lowery; 1943—Miss Evelyn Hocutt and Mr. Moran Pope; 1944—Miss Wilda Mae Mason; 1945—Miss Doris Fredendoll; 1946—Miss Colleen Gilmore; 1947—Miss Bessie Jean Carraway and Mr. Leonard G. Anderson; 1948—Mrs. Opal Anderson and Mr. Daniel W. Dabbs; 1949—Miss Annie Ruth Ervin and Mr. William F. Dukes; 1950—Miss Katharine Runnels and Mr. Edwin Schmelling; 1951—Miss Tommie Pope and Mr. Woodie Cook; 1952—Miss Dorothy Ann Stuart and Mr. James Price; 1953—Miss Evelyn La Noel Montgomery and Mr. J. Cliff Thomas; 1954—Miss Martha Traylor and Mr. Don Kruger; 1955—Miss Laura Ann Wilber and Mr. Aubrey Lucas; 1956—Miss Patricia Culpepper and Mr. Jack B. Weldy.

ATHLETICS

Mississippi Southern College is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Assocation and the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, and also has applied for membership in the Southeastern Conference.

Intercollegiate sports are football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis and golf.

Seasonal intramural sports under the supervision of personnel from the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation give every student an opportunity to take part in competition. Among the sports included on the program are tennis, golf, water sports, touch football, basketball, softball, table tennis, badminton, volleyball, horseshoes, handball, track and swimming.

The college golf course, tennis courts, swimming pool, playgrounds and gymnasium facilities are available to the students for recreation.

MISSISSIPPI SOUTHERN COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Alumni Association has been in existence since the fifth year of the college. During the early years its chief function was related to placement service. Beginning with the session of 1945-46, the organization experienced a rebirth. Recognizing the fact that a working alumni association is vital to the development of the college, the Executive Committee began the organization of alumni groups in the various counties of the state. On July 1, 1953, a full-time executive secretary was employed.

Early in the 1945-46 session the executive committee, in cooperation with the college administration, began the publication of the Alumni News, which is mailed to active members four times each year. Once each year the magazine is mailed to all members on whom the alumni office has a record. It is the desire of the committee that all of the graduates and former students of the institution become active members of the Alumni Association.

The Alumni Association sponsored the drive to raise the funds necessary for the construction of the College Union Building. These funds were secured from alumni, faculty, students, friends, and the people of Forrest County.

Two meetings of the general association are held each fiscal year, the first at the annual homecoming in the fall and the second at the Mississippi Education Association convention in Jackson.

At the 1954 Homecoming meeting, the association voted to designate March 30 as Mississippi Southern College Day. Former students of the college are urged to get together on this date when two or more reside in the same area. Organized chapters elect officers at this meeting. March 30 was selected from the important dates in the history of the school because it was on this day in 1910 that the Mississippi Legislature enacted legislation establishing the college.

The officers of the association include: A. D. Morgan, '40, Jackson, president; C. L. Milling, '26, Meridian, president-elect; Mrs. Marjorie F. England, '42, Vicksburg, vice-president; Moran M. Pope, '44, Hattiesburg, past president; Powell G. Ogletree, '48, executive secretary; and Dewey McKenzie, '50, Greenwood, Dr. John A. Evans, '38, Jackson, Daniel W. Dabbs, '48, Hattiesburg, and H. E. Denson, '35, Mobile, executive committeemen.

LYCEUM ATTRACTIONS

The Hattiesburg Concert Association and the Assembly Program Committee arrange an annual series of concerts and attractions by celebrated artists, dancers, and actors, which are held in the college auditorium. General tuition fees cover student admission to these events. The attractions offered in 1956-57 were: National Symphony Orchestra with Seymour Lipkin, young American pianist, as soloist; Oberkerchen Children's Choir, Edith Moller, conductor; Theodore Uppman, young American baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company; Ivan Davis, young American pianist; John Steinbeck Theatre; Chantileers; Players, Incorporated, in Shakespeare's "Henry IV"; Handel's "The Messiah" and Harry Wilson's "Upon this Rock"; "The Old Maid and the Thief" by Mennotti and Gilbert and Sullivan's "Box and Cox" with an all-student cast.

COLLEGE THEATRE

Dramatic productions by the Southern Players, sponsored by the Division of Speech Arts, afford opportunity for all interested students to participate in the several phases of theatre activity: acting, design, stagecraft, and drection. At least one dramatic production is scheduled each quarter, and an experimental theatre is held each winter quarter with a series of one-act plays presented. In addition, one play for children is produced each year and is taken on tour. This program provides not only training for participating students but a well-rounded theatre program for the college audience. Tryouts are open to all students of the college. Participation is particularly recommended for all students who plan to engage in dramatic activity in high schools or elementary schools.

The following plays are some which have been produced during the past two years: "Oedipus The King," "The School for Scandal," "Born Yesterday," "A Sleep of Prisoners," "The Curious Savage," and "Antigone."

FORENSICS

The forensics program sponsored by the Division of Speech Arts includes training in debate and discussion, youth congress activities, and individual speech events such as oratory, radio speaking, interpretative readings, and after-dinner and extemperoneous speaking. Statewide and regional tournaments in each of these areas are entered each year. These trips give students experience in meeting college groups in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, Tennessee, and Florida.

The major forensics tournament held on this campus is the Gulf States Speech Festival. This is usually held in the second term of the winter quarter.

Students in any department may participate in the forensics program.

RADIO

Mississippi Southern College has a well-equipped campus radio station, WMSU, which operates five days a week. The station is student-operated and is designed to give students opportunities to study and practice radio announcing, writing, production techniques, and station operation procedures.

LIBRARY

The Joe Cook Memorial Library, erected in 1939 near the center of the campus, is planned for the purpose of furnishing the students and faculty of the campus modern facilities for research and reading under pleasant conditions. On the first floor are the reference, research, and periodical rooms; the card catalog and general circulation desk; and the cataloging and order departments. On the second floor are the graduate study room, the Sam Woods Collection, the bound periodicals, and the library science laboratory and study room. At present the main library contains more than 85,000 books with 7,000 or more titles being added annually. The periodical room is supplied with approximately 700 current magazines and many daily newspapers, including some microfilm and microcard editions. The library is a depository for United States government documents and for Mississippi state documents.

The library is open from Monday through Friday from 7:45 A. M. to 10:00 P. M., and on Saturday from 8:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M.

THE SAM WOODS COLLECTION

The Sam Woods Collection, a gift of the late Sam E. Woods, alumnus of Mississippi Southern College and retired consul general of Switzerland, is comprised of paintings, large Flemish tapestries, antique furniture, and rare books. In the collection are 230 paintings, including the Holy Family by Amigoni from the Stennis Collection, a Murillo copy of the Holy Family from the Prado Gallery, and many Rembrandt and Durer etchings and woodcuts, as well as oils and water colors by contemporary German artists. They have been hung in the president's home, the library, and other main buildings throughout the campus. This collection of paintings is probably the largest in the state. Much of the furniture is of the Renaissance period.

The very valuable collection of more than 1100 early printed and fine press books includes several rare Bibles which have hand-carved bindings and which are illustrated by Durer and other artists. The collection also includes several atlases of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Of special interest are approximately fifty beautifully illumninated pages from incunabula, as well as globes made before 1800 and maps of America and other countries made before 1700. This collection is housed in the Sam Woods Room in the library.

NURSERY SCHOOL

The College Nursery School was established as a unit within the Division of Home Economics to provide a laboratory in which college students might observe the development and relationships of a group of normal, healthy young children and participate in directing the various nursery school activities. The school accommodates children between the ages of two and a half and five years. It operates on a full schedule (nine o'clock in the morning to three o'clock in the afternoon) five days per week.

The daily program is planned to create an environment rich in possibilities for developing the child' mental, physical and social self as well as attaining a greater degree of emotional maturity. Independence is encouraged in all children throughout the daily activities. The enrollment is made up of an equal number of boys and girls in the various age groups from town, faculty and student families.

The Nursery School, which was the first to be established in Mississippi, is located on the first floor of the Home Economics Building. The Nursery School has ample space indoors and a large porch and fenced-in play area outdoors. In both space and equipment it meets high standards. The climate permits outdoor play the year round. Requests for registration must be filed with the director of the Nursery School well in advance of the time the child is to be enrolled. The children are not selected from any particular group, but any child may qualify who meets the age and developmental requirements.

THE LABORATORY SCHOOL

The George Hurst School, formerly known as the Demonstration School, is a fundamental part of the teacher-education program. It is a fully accredited school which serves as an integrating center in which students from all divisions of the college may study in their particular fields.

The first major purpose is to provide a superior school from the first through the eighth grades. This program is designed to meet the needs of the children and the community which it serves.

The second major purpose of the school is to provide college students with an opportunity to do observation, student teaching, and some educational research. In as natural and as realistic a setting as possible the school gives to the prospective teacher the privilege of actually beginning his teaching career under intelligent and sympathetic supervision and guidance.

PLACEMENT BUREAU

Mississippi Southern College has a year-round placement service for the benefit of its students, graduates, and alumni, as well as for employers who seek college-trained personnel. The college maintains cordial relationships with many employers, and every effort is made to assist registered applicants in finding satisfactory positions in their respective fields.

It is advisable for students to register during the first quarter of their senior year if they are to receive full benefit of the services of the Placement Bureau, such as job information and interviews with campus recruiters. Those not interested in employment upon graduation are urged to fill out a personal data sheet before leaving the campus so that a personnel record may be processed for future use. Men expecting calls into the armed services as well as those students attending graduate school may need these records later.

Alumni seeking changes or promotions are invited to use the placement facilities at all times.

SPECIAL EDUCATION AND CLINICAL SERVICES

Mississippi Southern College continues to train the majority of teacher-specialists working in the public schools of Mississippi. The special education curriculum has been expanded to meet the higher certification requirements recently established for teachers of exceptional children.

Students interested in entering the field of special education are afforded opportunity for clinical experience as well as a sequence of courses designed to prepare them for several of the fields of work in special education. This program provides for experience in diagnostic and remedial reading, theory and practice dealing with the problems related to speech and hearing, and work in both the theoretical and applied areas of psychology.

The special education services provide psychological testing for the diagnosis and selection of mentally retarded children for special classes in the public schools, working in cooperation with the state supervisor of special education.

COLLEGE READING CENTER

In order to provide opportunities for reading improvement to the college students, the College Reading Center was established in 1953 as an adjunct of the Reading Clinic.

Testing, counseling, and instruction are provided in several areas of reading: increasing speed of comprehension, developing vocabulary, and improving study skills and habits.

There is no charge for this service for college students.

THE READING CLINIC

The nationally recognized Mississippi Southern College Reading Clinic is one of the best equipped clinics of its kind in the South. Its testing and individual teaching facilities offer excellent training for prospective specialists in the reading field, and also for teachers wishing to become more proficient in the teaching of reading.

In addition to an excellent collection of professional books, attractive children's books and remedial training materials, the Reading Clinic has the best obtainable equipment, including a telebinocular, an orthorater, an audiometer, a tachistoscope, an ophthalmograph, reading film, filmstrips, projectors, tape recorders, and an oscilloscope. Practical and systematic training with these materials is given to teachers enrolled in Reading Clinic courses.

A graduate course sequence leading to the M.A. degree with a major in the psychology of reading has been instituted to help fill the demand for qualified reading specialists. A program of research in the psychology of reading is in progress.

Among the services offered to the community by the Reading Clinic, in addition to the training facilities, are diagnostic testing of children with reading problems and counseling with them and their parents. Remedial instruction by qualified teachers is given to a limited number of children who are retarded in reading.

Children may be referred to the clinic by superintendents, teachers, parents, vision specialists, and other agencies. The fee for a complete educational diagnosis and a suggested program for remedial procedures is $10 or less, based on ability to pay.

Daily instruction is given to out-of-town and local children throughout the school year and through the summer months. If a child is enrolled in the clinic for individual remedial instruction, the fee is $20 per month. It is usually desirable to have a child receive instruction five periods per week. The total number of hours of remedial training required by a child will vary with the extent and type of difficulty exhibited. The increased demand for teachers who are qualified as reading specialists has brought about the extension of courses to meet this demand.

A bulletin on the Reading Clinic may be had upon request.

SPEECH AND HEARING CLINIC

The Mississippi Southern College Speech and Hearing Clinic has a dual function. One is to provide facilities for the training of specialists in the area of clinical speech and audiology. A second function is to provide clinical services for persons with speech and hearing problems.

Courses are offered in speech and hearing at the undergraduate level. leading to either a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science depree . A Master of Arts degree may be earned at the graduate level. Clinical training and course sequences meet the certification requirements of the American Speech and Hearing Association.

Clinic services include both diagnostic examinations and therapy programs for both children and adults who have speech or hearing problems. These services are for both college students and members of the community. A nominal fee is charged for clinical services.

EXTENSION AND SCHOOL SERVICE

EXTENSION OFFERINGS

Mississippi Southern College is prepared to serve adults of Mississippi through extension classes and workshops. Arrangements have been made to offer by extension any course included in the regular college catalog on condition that satisfactory library and laboratory facilities are available.

The work of the Extension Division is organized to conform to the regulations of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the regulations of the Association for Field Services in Teacher Education.

The offerings of the Extension Division are of four general types as follows:

A. Extension work by class instruction in college courses where students meet at some study center provided by the group. This instruction is of three general types:

1. Courses offered primarily for the improvement of teachers in service.
2. Courses in general education and business subjects offered for the benefit of interested adults.
3. Certain short term "in-service" non-credit courses offered in the different towns in central and southern Mississippi. These courses may be planned with certain sponsoring groups when a particular need arises in the community.

B. Extension work by correspondence in college courses to be done by the student, who works out written assignments sent by mail to the Correspondence Department. These assignments are graded by an instructor handling the course, and the grades are recorded in the Correspondence Department. This procedure is followed in both individual correspondence courses and in correspondence class groups.

C. Extension work by correspondence in high school subjects done by high school students who works out assignments sent by mail to the Correspondence Department. These assignments are graded by an instructor in the George Hurst School or Mississippi Southern College. The grades are recorded in some high school in Mississippi by consent of the superintendent of that school.

D. Consultative and other services in various matters of school administration, organization, and procedures.

EXTENSION CLASS STUDY

1. Mississippi Southern College is anxious to serve the teachers of Mississippi through extension classes and workshops. In commerce, health, English, education, psychology, geography, speech, and social studies, it is possible to offer a number of courses without special library arrangements other than those available through the college.

2. Any person qualified to profit by an extension course may be admitted to the classes for non-credit study. However, those who expect college credit for a course must meet regular admission requirements. Students will not be permitted to do extension work during regular attendance at any college.

3. Extension classes spend the same number of hours in recitation as are required for the same course taken in residence. No extension class may meet for more than sixteen hours in one week or four hours in one day.

4. Extension classes are organized upon proper petition. Any school principal or superintendent may petition for an extension class, provided he has secured the signature of not less than twenty qualified persons who join in the request for the same course. Blanks for signatures may be secured from the Extension Division. Before mailing the petition to the Extension Division, the prospective class members should make sure that they can provide a suitable classroom, with lights and heat to be furnished without cost to the college.

5. The registration fee for extension is $5.00 per quarter hour in both undergraduate and graduate courses. Students who enroll in graduate classes are required to pay the graduate matriculation fee of $10.00 unless they have previously done so.

6. The Mississippi Southern College Bookstore may sell books to students taking extension work, or books may be purchased directly from the publisher.

7. Non-credit short term courses may be organized through the Adult Education Department. These courses may be of different lengths of time depending on the need of a particular community group. Fees must be set according to the type of program planned, the number of participants and the facilities provided.

8. No student may register in any extension course after the second meeting. All fees are to be paid not later than the second meeting of the course.

9. Fees are not transferable and are not returnable after the second meeting of the class.

HIGH SCHOOL CORRESPONDENCE COURSES

Mississippi Southern College, in cooperation with the State High School Accrediting Commission, established a Department of High School Correspondence in 1946. The specific aims of this department are varied, but the primary purposes are (1) to provide opportunity for further study to those for whom it is inconvenient to attend regular school, (2) to expand the high school curriculum, and (3) to provide courses meeting specific college entrance requirements.

A student taking high school correspondence work for credit must have a supervisor, to be appointed by the high school superintendent. The supervisor must not be a parent or guardian of the student.

Further information may be secured from the Department of High School Correspondence, Mississippi Southern College, Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

COLLEGE CORRESPONDENCE STUDY REGULATIONS

1. The matriculation fee for a correspondence course is $5.00 per quarter hour. This the fee for a four-hour course is $20.00, for a three-hour course, $15.00, and for a two-hour course, $10.00.

2. Textbooks may be ordered by the student from the college bookstore or from the publisher whose name and address are listed on the first assignment sheet as well as in the Correspondence Bulletin following each course description. The prices of textbooks may be changed slightly without notic. Used textbooks may be purchased from the college bookstore for 80% of the new book prices. Any correspondence about textbooks should be addressed to the Mississippi Southern College Bookstore, Station A, Hattiesburg, and NOT to the Extension Division.

3. Fees are not returnable after lesson assignments have gone out of the correspondence office. Fees are not transferable.

4. If credit is desired, the student must meet the usual college entrance requirements and the course prerequisites. Only those courses numbered below one hundred are open to students of freshman or sophomore rank.

Freshman courses are numbered 1 through 49.

Sophomore courses are numbered 50 through 99.

Junior courses are numbered 100 through 149.

Senior courses are numbered 150 through 399.

Graduate courses are numbered 400 or above and are not offered by correspondence.

5. No more than forty-eight quarter hours earned in extension and correspondence may be counted toward a degree from Mississippi Southern College. All of the forty-eight hours may be earned by extension or all of the forty-eight hours may be by correspondence or in any combination of the two as long as the total is not more than forty-eight quarter hours.

6. Students seeking enrollment for correspondence study courses are required to fill out an application blank for each course desired. A student may not enroll for more than one course at a time.

7. The maximum time for the completion of a four-hour course (twenty-four lessons) is one year from the date of acceptance of the application. For reasons considered adequate by the Extension Division this time may be extended one time for three months upon payment of a fee of $3.00. Application for extension of time should be accompanied by the fee for such extension. No such application can be considered unless received before the date of expiration of the course.

8. The minimum time for the completion of a course is one month from the date of beginning work, provided assignments are sent in two or three at a time at regular intervals proportionately spaced over the minimum time.

9. Students will not be permitted to rush through correspondence courses. Lessons should be carefully prepared and the student should not apply for the final examination until he is adequately prepared to take it.

10. No work may be done by correspondence while a student is in attendance at any institution of learning unless he has written permission of the dean of his college. It must be understood that if correspondence is allowed while in residence, it becomes a part of the student's load for the quarter, and the work must be completed within that quarter. Courses taken during the Christmas vacation period will be counted as part of the student's load for the winter quarter.

11. Teachers in service will not be allowed to complete more than four quarter hours per quarter. Correspondence work and extension may be taken at the same time if the rule that no more than four quarter hours may be taken in any one quarter is observed.

12. As the lessons are completed, the student should mail or bring them to the correspondence office for correction by the instructor.

13. Credit will not be allowed when there is evidence that unfair assistance has been obtained either on the lessons or the final examination. Students denied credit for this reason may not repeat the course by correspondence.

14. Two persons from the same school community or the same family are requested not to register for the same course, because persons taking correspondence are not to work together except in correspondence class.

15. The examination is ordinarily to be taken under the supervision of a city or county superintendent of education and without the use of notes or the textbook.

16. Correspondence courses may not be taken to remove failing or incomplete grades received in campus courses without the written approval of the dean of the college.

17. Students under suspension from any college will not be permitted to take correspondence during the period of suspension.

18. A non-residence course in correspondence that is to be used to complete graduation requirements must be completed, including the examination, and be in the hands of the correspondence department not later than two weeks before the date of the commencement at which the student aspires to receive his degree.

19. The Correspondence Department is not responsible for lessons lost in the mail because of insufficient postage or otherwise.

20. Correspondence classes may be organized upon proper petition. Any school superintendent, principal, or responsible local citizen may petition for a correspondence class provided he has secured signatures of not fewer than eight qualified persons who join the request for the same or similar courses. Blanks for petitioners' signatures may be secured from the Correspondence Department. Before mailing the petition to the Correspondence Department, the prospective class members should make sure that they can provide a suitable classroom with lights and heat to be furnished without cost to the college.

RULES FOR PREPARATION OF ASSIGNMENTS

1. Use 8½x11 light-weight typing paper. Envelopes addressed to the Correspondence Department are sent with the outline of the course. The lessons must be mailed in these envelopes, three or more assignments to an envelope.

2. In preparing assignments, observe carefully the following rules:

   a. Write on one side of paper only.

   b. Write with ink or use typewriter.

   c. Leave a margin of one inch on left side of paper.

3. Write your name and address, the name of the course, and lesson number at the top of the first page of each assignment.

4. Do not include any letters with lessons. All business and other communications must be written on a separate sheet and mailed in a separate envelope. The department is not responsible for any delay caused by letters being enclosed with assignments.

5. At the end of the course, return all assignment sheets together with the last lesson.

MAILING OF LESSONS

1. In the upper left corner of the envelope addressed "Department of Correspondence", in which the recitation paper is enclosed, write your full name and address.

2. In the lower left corner of the envelope, write the name of the course and numbers of the assignments.

3. Have your lessons weighed before mailing; be sure there is enough postage on them. When the postage is insufficient, the lessons will not be accepted by the Correspondence Department until full postage has been paid.

EXAMINATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. The lesson assignments are intended to assist the student in preparation for the examination.

2. Upon completion of the assignments the student must immediately make arrangements with the Correspondence Department for the examination. Request for examination must not be enclosed with lesson assignments, but must be mailed in a separate envelope.

3. Final examinations are held either by regular instructors of Mississippi Southern College, instructors in other institutions of higher learning, county superintendents, or superintendents of independent districts selected by the student and approved by the director of correspondence. A student may defer examination on a completed course until he enters the college for residence work, in which case the examination must be taken within one week after the student registers. Permission to defer should be requested in writing.

4. A student may not spend more than three hours on the examination.

5. Before beginning the examination all books and papers must be removed from the desk except the examination papers.

6. The student must use ink when writing the examination.

7. No second examination will be given.

8. Students who are taking a course to remove a failing grade received in a campus or correspondence course may be requred to come to the campus for the final examination.

THE EVENING COLLEGE

The Evening College of Mississippi Southern College is designed to serve the adult population of the Hattiesburg area and the nearby communities. It is believed that education should be a continuing process and that the college can serve the people of these communities who are unable to attend the regular day-school programs. The success of this arm of the college is evidenced by its increased enrollment and the greater variety of courses offered to meet new demands. The director of the Evening College acts as coordinator of programs, standing ready for consultation with students in the planning of courses of study.

As a result of attending the Evening College, the adult student may expect to achieve greater opportunity for occupational improvement and advancement, more intelligent participation in the civic affairs of the community, and increased confidence in himself. He may find also that the attending of evening classes offers him a new and rewarding recreation for leisure time in the immediate delights of scholarly attainment.

The purposes of the Evening College are to provide the student with opportunities for review and advanced study in the basic skills of communication and the liberal arts, to offer him possibilities for an understanding of his environment, and to develop greater proficiency in business or professional fields.

The college has set up two-year certificate programs in a number of fields which will lead to certificates of achievement. These programs may carry regular college credit, and the courses taken may be applied toward degrees at Mississippi Southern College. The following two-year programs are offered at the present time; as the need arises others will be placed in the regular schedule.

1. Certificate in General Education.
   A two-year program for those who want regular college training, but who do not care to specialize in one area.
2. Certificate in Business Administration.
   A two-year program for those who desire proficiency in dealing with problems relating to businsss, such as organization, finance, and management.
3. Certificate in Marketing.
   A two-year program leading to increased efficiency of persons dealing with the buying and selling of goods.
4. Certificate in Secretarial Studies.
   A two-year program leading to proficiency in secretarial skills.

Mississippi Southern College is also sponsoring certain community service courses, commonly called "non-credit" courses, which do not lead toward a degree. They are designed to meet interest demands of the community-at-large. They may run one day, several weeks, or several months. Their form may be that of lecture series, discussion groups, regular classes, workshops, or any other method of group learning. Separate fees may be designated for these courses.

AUDIO-VISUAL CENTER

Recognizing a need for audio-visual services in the state, Mississippi Southern College has established an Audio-Visual Center on the campus. Activities of the center include a film service for Mississippi schools, a program for the use of audio-visual materials in college classes, and courses in audio-visual education taught both on and off the campus.

The center is prepared to assist local schools in setting up a program for the use of audio-visual materials, and to assist, through in-service and pre-service training, in the interpretation of the values derived from the use of audio-visual instructional aids in education.

The film collection of the Audio-Visual Center comprises over 1300 reels on educational subjects. The collection includes college-owned films and films deposited by members of the South Mississippi Educational Film Association. Through a cooperative agreement member schools buy a specified number of films which may be used each week from the total collection of the film library. Thus an educational film service is provided for the schools of Mississippi at a fractional part of rental charges customary with commercial film libraries. This cooperative film service has been in operation for a period of eight year with a success which predicts a permanently functioning organization.

Any school interested in membership in the South Mississippi Educational Film Association should write to the Director, Audio-Visual Center, Mississippi Southern College, for information.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

(A Graduate Bulletin is available on request)

GENERAL INFORMATION

Mississippi Southern College was granted permission to organize a Division of Graduate Studies by the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning on May 26, 1947. On March 27, 1952, by action of the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning, the division became the Graduate School of Education. The Master of Arts degree is conferred on those meeting the requirements in the field of education, with emphasis in any one of nine particular fields: school administration and supervision, secondary education, elementary education, communications, health and physical education, home economics, music, psychology of reading, and speech. The Master of Arts degree may also be acquired in the teaching of several fields: biological sciences, commerce, English, history or social studies, and mathematics. The Graduate School was accredited by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education on February 25, 1950.

On April 26, 1951, the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning of the State of Mississippi gave Mississippi Southern College permission to offer a second year of graduate work in the fields of school administration and supervision, secondary education, and elementary education. Then on July 17, 1952, the Board of Trustees gave the college permission to grant the Master of Education degree in school administration and supervision, secondary education, and elementary education. Forty-five quarter hours above the Master of Arts degree are required for the Master of Education degree.

PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES

One of the primary functions of Mississippi Southern College is to prepare teachers, supervisors, and administrators for all branches of public school service. The graduate curriculum is intended to meet the needs of teachers in the elementary and secondary schools as well as to provide an organized program of training for school administrators and supervisors.

The student who pursues graduate work broadens his professional outlook and academic knowledge, receives additional professional training and familiarizes himself with techniques of research. The student must manifest ability to collect and evaluate data and must be able to see the implication of his conclusions in relation to other fields of human interest and study.

The Master of Arts degree in education will be regarded primarily as an extension and broadening of the professional education received on the undergraduate level with particular emphasis upon the field of study in which the student is interested. The goal sought is the improvement of classroom instruction and/or school administration and supervision.

ADMISSION TO GRADUATE SCHOOL

Students who are graduates of a teachers college, a liberal arts college, or a university, provided the particular institution is approved by a recognized accrediting agency, may be admitted for graduate work. A matriculation fee of $10 is payable at the time the application for admission is submitted. This fee will be refunded upon request if the student does not register. One official transcript of the undergraduate record must be filed with the dean of the Graduate School, and if the undergraduate degree was not completed at Mississippi Southern College, an additional copy of the transcript must be supplied to the register of the college, before admission to the Graduate School. A quality point average of 2.5 or better must have been attained in the undergraduate courses. Experience points to the fact that students with an honor point rating below 2.5 in their undergraduate work find it very difficult to perform satisfactorily in the Graduate School, where the requirement is an average of B or better. No grade below a C will count toward graduation. Failure to accomplish this rating will endanger the person's standing and subject him to scholastic probation.

A student working toward the Master of Arts degree or Master of Education degree may wish to pursue further work in graduate education for the following purposes:

(1) To strengthen himself in areas in which he finds himself deficient.

(2) To complete work in order to meet certain standards set up by accrediting agencies.

(3) To continue graduate work toward the Ph.D. or Ed.D. degree.

Graduate students are required to take a comprehensive standard test approved by the Graduate Council before admission to candidacy for the Master of Arts degree. They must earn 28 quarter hours of graduate credit after taking this examination before receiving the Master of Arts degree. If the score on the test is not sufficiently high to admit the applicant to candidacy for a degree the applicant may once repeat the test after passage of an interval of time approved by the committee.

The Graduate Council will pass on all applications of candidates for graduate degrees. It may, however, delegate the authority to a sub-committee if it prefers.

REQUIREMENTS FOR MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE

The student may have a choice of either Plan I or Plan II as outlined below.

PLAN I

Candidates for the Master of Arts degree under Plan I are required to do a minimum of 36 weeks (three quarters) of graduate work in residence study at Mississippi Southern College and earn a minimum of 45 quarter hours including credit for work done on a thesis. The amount of credit for the thesis will be eight quarter hours, subject to the approval of the student's advisory committee. This curriculum is intended for those who plan to do further study toward a higher degree. Twelve to sixteen quarter hours will be considered a full load for any student. Less than full residence is computed by the ratio of course hours actually taken in this normal load. Ten or eleven quarter hours, for example, would be considered three-fourths of a full quarter's residence.

PLAN II

Candidates for the Master of Arts degree under Plan II are required to do a minimum of 36 weeks (three quarters) of work in residence study and to earn a minimum of 45 quarter hours of credit. A thesis is not required.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MASTER OF EDUCATION DEGREE

To begin work toward the Master of Education degree a student must have a Master of Arts degree from Mississippi Southern College or from another acceptable institute of higher learning.

The Master of Education degree is offered in the following fields of study: school administration and supervision, secondary education, and elementary education. A student pursuing one of these courses of study must complete 45 quarter hours on the second-year level, do a creditable quality of work, and meet all course requirements.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS AND OTHER PERTINENT INFORMATION FOR A MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE

1. Candidates for the Master of Arts degree must comply with the following regulations in addition to the foregoing requirements:
   a. The student must hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution and satisfy all undergraduate requirements in the institution.
   b. Application for graduate work must be made to the dean of the Graduate School.
   c. If the student has done graduate work elsewhere and wishes to transfer it to Mississippi Southern College, he must supply the dean of the Graduate School with one official transcript of this work, and he must supply an additional transcript to the registrar of the college.
   d. The student must supply the dean of the Graduate School with a program of his studies after the student and his advisory committee have outlined his work.
   e. Four quarter hours is the maximum load for a quarter if the student is holding a full-time job or teaching position, regardless of the student's resident state. The state certification law in Mississippi limits the student to four quarter hours per quarter which may count toward fulfilling the requirements for certification. Sixteen quarter hours is the maximum load for a full-time graduate student.
   f. The student who is a candidate for a Master of Arts degree must file his application for the degree with the dean of the Graduate School by the end of the quarter previous to the one in which he expects to graduate.
   g. If a thesis is submitted as partial fulfillment of the requirements for a degree, it must be presented to the dean of the Graduate School by the chairman of the student's advisory committee at least three weeks before the degree is to be conferred. The fee for binding the thesis is $3.00 per copy, regardless of the number of copies the student wishes to be bound, and is payable at the time the thesis is accepted.
   h. The student's advisory committee will pass on the final acceptance or rejection of the thesis.
   i. Two copies of the thesis must be furnished the dean of the Graduate School. The first copy must be typewritten on 20-pound bond paper and the second copy on bond paper of at least 16-pound weight. The student will follow rather closely the directions of a good manual on thesis writing.
   j. The thesis must show independent thinking, original investigation, mastery of subject matter, and ability to do research in the field of major interest.
2. No regular faculty member of Mississippi Southern College may take an advanced degree in this institution, but should take work elsewhere.
3. Ordinarily, an undergraduate major or its equivalent shall constitute the basis for a graduate major in any field. Likewise, an undergraduate minor, or its equivalent, shall be required as a basis for graduate work in other fields than the major. This means that a minimum of 27 quarter hours must have been taken in undergraduate work in the field in which the student expects to major. A student who desires to major in any area other than school administration, secondary education, or elementary education must have a minimum of twelve quarter hours of appropriate undergraduate work in education and psychology. The student's attention is called to the undergraduate prerequisites, if any, listed under the course patterns for each major.

4. Work taken more than five years before the date at which the Master of Arts degree is expected to be conferred may not be used to count for credit toward that degree.

5. Undergraduates in this institution who plan to undertake graduate study, and who have fulfilled all requirements for the bachelor's degree except one or two courses, may be allowed to enroll in certain graduate courses after fulfilling requirements for entrance into the Graduate School. In such an arrangement, the dean of the Graduate School will inform the instructor that work of a graduate nature will be expected of the student. Credit will not be allowed for such work unless the instructor certifies that the work was of distinctly graduate nature.

6. Teaching fellows, graduate assistants and part-time instructors, whose time is partly devoted to service to the college will be accepted to take more than one year to complete the work for a Master of Arts degree.

7. A minimum of half the student's work must be in distinctly graduate courses. Graduate students, however, may elect to take some undergraduate courses as graduate courses provided they need the work, and provided the graduate committee passes favorabbly on such courses. Graduate students, however, must do extra work in these courses, such as term papers, research, etc., as directed by the professor in charge.

8. An average of B or better is required, and no grade below C will count toward graduation. Not more than three grades of C may be averaged with A's and offered toward a graduate degree.

9. Graduate credit from other accredited institutions is acceptable for as much as nine quarter hours, provided it is in the chosen field or fields of the student's work. A student may not take extension courses to count toward his degree if he has transferred nine quarter hours from another institution. As many as eight quarter hours may be taken by extension provided the student has no transfer credit from another institution counted toward his degree.

10. Extension work given by an institution must be acceptable toward graduation in that institution before Mississippi Southern College will allow graduate credit toward the Master of Arts degree.

11. A committee of three, appointed by the dean of the Graduate School, will serve as the student's advisory committee. The student's major professor will usually serve as chairman of his advisory committee.

12. In addition to the regular course examinations a final comprehensive oral or written examination, or both, may be required of all candidates for the Master of Arts degree. The candidate will be examined on his major subject and his thesis, if he pursues Plan I; or his field or fields of concentration if he pursues Plan II. The oral examination will be conducted by a committee appointed by the dean of the Graduate School. A written notice of the time and place of holding the examination will be sent to the candidate and to each member of the committee. The written comprehensive examination will be held during the seventh week of the spring and summer quarters only. Students who complete their course work at the end of the fall and winter quarters may take an oral examination if they desire.

13. A student should complete his Master of Arts work within five consecutive years from the date of initial enrollment.

14. A photograph 2 by 2½ inches, must be provided by the student at registration. No student is properly registered until the photograph is provided. The student should furnish a photograph which is a good likeness.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS AND OTHER PERTINENT INFORMATION FOR MASTER OF EDUCATION DEGREE

1. Candidates for the Master of Education degree must comply with the following regulations in addition to the foregoing requirements:

   a. The student must hold a Master of Arts degree from an acceptable institution. He must file with the dean of the Graduate School an official transcript of his graduate work, and if the graduate work was not done at Mississippi Southern College the student must supply the registrar of the college an additional copy of the transcript of graduate work.

   b. Application for work towards a Master of Education degree must be made to the dean of the Graduate School.

   c. If the student has done graduate work above the Master of Arts degree elsewhere and wishes to transfer it to Mississippi Southern College, he must supply the dean of the Graduate School with an official transcript of his work, and he must supply a second copy to the registrar of the college.

   d. The student must supply the dean of the Graduate School with a program of his studies after he and his advisory committee have outlined his work.

   e. Four quarter hours is the maximum load for a quarter if the student is holding a full-time job or teaching position. The state certification law in Mississippi limits the student to four quarter hours per quarter which may count toward fulfilling the requirements for certification purposes. Sixteen quarter hours is the maximum load for graduate students.

   f. The student who is a candidate for a Master of Education degree must file his application for the degree with the dean of the Graduate School by the end of the quarter previous to the one in which he expects to graduate.

   g. The field study that is submitted as partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Master of Education degree must be presented to the dean of the Graduate School by the chairman of the student's advisory committee at least three weeks before the degree is to be conferred. The fee for binding the field study is $3.00 per copy, regardless of the number of copies the student wishes to be bound, and is payable at the time the thesis is accepted.

   h. The student's advisory committee will pass on the final acceptance or rejection of the field study.

   i. Two copies of the field study must be furnished the dean of the Graduate School. The first copy must be typewritten on 20-pound bond paper and the second copy on bond paper of at least 16-pound weight. The student will follow rather closely the directions of a good manual on thesis writing.

j. The field study must show originality, mastery of organization and subject matter, and the ability to do research in the field of major interest.

2. Work taken more than five years before the date at which the Master of Education degree is awarded may not be used to count for credit toward that degree.

3. Teaching fellows, graduate assistants, and part-time instructors, whose time is partly devoted to service to the college, will be expected to take more than one year to complete the work for the Master of Education degree.

4. An average of B' or better is required of all work toward the Master of Education degree.

5. A committee of three, appointed by the dean of the Graduate School, will serve as the student's advisory committee. The student's major professor will usually serve as chairman of his advisory committee.

6. In addition to the regular course examination a final comprehensive oral or written examination, or both, may be required of all candidates for the Master of Education degree. The candidate will be examined on his major subject and his field study. The oral examination will be conducted by a committee appointed by the dean of the Graduate School. A written notice of the time and place of holding the examination will be sent to the candidate and to each member of the committee.

7. A student should complete his Master of Education degree within five consecutive years from the date of initial enrollment.

8. A photograph 2 by 2½ inches, must be provided by the student at registration. No student is properly registered until the photograph is provided. The student should furnish a photograph which is a good likeness.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS

The minimum residence requirement is one academic year or a minimum of three summer sessions of twelve weeks each. This statement presupposes the completion of at least 45 quarter hours work. Some students can complete the requirements for the Master of Arts degree in one year. It is not unusual for graduate students to include an additional quarter of work.

A minimum of one quarter of full-time work on the campus is expected of every graduate student before completion of requirements for the Master of Arts degree.

TIME LIMIT. A student should complete his Master of Arts degree or Master of Education degree within five consecutive years from the date of initial enrollment. If he exceeds this time limit he may be required to take additional qualifying examinations or an additional amount of course work or both. In addition, a candidate for the Master of Music degree must petition the graduate music committee for an extension of time, giving reasons for the request and submitting plans for the completion of his work.

FELLOWSHIPS

A limited number of fellowships are available, and holders of such fellowships will be asked to do a limited amount of work for the college. The dean of the Graduate School will assign such work and determine the amount of time expected of each student. The stipend for the fellowship is fixed at $400.00 per regular scholastic year. A limited number of teaching fellowships amounting to $800.00 per regular scholastic year are available to outstanding students.

MUSIC

GENERAL INFORMATION

As a result of the increased demand for more than undergraduate training in all lines of the music profession, the Division of Fine Arts has established graduate programs to accommodate qualified students in limited fields of concentration. The general requirements for graduate study leading to a degree are listed below, and fields of concentration are shown. The division, however, treats each case individually, and although the courses outlined will serve as a general guide, the student has some choice in determining his or her course.

PHYSICAL EQUIPMENT

Music students pursue their training in the Frank E. Marsh Fine Arts Building, which was completed in the spring of 1955 and occupied just prior to the summer term of the same year. The luxurious new building is completely air-conditioned and is equipped almost entirely with new materials and instruments. Music facilities include 32 individual practice rooms, soundproofed, air-conditioned, and acoustically treated, 22 studios, 3 large class rooms, a choir room, a beautiful library excellently equipped with record players, study tables and desks, a large selection of records and books, and a seminar room. The auditorium, where concerts and other activities are presented, has a seating capacity of 336 and is one of the most attractive features of the new building. The instrumental department is housed in a separate unit which is also equipped for broadcasting.

Forty-five new pianos, ten grands and thirty-five uprights, have been added to the studis, practice rooms, and auditorium. The splendid Frazee 3-manual pipe organ in the college auditorium is regularly used for lessons and practice by advanced organ students, and two Moeller 2-manual organs, in individual rooms, supplement the practice facilities. A large number of brass, woodwind, percussion and string instruments facilitate the work of the instrumental study classes and of the college concert organizations.

CURRICULA

Three options are available to the graduate student in the selection of a program of studies, the choice being his own, subject to approval of his qualifications for his particular course by his graduate committee. A theory placement examination will be given each applicant who seeks admission to graduate work.

Course I (Performance) may be elected upon recommendation of an applied music professor and satisfactory audition before the student's graduate committee and the faculty of the department involved. Qualification for this curriculum presupposes a level of performance well above that of the average senior major in the applied music field, and the requirements as to technical facility and repertoire follow the stipulation of the graduate commission of the National Association of Schools of Music. In addition to the performance of a recital, the candidate is expected to appear creditably in a major work with the Little Symphony Orchestra.

Course II (Theory) is organized to give the student training for the teaching of theory, and also to give him further opportunity to develop his own skills in the manipulation of the materials of music. Theoretical investigation, culminating in the writing of a thesis, will be done in the field of pure theory and must display evidence of musical scholarship.

Course III (Music Education) is designed to serve teachers of music in branches of activity, whether in the public schools, private studio, or collegiate music school. In addition to sound musicianship, the candidate in Course III must demonstrate musical scholarship of high order, such as will find expression in the preparation of a worthwhile thesis. Persons desiring to prepare for administrative work in music, such as general or instrumental supervision of music education in the public schools of Mississippi, are encouraged to elect this course.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF MASTER OF MUSIC

The degree of Master of Music is conferred at the recommendation of the student's graduate committee upon the fulfillment of the following requirements:

1. The candidate must have completed 45 quarter hours of graduate study with a major in piano, organ, voice, violin, 'cello, or theory.

2. The following distribution of credits is required:

(a) For a major in applied music, (piano, organ, violin, 'cello or voice)

Applied music	15 quarter hours
Minor	3 quarter hours
Music Literature 527, 528, 529	12 quarter hours
Analytical Technic 521, 522, 523	6 quarter hours
Essay and recital	9 quarter hours

(b) For a theory major:

Applied music (piano)	6 quarter hours
Pedagogy of Theory 524, 525, 526	6 quarter hours
Analytical Technic 521, 522, 523	6 quarter hours
Advanced Counterpoint 197, 198, 199	6 quarter hours
Advanced Composition 200, 201 ,202	6 quarter hours
Advanced Orchestration 203, 204, 205	6 quarter hours
Essay and an arrangement for symphonic band or orchestra	9 quarter hours

MASTER OF MUSIC EDUCATION

The degree of Master of Music Education is conferred at the recommendation of the student's graduate committee upon the fulfillment of the following requirements:

1. The candidate must have completed 45 quarter hours of graduate study with a major in music education.

2. The following distribution of credits is required:

Applied music	6 quarter hours
Music Education 530, 531, 532	6 quarter hours
Music Education 533, 534, 535	6 quarter hours
*General education	15 quarter hours

Theory courses selected from the following:

Advanced Counterpoint 197, 198, 199	6 quarter hours
Composition 164, 165, 166	6 quarter hours
Advanced Orchestration 203, 204, 205	6 quarter hours
Analytical Technic 521, 522, 523	6 quarter hours
Conducting (required without credit unless previously studied)
Thesis	6 quarter hours

*Education 504, 507, 510, and 515 are recommended.

The student must pass an oral and written examination in the field in which he is taking his degree.

The candidate must have spent at least one academic year (three quarters, or three summer quarters of twelve weeks each) in residence at Mississippi Southern College. Applied music study is required throughout the year of graduate study.

REGULATIONS

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS: Admission to graduate study in music will be granted at the discretion of the Graduate Council under the following conditions:

1. The candidate must have graduated from an accredited institution with the degree of Bachelor of Music or Bachelor of Science with music as a major, or an equivalent degree.
2. He must present undergraduate credit of not less than 180 quarter hours.
3. The student must have maintained an overall average of B in all subjects during his undergraduate study.
4. He must take a theory placement examination.

TESTS and AUDITIONS: A testing program, for advisement purposes, is one of the functions of the Graduate School. The tests are given during the first week of the fall quarter and the first week of the summer quarter (for summer session students only) and are required of all graduate music students. Auditions for applied majors are given at the same time. Approval of the graduate faculty in music must first be obtained before a student may major in an applied field.

DEFICIENCIES: The college shall have the power to decide wherein a student is in any manner deficient, regardless of the number of credits accumulated, and shall recommend means whereby such deficiency may be removed.

CANDIDACY FOR A DEGREE: Admission to study in the graduate school does not imply acceptance to candidacy for a degree. In order to become an actual candidate for the Master of Music degree or Master of Music Education degree, the student must meet the requirements of the approved list at least one quarter before the expected date of graduation. This involves (1) maintaining a satisfactory level of work in graduate courses (no grade less than B), and (2) presenting a brief outline for the treatment of the thesis topic. Upon the completion of the course work and of the thesis, the candidate must be prepared to pass an oral examination on the material of his thesis.

ENSEMBLE: All resident graduate students shall attend recitals and be enrolled in the Hattiesburg Choral Union, Little Symphony, or College Concert Band.

EXPENSES

A primary objective of the college is to hold to a minimum the expense of its students. Changes in fees are made whenever possible, to benefit the students. Increases are made only when required for support of the institution or improvement of the activity program of the students.

BUSINESS REGULATIONS

Announcements concerning expenses and furnishings are subject to change without notice and may not be regarded as binding obligations of the college. In time of changing conditions this stipulation is necessary.

Expenses are in the form of incidental fees, room, board and special fees.

INCIDENTAL FEE. This fee is used for general support of the college and consists of charges for matriculation, library, athletic activities, health service, student union, college newspaper, laboratory, concert series, maintenance, etc.

ROOM AND BOARD. These fees are assessed for all students living in college-controlled housing. The board fee is assessed for all students living in fraternity houses, and in certain cases fraternity room fees are assessed by the college. All students rooming in dormitories or fraternity houses are required to take their meals in the college cafeteria.

No reduction in room and board expense is made for absence of less than two continuous weeks, and then only when the absence is necessary and is reported to the business office in advance. No reduction of room or board is made on account of late entrance.

OTHER FEE INFORMATION. Clinical and hospital services covered by the health service charge included in the incidental fee are limited to cases of ordinary illness. Services are provided within the limits of the professional, technical and physical resources of the clinic. The college does not assume responsibility in cases of extended illnesses or for treatment of chronic diseases. Cases requiring surgery must be handled by a physician and hospital of the student's choice.

Students enrolled for more than nineteen quarter hours will be assessed (in addition to the regular full-time fee) $5.00 for each quarter hour in excess of nineteen.

Students who are permitted to register for correspondence courses in residence will be charged the regular fee of $5.00 per quarter hour.

A fee of $1.00 is assessed each quarter for operation of the Student Union Building. This fee is added to the incidental fee assessment of part-time students.

Courses requiring special fees and music fees are shown in the Special Fees listing (Table II).

A six-dolllar fee for the Southerner (college annual) is payable by all full-time students on entrance at the beginning of the fall quarter.

A registration fee of $10.00 is required of all graduate students as an entrance fee in the Graduate School. This fee is not refundable.

REFUND POLICY. A student who officially withdraws after he has been enrolled may obtain a refund in accordance with the following:

a. A full refund of fees will be made to a student who withdraws within three days after date of registration.

b. Should a full-time student withdraw for any reason prior to midterm of any quarter, fifty (50) percent of the incidental fee will be refunded.

c. Should a full-time student withdraw after midterm of any quarter, no part of incidental fee will be refunded.

d. Special and part-time students' fees will not be refunded after three days from date of registraton.

e. No adjustment of incidental fee will be made when courses are dropped after three days from date of registration.

f. Room and board fees are refunded on the basis of weeks remaining in the quarter.

ACADEMIC ORGANIZATION

ORGANIZATION OF INSTRUCTION

Mississippi Southern College offers the bachelor's degree and the master's degree in a number of different fields. The college also offers the Master of Education degree for a second year of graduate work. The program of study leading to the Master of Arts degree and to the Master of Education degree are described in this bulletin under the Graduate School. Instruction in the undergraduate school is organized around a core curriculum, with ample time for specialization by the student in his chosen field of interest. It is expected that the freshman and sophomore years will be given over largely to the completion of core requirements, and the junior and senior years to meeting major and minor requirements.

The core curricula are designed to continue the general cultural studies begun in high school and lay a foundation for more specialized work which is to follow. The primary purposes of these curricula are: (1) basic education, insuring contact with the social, cultural, biological, and physical background of civilization and with the discipline and tools necessary for advanced work; and (2) orientation, providing students with the exploratory contacts that will enable the institution to assist them to make wise selection of a field for later work.

The program of study for the last two years is planned to provide the student with specialized training in a chosen field of endeavor. It is expected that the student will devote the major portion of his time in his junior and senior years to specialization in the field of his choice. The student will also have an opportunity to complete certain professional and pre-professional courses that will be of advantage to him in his vocational career.

The instructional program is organized into thirteen divisions. These divisions are:

Biological Sciences
Commerce
Conservation and Natural Resources
Education and Psychology
Fine Arts
Health, Physical Education, and Recreation
Home Economics
Industrial Arts
Language and Literature
Military Science and Tactics
Physical Sciences and Mathematics
Social Studies
Speech Arts

ADMISSION

Admission to the college is granted only on the basis of application. Application forms may be secured from the director of admissions, the dean of the college, the dean of the basic college, or the registrar.

A student may qualify academically for admission to the college by (1) certificate from an accredited high school, (2) examination, or (3) transfer from another college or university. Entering freshmen are required to take a psychological examination and an achievement test.

By Certificate—A student may be admitted to the college upon the presentation of an acceptable certificate showing fifteen units of high school work from an accredited high school. The certificate must be sent by mail in advance, directly from the principal of the school attended. Students with entrance deficiencies must remove them prior to their registration for the second quarter of work.

It is recommended that no student plan to major in mathematics or enter any science or pre-engineering curriculum if he does not have one and one-half units of high school algebra and one unit of plane geometry.

By Examination—Veteran and non-veteran adults who have not completed fifteen units of high school work may secure conditional admission to the college by examination. This phase of admission is coordinated with the high school equivalency certificate program sponsored by the State Board of Education and the Mississippi Accrediting Commission. Applicants must be at least twenty-one years of age. These examinations are given at 8:00 a. m. the first and third Mondays of each calendar month, at the Guidance Center in College Hall.

Veteran and non-veteran adults who plan to take the examination for the high school equivalency certificate for purposes other than admission to this college should secure necessary information and application forms from their local school officials.

Advanced Standing—A student from a college or university of recognized standing may be admitted to the college on the basis of an official transcript of credits mailed directly to the director of admissions from the institution previously attended. The transcript must show that the student is eligible for registration at the school from which he is transferring. The student must have maintained a grade average of C on the work transferred.

In the case of a student who transfers from a recognized junior college, all credit earned in the junior college remains a part of his record. However, specific course requirements for graduation at Mississippi Southern College must be met. Ninety-six of the 192 hours offered to satisfy requirements for any degree must be earned in a senior college after admission to the junior class.

Special Students—Special students may be accepted without satisfaction of regular academic entrance requirements in courses for which they are qualified. Students from other colleges may enroll as special students without submitting formal transcripts of previous work; but they must present official statements of eligibility at the colleges from which they come.

Credit For Military Experience—For basic training, veterans may receive six quarter hours of credit in military science. Credit for achievement of a commission, or for specialized training received in service schools or through the USAFI, ASTP, or Army University Center courses will be honored according to the recommendations of the American Council on Education.

Physical Examination—Each student, prior to the fall registration, is required to submit a report of physical examination on a form supplied by the college. The physical examination form will be furnished with application for admission. Additional forms may be secured from the admissions office.

The college physician requires all new students either to be vaccinated on entrance or to submit proof of recent successful vaccination. The college reserves the right to require a physical examination of any student at any time. No student's registration is complete without a physical examination.

Recommendations—Each new applicant for admission must submit five letters of recommendation. For a resident of Mississippi, these letters must be from alumni of Mississippi Southern College who are also residents of the applicant's home county. If there are few Mississippi Southern College alumni in the applicant's home county, recommendations from alumni in other counties may be submitted. A resident of another state may submit recommendations from responsible citizens of his home community.

COUNSELING STUDENTS

Orientation—At the beginning of the fall quarter, freshmen and transfer students, together with certain student leaders, reach the campus a few days before other students arrive. These few days are devoted to an orientation program, intended to assist the new students in planning for and securing maximum benefit and maximum happiness at Mississippi Southern College. Much of the orientation program is planned and carried out by student leaders, whose fresh recollection of their own experiences during their early days on the campus lends immediate practical value to the program.

The Testing Program—As a part of orientation, new students take a psychological examination and a battery of achievement tests. These tests aid advisers in planning a course of study and provide a basis for exempting superior students from certain courses.

The college maintains a testing center and a diagnostic service which are available to students at all times.

Academic Guidance—Mississippi Southern College attempts to provide adequate academic guidance for its students. Students in the freshman and sophomore years are assigned to a Basic College adviser by the dean of the Basic College. Upon becoming juniors, students are assigned by the dean of the college to advisers in major fields. Students who are pursuing preprofessional curricula have special advisers whose interests and training enable them to give their advisees adequate guidance. Students may not change their advisers without permission in writing from the appropriate dean.

Advisers undertake to aid their students in planning their course of study and in meeting any other problems of college life. Regular conferences are planned by the advisers, and students are urged to consult their advisers when they have problems on which they need help.

Basic College Advisers—Carefully chosen advisers from every division of the college make up the group which constitutes the Basic College advisers. In addition to advising freshmen and sophomores in the choice of their general program of education the first two years, the Basic College advisers make it a point to become well acquainted with their advisees in order to help them in their personal and academic problems and in order to provide them with needed vocational guidance. The Basic College adviser is the student's closest counselor in the first two years of his college career.

Remedial Services—When the testing program and the student's academic record indicate need for remedial study, the college offers unusual facilities for remedial work. Special improvement services are offered in English, reading, speech, mathematics and other areas in cooperation with the Basic College program. Special corrective procedures are available in the Speech Clinic, the Reading Clinic, the Psychology Clinic, the Graduate Clinic, and the Physical Education Department. In addition, tutorial work in areas of deficiency is available.

Vocational Guidance—The Guidance Center, under the direction of a professionally trained counselor, provides assistance to all students in matters of vocational choice and planning, educational guidance, and personal and social adjustment. Tests and inventories of all kinds are used to supplement the counseling process. A library of occupational information covering a wide variety of fields, as well as an up-to-date file of college and technical school catalogs, is available to interested students.

THE BASIC COLLEGE

The Basic College is an administrative unit of Mississippi Southern College, in which all students are enrolled during their first two collegiate years. The administrative head of the Basic College is the dean of the Basic College. The purpose of the Basic College is to provide a broad educational foundation on which students can build a critical and intelligent interest in the fundamental principles which concern all men.

Freshman students entering Mississippi Southern College and students transferring from other colleges or universities and having fewer than 96 quarter hours of acceptable credit are enrolled in, and assigned a faculty adviser from, the Basic College. Upon completion of 96 quarter hours of credit, the student should report to the dean of the Basic College for transfer to an adviser in the division of his major.

The college core curriculum which is required for graduation provides an educational foundation for all majors and should be completed in the two years the student is registered in the Basic College. Elective courses are available in the Basic College in the student's field or fields of interest. Preprofessional curricula for those interested in specialized professional training are provided in medicine, dentistry, law, engineering, pharmacy, medical technology, optometry, nursing, and other areas. In addition, two-year terminal courses have been developed for those who have areas of interest in which such curricula are practical.

The advisers, the deans, and the counseling services of the college serve as a close-working unit to provide the best in counseling on academic and personal problems. Individual counseling is available in choosing courses of study and in solving academic, vocational, social, and personal problems. A program of testing to determine interests and aptitudes of students who are undecided about their vocations is available. Students with special problems are referred to tutors, clinics, and improvement services in reading, writing, speech, mathematics, and visual training.

PREPROFESSIONAL CURRICULA

The preprofessional programs at Mississippi Southern College are designed to prepare students for admission to the professional schools of their choice. In addition to the curricula outlined below, preprofessional programs may be worked out in individual cases for architecture, forestry, social work, veterinary medicine, the ministry, and other fields.

RECOMMENDED PREMEDICAL AND PREDENTAL PROGRAM

The premedical-predental curriculum is planned to meet the needs of the student wishing ultimately to transfer to an approved school of medicine or dentistry, but the student should exercise care and seek the counsel of his advisers in selecting courses that will meet the specific requirements of the medical or dental school which he intends to enter. This is especially true of science, social science, and language requirements.

It should be remembered that the keen competition for admission to medical and dental schools at present makes it imperative that the student plan his curriculum carefully and maintain a superior scholastic standing. A three-year premedical and predental program is outlined below, but if the student wishes to receive a bachelor's degree before transferring to professional school, a four-year curriculum may be worked out with the premedical or predental adviser. A student accepted in medical or dental school after the junior year may be awarded a bachelor's degree upon completion of the first year of medical or dental school if the requirements outlined elsewhere in this catalog are met.

RECOMMENDED PRELEGAL PROGRAM

The requirements for admission to accredited law schools vary, ranging from three years of prelegal work to a college degree. It is suggested that the prelegal student obtain a copy of the catalog of the law school which he wishes to attend and that he plan his curriculum under the guidance of his academic adviser. The program at Mississippi Southern College is divided, therefore, into two parts, and the prelegal student may elect the one which he considers the more appropriate to his circumstances.

A. It is suggested that the prelegal student secure his bachelor's degree before entering a school of law. If he elects to do this, he must complete the core, choose his major and minor, and in general meet the requirements for the bachelor's degree.

B. If the prelegal student desires the three-year program, he may receive his bachelor's degree from Mississippi Southern College after he receives his law degree if he meets the requirements outlined elsewhere in this catalog.

Most law schools do not require specific courses for admission, and Mississippi Southern College accepts this policy. The college invites the student's attention, however, to the following courses in addition to the core curriculum:

Accounting 71, 72, 73
Economics 54
Psychology 139 (Social Psychology)
Sociology 151 (Marriage and the Family)
Biology 136 (Human Anatomy) or Health 170 (Applied Psychology)
Government 25, 45, 130, 135, 185
History 109, 179, 190
Philosophy 130 (Logic)
Sociology 128 (Criminology)
Speech 40, 115, 108
Business Administration 166

RECOMMENDED PRE-ENGINEERING PROGRAM

The following curricula are set up to meet the requirements for admission to most engineering schools. The student should note that there are no electives and that there are only four courses not required by most engineering schools. These are History 27, History 28, Economics 55, and Speech 31. However, every engineering school requires some courses of the same nature. Students who have selected an engineering school may need to change one or more of these courses to meet the requirements of their particular choice, but no other substitutions should be made.

The pre-engineering student must maintain the average required by the college to conform to the following schedule of more than nineteen hours per quarter. Those students not meeting the requirements of the college for taking this schedule should plan to spend more than six quarter in pre-engineering.

BASIC CURRICULUM

The entering student who has not selected definitely his field of special interest is advised to follow the two-year program listed below. It will form the basis for future concentration in any of the major and minor fields offered by the college and will meet the core curriculum of the college. The core curriculum should be completed by the end of the sophomore year.

A. Bachelor of Science Degree

Courses	Hours
English 25, 26, 27, 73, 74	20
Speech 31	4
[1]Social studies	8
History 27, 28	8
[2]Psychology 65	4
Health 79	4
Elective in health or physical education	4
Physical education activity courses (or military science)	6
[3]Mathematics	4
[4]Biological and/or physical science	16
[5]Electives or courses recommended for contemplated major	18

[1]The eight hours in social studies must be selected from two of the folowing fields: geography, government, sociology, and principles of economics (or introductory economics).

[2]Psychology 65 should be taken in the sophomore year.

[3]Students with less than two years of high school algebra should take Mathematics 21. Those with two year of high school algebra should take Mathematics 31.

[4]a. Students who are candidates for a teaching certificate must take Biology 37 and 38 and the remaining eight hours in the Division of Physical Sciences—astronomy, chemistry, physics, and geology.

b. Students in home economics education may offer Biology 139 instead of Biology 38. (Biology 139 may be taken in the junior year.)

[5]Students who aspire to graduate work are cautioned that two foreign languages (usually German and French) are required by most graduate schools. Students who plan to go into teaching should take Education 20 in the freshman or sophomore year. Students who are planning to teach at the secondary level should include four hours of fine arts in their elective work.

B. Bachelor of Arts Degree

Courses	Hours
English composition and literature	20
Speech	4
A foreign language	18
Social studies	20
Psychology	4
[1]Mathematics and/or philosophy	8
Health 79 or 125	4
Physical education activity courses or military science	6
Elective in health or physical education	4
[2]A laboratory science	12

[1]A maximum of four hours in religion and philosophy and four hours in economics may be used in meeting this requirement.

[2]This must be ONE science.

C. Bachelor of Music Degree with Applied Music as a Major

Courses	Hours
Applied music, (piano, voice, violin, 'cello or organ)	21
Theory 34, 35, 36, 37ab, 38ab, 39ab, 64, 65, 66, 67ab, 68ab, 69ab	30

Physics 20	4
Physical education or military science	6
[1]Health 79	4
[1]Psychology 65	4
[1]Mathematics 21 or 31	4

[1]May be delayed until junior year if necessary.

PROGRAMS FOR SPECIFIC MAJORS

Biology, Botany, or Zoology Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
Mathematics 32, 35	4
[2]Chemistry 25, 26, 27	12

[1]Biology 37, 38, 39 should be taken the freshman year.
[2]Students who plan to minor in botany should take Biology 142, 143, 144, in the sophomore year. Students who plan to minor in chemistry, geology, or physics should take 12 hours of their minor in the sophomore year. Students who wish to become game and fish workers should take geology 41 and 42 and Biology 102, 139, and 142, in the sophomore year.

Accounting, Business Administration, Economics, Marketing, Office Management, Personnel Management, or Secretarial Studies Major

A above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
[2]Business Administration 40	4
[3]Business Education 35 or 36	4
Economics 56	4
[4]Accounting 71, 72, 73	12

[1]One of the social studies in the core must be Economics 55. The student is expected to select the alternate requirement in science of one year in one laboratory science and eight hours in mathematics, including Mathematics 120. An accounting major is also expected to take Mathematics 60.

[2]A transfer student with sufficient credits to be a second quarter sophomore or higher is exempted from this requirement.

[3]A student who has had one year of typewriting in high school must take Business Education 36. A student may be exempted from this requirement if he can pass a proficiency examination.

[4]An accounting major should take Accounting 71, 72, and 73 in his freshman year and follow with Accounting 100, 101, and 150 in his sophomore year.

Business Education

A above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
[2]Business Education 35, 36 (or 109)	8
[2]Business Education 66, 67, 104 (or 114)	12
Accounting 71, 72, 73	12

[1]One of the social studies in the core must be Economics 55.

[2]A student with one year of typewriting in high school must take Business Education 36. A student with one year of shorthand in high school must take Business Education 67. If a student has had more work than this in either or both fields, he should consult his adviser about the appropriate beginning course.

Foreign Trade Major

B above to meet core requirements[1] and:

Courses	Hours
[2]Business Education 35 or 36	4
Economics 56	4
Accounting 71, 72, 73	12

[1]The social studies in the core must be Economics 55; Geography 33, 118, and 145 and History 127. One of the mathematics requirements in the core must be Mathematics 120. Spanish is the language ordinarily selected to meet the language requirement. The student with two years of high school Spanish will start with Spanish 80. Two quarters of Spanish on the junior level should have been completed by the start of the junior year.

[2]A student with one year of typewriting in high school must take Business Education 36. A student may be exempted from this requirement if he can pass a proficiency examination.

Secretarial Training Two-Year Curriculum

For the requirements to meet this curriculum, refer to the Division of Commerce.

Elementary Education Major

A above to meet core requirements[1] and:

Courses	Hours
Education 20, 66	8
Music 95, 96	8
Music 97, or Art 112 or 113	4
Art 25, 26	8

[1]Geography 33 should be elected as one of the social studies requirements. Mathematics 21 should be taken to meet the mathematics requirement.

Psychology Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
[2]Philosophy 100	4
[2]Biology 129	4
[2]Mathematics 120	4

[1]Biology 37 and 38 and eight hours of physical science should be used to meet the science core requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree. Sociology 63 should be elected as one of the social studies courses in meeting core requirements.

[2]Should be taken in the sophomore year.

Art Major

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Art 21, 23, 28, 32, 34a	20
Art (applied or history) 2 quarters	8

Applied Music Major

C above to meet Bachelor of Music core requirements.

Musical Composition Major

D above to meet Bachelor of Music core requirements.

Vocal Music Education Major

E above to meet Bachelor of Music Education core requirements.

Instrumental Music Education Major

E above to meet Bachelor of Music Education core requirements.

Health, Physical Education, Recreation or Health-Physical Education-Recreation Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
Art or music	4
Education 20	4
Physical Education 70	4

[1]A Bachelor of Arts major is not offered in physical education, or recreation, or health-physical education-recreation. Biology 37, 38, and 8 hours of physical science should be used to meet science core requirements if the students expects to qualify for a teaching certificate. The health-physical education-recreation major is for the student seeking the professional education degree and no other.

Home Economics Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
Home Economics 22	2
Foods and Nutrition 37	4
Clothing and Textiles 26 (or 50)	4
Child Development 39	4
[2]Art 23	4
Foods and Nutrition 85	4

[1]Those students planning to major in home economics education (teaching homemaking or home economics extension service) or institutional management should take Chemistry 25, 26, 27 and Mathematics 31. Sociology 63 and Economics 54 should be used to meet social studies requirement.

[2]Students majoring in clothing merchandising should also take Art 25, Business Administration 40 clothing and Textiles 50, and those not proficient in typing, Business Education 35 or 36.

Industrial Arts Major

A above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Education 20	4
Industrial Arts 27, 31, 41, 63	12
Music 97 or Art 112	4

Architectural Drafting Major

A above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
Art 21, 23, 28	12
Mathematics 32, 35	8

[1]Economics 54 should be used to meet one of the social studies requirements. Physics 80, 81, 82, or 90, 91, 92 should be used to meet the science requirement.

English Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
English 100	4
Music 97, Art 112, or 113	4

[1]Biology 37 and 38 and 8 hours of physical science should be used to meet science core requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree. In the Bachelor of Arts program two years of a foreign language are required.

Journalism Major

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Journalism 57, 58, 75, 76, 130[1], 134, 136	24

[1]Required in public relations sequence only.

Library Science Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
[2]Education 20	4

[1]Biology 37 and 38 and 8 hours of physical science should be used to meet science core requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree. In the Bachelor of Arts program two years of a foreign language should be taken.
[2]Required only for the Bachelor of Science degree.

French, German or Spanish Majors

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Education 20 should be taken by those who plan to teach a language.

Chemistry Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
[2]Chemistry 31, 32, 33, 75, 76, 77	27
Mathematics 31, 32, 35, 75, 175, 176, 177	28

[1]This curriculum will take more than two years. The science and mathematics sequence must be taken without interruption to graduate on time.

[2]The core requirements in science and mathematics are automatically met by the science and mathematics sequences listed here except for the Bachelor of Science professional degree which requires Biology 37 and 38.

Geology Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
[2]Chemistry 31, 32, 33 or Biology 37, 38, 102	15 or 12
Geology 44, 50, 104, 105, 106	20
Mathematics 31, 32, 35	12

[1]Related minors are suggested in the following order of preference: mathematics, chemistry, biology.

[2]The core requirements in science and mathematics are automatically met by the science and mathematics sequence listed here.

Physics Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
[2]Chemistry 31, 32, 33	15
Mathematics 31, 32, 35, 75, 175, 176, 177	28
Physics 90, 91, 92	12

[1]Since 28 hours of mathematics are necessary for the successful study of the advanced courses in physics, it is recommended that the student plan to use mathematics as the minor field of specialization.

[2]The core requirements in science and mathematics are automatically met by the science and mathematics sequences listed here except for the Bachelor of Science professional degree which requires Biology 37 and 38.

Mathematics Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
Mathematics 32, 35, 75, 175, 176, 177	24

Geography Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
[1]Geography 33	4
Geography electives	12

[1]In the sophomore year those planning to teach should take Sociology 63, Government 25, and Economics 54.

Government Major

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Government 25, 45	8

History Major

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
[1]History 61, 62, 63	12

[1]Students planning to teach should take Government 25, Sociology 63 or 107, and Economics 54.

Religion and Philosophy Major

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Religion 20, 22, 51	8

General Speech Major[1]

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Speech 40, 50, 60	12
Education 20	4
Music 97	4

[1]This curriculum is particularly designed for those who are planning to teach general speech on the secondary level.

Oral Interpretation of Literature Major

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Speech 40	4
[1]Twelve hours from Speech 50, 53, 60, 131, 152	12
Fine Arts	4

[1]Students desiring to qualify for secondary school certification should elect Speech 50 and 60. Speech 131 or 152 may be taken after the sophomore year.

Public Address Major

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Speech 60	4
Speech 60	4
[1]Twelve hours from Speech 40, 50, 53, 131, 152	12
Fine Arts	4

[1]Speech 131 and/or 152 may be delayed until the junior or senior year.

Radio and Television Major

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Speech 53	4
[1]Eight hours from Speech 40, 50, 60, 152	8
Music 97	4

[1]Students desiring to qualify for the secondary school certificate in speech should elect Speech 40, 50, and 60. Speech 152, if elected, may be taken after the sophomore year.

Speech Correction and Hearing Major

A or B above to meet core requirements[1], and:

Courses	Hours
Fine Arts	4
For core A: Speech 131 and 152	8
For core B: Speech 131 and 152	8
Eight hours from Speech 40, 50, 60	8

[1]This curriculum is designed for students who wish to certify as teachers of exceptional children, grades 1-12.

Theatre Major

A or B above to meet core requirements, and:

Courses	Hours
Speech 50, 104	8
[1]Eight hours from Speech 40, 53, 60, 152	8
Art 21 or Art 23	4
Music 97	4

[1]Students desiring to qualify for secondary school certification in speech should elect Speech 40 and 60. Speech 152, if elected, may be taken after the sophomore year.

DEGREES AND CURRICULA

Mississippi Southern College grants the following undergraduate degrees: Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Music, and Bachelor of Music Education. Candidates who wish to qualify for the professional license in teaching may do so by choosing the proper courses in education and psychology. Candidates may qualify for one of the lower teaching certificates by taking specified courses. In general it is expected that students wishing to qualify as teachers will follow one of the professional programs.

Graduate degrees are discussed in the section of this bulletin devoted to the Graduate School.

Types of Courses a Student Takes—Each student takes four types of courses while meeting requirements for a degree: (1) courses from the core curriculum, (2) courses from a field of major interest, commonly called the student's major, (3) courses from a field of minor interest, commonly called the student's minor, and (4) electives. The core is made up of basic courses which every college graduate needs. The major is chosen by the student because he wants to do a great deal of work in that field. A student takes a minimum of 36 hours of work in his major. A student takes a minimum of 28 hours in his minor. Electives are any additional courses a student chooses from any field because of his interest in those courses. The minor and elective courses should be chosen after consultation with the professor.

The following diagram may help to make this explanation clear.

Core Curriculum	Major	Minor	Electives and Other Prescribed Courses
78 to 100 hours Taken by all students	36 hours (or more)	28 hours (or more)	To complete a total of 192 hrs.

JUNIOR ENGLISH EXAMINATION REQUIREMENT

A college regulation requires that in order to qualify for any undergraduate degree a student must pass a qualifying examination in English after becoming a full-fledged junior. The examination is given on Thursday of the ninth week of each quarter, and it is to the student's advantage to take the examination during the first quarter of his attendance after he becomes eligible.

HOURS IN COURSES NUMBERED ABOVE ONE HUNDRED

To become eligible for any undergraduate degree a student is required to complete a minimum of 68 hours of work in courses numbered 100 or above.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE

The Bachelor of Science degree will be awarded to students who have earned 192 quarter hours of credit including the core and major and minor requirements, and who have conformed to the scholastic regulations governing the degree.

The core requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree are listed below. This core curriculum is the common pattern for all students who are candidates for this degree. The student should plan to complete these requirements during the first two years of his college career.

CORE CURRICULUM

English 25, 26, 27 12
Transfer students who present a year's credit in freshman English will be considered as having met this requirement.

Sophomore literature	8
Speech 31	4
Social studies	8

The eight hours in social studies must be selected from two of the following fields: geography, government, sociology and principles of economics (on introductory economics).

History 27, 28	8
Biological and/or physical science as explained below	16

(a) Students who are following the professional teaching program must take Biology 37 and 38 and the remaining eight hours in the Division of Physical Sciences — astronomy, chemistry, physics, and geology. Students in home economics education may offer Biology 139 instead of Biology 38.

(b) Students who are not following the professional teaching program may take a year in a laboratory science (one laboratory science) and a sufficient number of hours in mathematics to complete the required 16 hours.

Students who are not following the professional teaching program may elect (a) or (b) above but may not mix the two .

Mathematics	4

This requirement is in addition to any mathematics that may be offered in connection with the physical science requirement above.

Psychology 65	4
Health 79	4
Physical education (activity courses)	6

Military science credit earned in a college program may be used to meet this requirement. Credit for military service experience may not be used to meet this requirement.

Elective in health or physical education	4
TOTAL	78

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

Specific course requirements for academic majors will be found in the expository material preceding course descriptions in the various divisions.

I. A student who wishes to work for the Bachelor of Science degree, but who does not wish to follow the professional teaching program, must choose his major from among the following fields:

Accounting
Art
Biology
Botany
Business administration
Chemistry
Clothing and merchandising
Economics
English (45 hours required)
Foreign service
French
General home economics
General speech
Geology
Geography
German
Government
Health
History
Industrial arts
Institutional management
Journalism
Latin-American studies
Library science
(45 hours required)
Marketing and merchandising
Mathematics
Microbiology
Office management
Oral interpretation of literature
Personnel management
Physical education
Physics
Psychology
Public address
Radio and Television
Recreation
Religion and philosophy
Secretarial science
Sociology
Spanish
Speech correction and hearing
Theatre
Zoology

II. A student who wishes to qualify for a Class-A certificate at the elementary level by following the professional teaching program in connection with his work for a Bachelor of Science degree must complete a major in elementary education. This major includes the following: Education 20, 66, 101, 103, 107, 108, 116, 117, 143, 151e, and 169; ten hours of student teaching and Psychology 116.

A student majoring in elementary education must also complete Art 25 and 26, Music 95, 96, and 97, and Conservation 132 and 147. Education 151b may be substituted for Art 26, or a combination of Art 132 and Art 133 may be substituted for Art 26. Art 112 or Art 113 may be substituted for Music 97. Conservation 147 may be substituted for a physical science in the core curriculum. Education 151e may count as four hours of physical education in this program.

A recommended outline for the program of study for elementary education majors will be found in the section of the catalog devoted to the Division of Education and Psychology.

III. A student who wishes to qualify for a Class-A certificate for teachers at the secondary level by following the professional teaching program in connection with his work for a Bachelor of Science degree must choose his major from among the following fields:

Art
Biology
Business education
Chemistry
Education of exceptional children
English (45 hours required)
French
General science (Required: biology, 18 hours; chemistry, 18 hours; physics, 12 hours)
General speech
Geography
German Government
Health
Health, physical education, and recreation
History
Home economics
Industrial arts
Library science (45 hours required)
Mathematics
Oral interpretation of literature
Physics
Public address
Recreation
Sociology
Speech correction and hearing
Spanish
Theatre

In addition, the student must complete the following courses: Education 20, 113, 169, 185, and 186; the methods course appropriate to the major field; at least two hours from Education 116, 128, 136, 162, and 164, and Home Economics 220; Psychology 119 and 132; and four hours in fine arts.

MINOR REQUIREMENTS

The student should select his minor after consultation with his major professor.

I. A student working under the provisions of part I under "Major Requirements" above must establish a minor chosen from among the fields listed as possible majors (see part I under "Major Requirements" above), with three exceptions.

(1) A student majoring in Latin-American studies may not minor in Spanish.

(2) A student majoring in Spanish may not minor in Latin-American studies.

(3) A student may establish a minor in general science by offering 36 hours from two or more appropriate fields (biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, and physics), provided he offers at least 12 hours from each field he chooses to include, and provided at least 8 hours of the work offered as a minor have been earned at Mississippi Southern College.

II. A student working under the provisions of part II under "Major Requirements" above must establish a minor in one of the divisions of instruction (other than the Division of Military science and Tactics) or in a combination of English and speech.

III. A student working under the provisions of Part III under "Major Requirements" above necessarily establishes a minor with his professional courses.

A student, unless he is majoring in physical education, to establish a minor in any field, must earn at least twelve hours above the core requirements in that field.

Since most high schools in Mississippi require teachers to teach in more than one field, it is recommended that students working for secondary certificates try to plan electives so as to meet certification requirements in some field in addition to the major.

BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE

The Bachelor of Arts degree will be awarded to students who have earned 192 quarter hours of credit including the core and major and minor requirements, and who have conformed to the scholastic regulations governing the degree.

The core requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree are listed below. The student should plan to complete these requirements during the first two years of his college career.

CORE CURRICULUM

	Hours
English composition and literature	20
Speech	4
A foreign language (one language)	18
Social studies	20
A maximum of four hours in religion and philosophy and four hours in economics may be used in meeting this requirement.
Psychology	4
A laboratory science (one science)	12
Mathematics and/or philosophy	8
Health 79 or 125	4
Physical education activity courses	6
Military science credit earned in a college program may be used to meet this requirement. Credit for military service experience may not be used to meet this requirement.
Elective in health or physical education	4
TOTAL	100

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

A major may be selected from among the following fields:

Art
Biology
Chemistry
Economics
English (45 hours required)
Foreign trade
Foreign service
Latin-American studies
Library science
(45 hours required)
Mathematics
Microbiology
Oral interpretation of literature

MINOR REQUIREMENTS

The minor should be selected by the student after consultation with the major professor. A minor must be selected from among the fields available as a major except that (1) a student who majors in one area of speech may not minor in another area of speech, (2) a student who majors in Latin-American studies may not minor in Spanish, and (3) a student who majors in Spanish may not minor in Latin-American studies.

ELECTIVES

A sufficient number of electives must be chosen to bring the total number of quarter hours earned to 192. The electives should be chosen after consultation with the major professor.

BACHELOR OF MUSIC DEGREE

The requirements for the Bachelor of Music degree are listed in the section devoted to the Division of Fine Arts.

BACHELOR OF MUSIC EDUCATION DEGREE

The requirements for the Bachelor of Music Education degree are listed in the section devoted to the Division of Fine Arts.

DEGREES FOR PRE-MEDICAL, PRE-TECHNICIAN, PRE-DENTAL, OR PRE-LAW STUDENTS

Students may be allowed to complete work for B.S. and B.A. degrees in affiliated schools of medicine, medical technology, dentistry, and law on the conditions:

(1) That 140 hours of credit and 280 quality points shall have been completed, with a minimum of four quarters of residence at Mississippi Southern College.

(2) That all core requirements for the degree shall have been completed, except that students preparing for a degree in medical technology or medicine will be allowed to substitute four hours in some other elective subject for four hours in health in the core curriculum.

(3) That credit and quality points shall be transferred back to Mississippi Southern College from the school of medicine, dentistry, or law to complete requirements for the degree. (In the case of medical technicians, a certificate of graduation from a recognized school of medical technology must be presented.) In any event a minimum of 192 quarter hours must be completed before the degree will be awarded.

(4) That the program leading to the degree shall be completed within two calendar years of the termination of the last quarter of residence at Mississippi Southern College, except that technicians will be allowed three calendar years after the last quarter of residence, for the completion of the program leading to the degree.

TEACHER CERTIFICATION

College officials attempt to provide up-to-date information regarding teacher certification, and a student graduating from the college under the current catalog will, if he has followed one of the professional teaching programs, qualify for a teaching certificate. The final answer regarding certification ,however, must of necessity rest with the Certification Division of the State Department of Educaton. A certification bulletin from that deparment is available upon request.

SCHOLASTIC REGULATIONS

Exemption from Core Requirements

Students may be exempt from any part of the core requirements for any of the degrees on the basis of attainment in the field as demonstrated by examination or by previous record. The granting of exemption does not involve the bestowal of credit; neither does it reduce the total number of hours to be earned for a degree. Its only effect is to increase the number of elective or semi-elective credits which the student may offer as a part of his program for a degree.

Program of Work

The programs of work outlined for students in this bulletin are suggested but not required. It is expected that all students will conform to the core requirements, but in case of the major and minor programs some flexibility will be allowed. It is obvious that no program can meet the needs of every student. Major advisers will endeavor to see that the programs authorized for their advisees provide the most favorable training for the individuals concerned.

Physical Education

Freshman and sophomore students are required to earn one hour of physical education credit during each quarter of the freshman and sophomore years unless excused from the requirement by the college physician or the dean.

Quarter Hours

An applicant for a degree must complete 192 quarter hours, including core requirements and major and minor requirements. No more than six hours of practical music (chorus, band, or orchestra) may be counted toward a degree except by students who are majoring or minoring in music. Not more than twelve hours in physical education activity courses and not more than four hours in any one varsity sport may be used in meeting degree requirements.

Catalog Governing Graduation Requirements

Graduation requirements must be met under a catalog which is not more than six years old at the time of the student's graduation and which bears announcements for a year during which the student earned some credit at Mississippi Southern College.

Residence Requirements

To become eligible for a degree at Mississippi Southern College a student must meet the following residence requirements:

(1) He must be a resident student at this institution for at least three quarters.

(2) He must do his last quarter of work on the Mississippi Southern College campus, except that his last four quarter hours of credit may be earned by extension or correspondence work.

(3) He must earn at least 48 quarter hours of credit in residence at Missisippi Southern College.

(4) He must earn at Mississippi Southern College at least twelve quarter hours of credit in his major field.

Quality Point Requirements

Each grade of A carries four quality points for each quarter hour of credit. Each grade of B carries three quality points for each quarter hour of credit. Each grade of C carries two quality points for each quarter hour of credit. Grades of D carry one quality point for each quarter hour of credit. A student must earn a quality point ratio of 2.0 at Mississippi Southern College in residence courses that carry quality points. High grades in institutions from which credits are transferred to this college may not offset low grades made in this institution.

Credit earned in correspondence work, extension work, and workshops may not be used to offset quality point deficiencies. In the case of workshops this regulation became effective as of September, 1950.

Transfer students are expected to present transcripts showing an average of at least C. Transfer students having scholastic deficiencies must compensate for the deficiencies by earning additional quality points at Mississippi Southern College.

A student may not major or minor in an area in which he has earned less than a 2.0-quality point ratio.

Scholarship Standards

It is necessary that students maintain a reasonable academic record to continue in college. The Scholarship Committee, which has the responsibility of determining whether or not students have met the minimum standards of the college, has set up the following scholastic standards as a guide in fulfilling its responsibility.

1. A student must pass at least eight hours of work on which he earns a minimum grade of C.
2. A student who does not meet the aforementioned standard may be readmitted on academic probation if the Scholarship Committee finds that conditions justify such readmission. A student already on probation will be suspended from college for the next succeeding quarter if he does not meet the above minimum academic standards.
3. A student who passes no work is subject to automatic suspension whether or not he has previously been on probation.
4. A student may remove himself from academic probation by earning at least a C average on a load of fifteen hours or more for two consecutive quarters provided his general average is C or better. In determining the average for this purpose all work undertaken will be considered.

Approval of Faculty

After a student has met the scholarship requirements for a degree, the question of his graduation is submitted to a vote of the faculty. If a majority of the faculty vote favorably, the president is authorized to grant the degree.

Application for Degree

A student is expected to file an application for a degree at least three quarters before the degree is to be conferred. This application will show the work completed by the student and the proposed courses for the ensuing quarters. After the application has been approved, it becomes the student's official program.

A student must pay at the time of the filing of his application for degree the seven-dollar degree fee. No application will be accepted until this fee has been paid.

An application for degree will not be accepted for any commencement later than the end of the seventh week of the quarter of the convocation at which the student expects to graduate.

Honors

A student may be awarded a degree with honors or with highest honors. In order to win one of these awards, a student shall have had on the Mississippi Southern College campus not less than five quarters of work of not less than twelve quarter hours of credit in each quarter, and totaling no less than eighty hours of credit. In computing this residence requirement, a six-week term will be considered a half quarter when the load is six hours or more. Honors will be granted to students who maintain an honor-point average of 3.5 or more. Highest honors will be granted to students who maintain an honor-point average of 3.8 or more.

Second Bachelor's Degree

Mississippi Southern College will confer upon a candidate a second bachelor's degree based upon requirements imposed by the current catalog, provided the program of study for the second degree includes at least 48 quarter hours of credit with 96 quality points. It is required that the 48 hours be related to a specific major.

Late Registration

A late registration fee is applicable after registration day. For students taking nine hours or less the fee is two dollars, and for students taking more than nine hours the fee is five dollars.

No student may enter after the first day of the third calendar week of any quarter. No student who enters after the first week may take more than twelve hours, except by special permission of the appropriate dean, but those entering any time during the first week may take a full load of sixteen hours provided they make up the work missed.

Students registering for half a quarter may not register for a full load after the second day of the term. Seniors expecting to graduate at the end of a half quarter must register within the first two days of the term regardless of load.

Program Changes

A student who finds that he is not prepared for courses for which he is registered may be allowed to withdraw on the recommendation of his adviser with the approval of the appropriate academic dean. A student will not be permitted to withdraw from a course after the fourth week of a quarter. A fee of one dollar is required for a change in registration after the regular registration period.

Foreign Students' Programs of Study

The academic program of every foreign student must be approved by the foreign student adviser (the director of the Latin-American Institute) each quarter. No change may be made in a foreign student's program without the approval of the foreign student adviser.

Correspondence Work in Residence

A long-standing regulation provides that students will not be permitted to do correspondence study while in residence. Exceptions to this regulation may be made by the dean but will be made only in the case of graduating seniors.

Language Credit

Students must complete a minimum of one year of work in a foreign language if the credit is to be counted toward a degree.

Load of Work

The normal student load is twelve to nineteen quarter hours of work. Students who are listed on the honor roll will be permitted to take twenty quarter hours of work during the next quarter of attendance.

Seniors may take twenty quarter hours during any one of their last three quarters provided they made no grade lower than C during the previous quarter.

Students who have maintained a place on the honor roll for each of the two preceding quarters of their residence are exempt from all load restrictions.

Dean's List

Students will be placed on the Dean's List if they have maintained a quality point ratio of 3.25 or above on an academic load of fifteen quarter hours or more, provided they have no grade of D or below. Being on the Dean's List carries with it certain academic and social privileges.

Absences

Students are expected to attend all classes regularly. When it is necessary that a student be absent from a class, courtesy requires an explanation to the instructor in charge. If a student has as many as 14 absences in any 4-hour course, or the proportionate number of absences in a 1-,2-, or 5-hour course, he will not receive credit in the course.

Examinations

Examinations will be held on the last three days of the fall, winter and spring quarters.

During each of the two terms of the summer quarter the last regularly scheduled meeting of a class will be used for examination purposes.

No final examinations are permitted prior to the scheduled examination period.

A student who is absent from the examination without valid reason approved by the dean forfeits credit for the quarter. Students will be charged a fee of $3.00 for special examination unless excused by the dean.

At the end of his graduating quarter a senior is exempt from the final examination in each course in which his class grade is B or above provided he has made an average of B or above for each of the two preceding quarters.

Grading System

A —indicates very superior work.

B —indicates superior to average work.

C —indicates average work.

D —indicates inferior to average work.

E —indicates failure with condition. An E becomes an F if the condition is not removed within the next twelve months, or, if the student is not in residence during all of the next twelve months, within the next quarter of attendance after the expiration of the 12-month period. An E grade cannot be raised higher than a D.

F —indicates failure without condition, necessitating repetition of the course.

I —indicates an incomplete record. An I becomes an F if the work is not completed within the next twelve months, or if the student is not in residence during all of the next twelve months, within the next quarter of attendance after the expiration of the 12-month period.

W—indicates withdrawal. No student will be allowed to withdraw from a courses after the fourth week, except under unusual circumstances approved by the dean.

Y —indicates acceleration, because of proficiency, to a more advanced course.

Definitions

The college session, beginning in September and ending in August, includes four quarters.

A quarter is twelve weeks in length.

A credit (called also quarter hour, or hour) measures college work and represents the credit received for the successful pursuit of a college subject for one quarter (twelve weeks), one 60-minute class period per week (laboratory periods are 120 minutes). For example, a class meeting four times a week for one quarter earns four hours of credit. A credit is ordinarily presumed to require from one and one-half to two hours of preparation for each hour spent in class.

A memorandum of credits is a statement showing the courses completed and credits earned by the student. Memorandums are fifty cents each, except that upon request of the student one copy of the cumulative record will be supplied to the Mississippi Southern College Placement Bureau without charge.

A student is ranked as a—

Freshman when he has fewer than 40 hours.

Sophomore when he has as many as 40 hours and fewer than 96 hours.

Junior when he has as many as 96 hours and fewer than 132 hours.

Senior when he has 132 or more hours.

Special student when his credentials for admission have not been received or when his work is of an irregular nature.

A student is ranked for the Selective Service at the end of the school year, that is, in June: (1) as a freshman if he has completed 55 hours or less; (2) as a sophomore, 56 hours to 105 hours; (3) as a junior, 106 hours to 155 hours; (4) as a senior, 156 hours or more.

Numbering of Courses

Basic College (or junior college) courses are numbered below 100. Senior college courses are numbered from 100 to 399. Graduate courses are numbered 400 or above. A few courses may be had as graduate or undergraduate work, as indicated by their listing under alternate numbers, one below 400, and one 400 or above.

Basic College students are not ordinarily permitted to register for senior college courses. Senior college students may register for Basic College courses, but juniors and seniors who register for courses numbered below 100 in any field except physical education, music, natural sciences, and industrial and fine arts are expected to do some research-type work in addition to the work regularly required of freshmen and sophomores in the same courses.

The student should keep in mind the regulation requiring 68 hours of work in courses numbered 100 or above.

THE DIVISION OF BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

J. F. Walker, Chairman

Eure, Hood, Rosso, Valentine, Varrelman, Walker, Woodmansee

The Division of Biological Sciences offers majors in four fields: 1. Biology; 2. Microbiology; 3. Botany; 4. Zoology. This division also offers a graduate major in the teaching of biology where two-thirds of the required hours for the master's degree will be done in biology. Students anticipating entering the professional fields of medical technology, forestry, game fish work, health education, and other public health specialties will be able to abtain all fundamental preprofessional biology requirements in this division.

Staff members and majors of this division have been active participants in the work done in biology at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory at Ocean Springs, Mississippi. It is strongly recommended that all majors in biology plan to take at least one of the courses in marine biology offered at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

All majors in biology should take Biology 37, 38, and 39, and Zoology 142, and 144 (Zoology 167 and 190 or 140 may be substituted for 142). Those who plan to teach should include Biology 120 (Field Botany). Premedical students should take, in addition to freshman biology, Zoology 143 and 144. Very desirable electives may be selected from the following: Zoology 140, 142, 167, 190, and 191.

Students anticipating medical technology as a profession should take, in addition to the basic course, Biology 139, 142, 166, 167, and 187. Those who plan to enter game fish work should select, in addition to the basic course, Biology 153, 161, 195, 196, 197, and 198. Health education majors who expect to minor in biology should include, in addition to the basic course, Biology 129, 136, 150, and 182. Students who plan to enter Forestry as a profession should include, in addition to the basic course, Biology 115, 117, 118, 120, 139, 195, 196, and 198.

A student may major or minor in any one of three special fields of biology by completing thrity-six hours for a major or twenty-eight hours for a minor from courses listed under any one of the following fields of specialization.

Botany

Biology 37, 38, and 39
Botany 117 118, 120, 139, 145, 187, 193, and 194
Zoology 140, 195, 196, and 197

Zoology

Biology 37, 38, and 39
Zoology 63, 64, 115 (or 153), 142, 143, 167, 190, 191, 195, 196, and 198

Microbiology

Biology 37, 38, and 39
Botany 117, 118, 139, 145, 157, and 187
Zoology 142, 166, 167, 190, 191, and 198

GENERAL COURSES

37—Biology I. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
This course and Biology 38 which follows constitute the general core requirement in biological sciences.
A treatment of protoplasmic concept, cell theory, tissues, etc., and the beginning of a survey of animal phyla.

38—Biology II. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods per week.
A continuation of Biology 37, completing survey of animal kingdom and beginning study of systems.

39—Biology III. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
Prerequisite: Biology 37 (or 40), and 38
The circulatory, respiratory, excretory, reproductive, endocrine, and nervous systems; fundamental principles of genetics and evolution. Vertebrates studied in laboratory.

199—History of Biology. Four hours.
For seniors and graduate students only.
Lectures and readings concerning the development and organization of the biological sciences, the development of biological principles and theories.

ZOOLOGY

63—Field Zoology: Invertebrates I. Four hours.
Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory per week.
Prerequisites: Biology 37, 38, and 39.

Identification, preservation, and collection of fresh-water and terrestrial inverbebrates, including the phyla Porifera through Annelida. Field trips when possible.

64—Field Zoology: Invertebrates II. Four hours.
Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory per week.
Prerequisites: Biology 37, 38, and 39.
A continuation of Biology 63, covering the phyla Arthropoda, exclusive of insects, and Mollusca.

66—Field Zoology: Herpetology. Four hours.
Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory per week.
Prerequisites: Biology 37, 38, and 39.
Identification, preservation, and collection of all local species of amphibians and reptiles, and others. Discussions of south-eastern United States zoogeography, and faunal problems. Field trips when possible.

102—Invertebrate Zoology. Four hours.
Four hours laboratory and two hours lecture per week.
Prerequisite: Geology 41 and 42. For geology majors, but not to be taken for credit toward a major in biology.
Study of morphology of invertebrates with special reference to fossil-producing forms.

115—Entomology. Four hours.
Four hours laboratory and two hours lecture per week.
Prerequisite: Biology 37, 38, and 39.
An elementary study of the principal groups of insects. Life habits, structural adaptations, life histories, natural habitats, classifications and the economic importants of certain species.

140—Genetics. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Biology 37, 38, and preferably 39.
The fundamental principles of heredity.

142—Protozoology. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
Prerequisite: Biology 37, 38, and 39.
Parasitic and free-living protozoa studied: life histories and anatomy of typical forms. Vital stains and permanent mounts utilized; student preparation of some permanent mounts.

143—Comparative Anatomy I. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
Prerequisite: Biology 37, 38, and 39. Biology majors allowed credit for this course unless Biology 144 completed.
The lower chordates through the dogfish.

144—Comparative Anatomy II. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
Prerequisite: Zoology 143.
A continuation of Biology 143; laboratory work devoted to study of turtle and cat.

146—Parasitology. Four hours.
Four hours laboratory and two hours lecture per week.
Prerequisite: Biology 39.
The epidemiology, morphology and importance of animal parasites, with emphasis on those affecting man.

153 or 453—Marine Invertebrate Zoology. Nine hours.
Laboratory and field work.
Prerequisites: 18 quarter hours of biology including general biology or zoology, and junior standing.
General study of anatomy, life histories, distributions, and phylogenetic relationships of all marine phyla below chordates, with special reference to Gulf species.

158 or 458—Comparative Physiology of Marine Animals. Six hours.
Prerequisites: General biology and general chemistry. Taught at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.
Lectures and laboratory experimentation of fundamental physiological principles, using marine organisms.

159 or 459—Parasitology of Marine Animals. Four and one-half hours.
Prerequisite: Twenty-four quarter hours of Biology. Taught at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.
Laboratory and field study of the great variety of parasites found in marine fishes and invertebrates.

160 or 460—Marine Coastal Ecology. Four and one-half hours.
Prerequisite: Two years of Zoology and one year of Botany. Taught at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.
A field and laboratory study of the relation of marine coastal organisms to their environment, and the interrelationships of different species.

161 or 461—Marine Vertebrate Zoology. Nine hours.
Prerequisites: 18 quarter hours of biology including comparative anatomy and junior standing. Taught at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.
General study of all the marine Chordata, including the lower groups, and the mammals and birds; most emphasis will be given to fishes.

166—Microtechnique. Four hours.
One hour lecture and six hours laboratory per week.
Prerequisite: Biology 37, 38, and 39. Open to Juniors and seniors, and others by special permission.
Techniques for preparing microscopic slides.

167—Histology. Four hours.
Three lecture periods and one two-hour laboratory period each week.
Prerequisite: Biology 37, 38 and 39.
Microscopic anatomy for general students. Recommended for hospital technicians, nurses and biology majors.

168a, b, c—Biological Problems. Two hours each.
Given only by special arrangement.
A course in special techniques, designed for majors with a need for certain basic biological techniques as tools for future research. Individual work after advisement with instructor.

190—Embryology I. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
Prerequisite: Biology 37, 38, 39, 143, and 144.
Embryology of vertebrates, especially the frog. Maturation, fertilization, cleavage, origin and development of germ layers, histogenesis, and organogenesis. Strongly recommended for majors.

191—Embryology II. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
Prerequisite: Embryology 190.
A continuation of Embryology 190. The embryological development of vertebrates, especially the chick and the pig. Histogenesis and organogensis of the chick, the pig, and the human being.

195—Ecology I. Four hours.
Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory per week.
Prerequisite: Biology 39, one year of chemistry, a course in physics, and Zoology 142. Botany 120 strongly recommended.
The relationships of organisms to the environment. The study of natural biotic communities.

196—Ecology II. Four hours.
Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory per week.
Prerequisite: Ecology 195.
A continuation of Ecology 195, with emphasis upon the dynamics of the biotic community.

197—Econolgy III. Four hours.
One hour lecture and a minimum of six hours laboratory per week.
Prerequisite: Ecology 196 and senior standing, except by special permission.
Special field and laboratory problems in beginning ecological research under direction.

198—Limnology. Four hours.
Lectures, laboratories, and field trips.
Prerequisite: Biology 38, 195, and 196 strongly recommended. Junior standing and permission.
A study of the physical, chemical, and biological conditions in lakes, ponds, and streams.

500—Special Problems in Biology. Two to eight hours.
Prerequisite: A thorough background in biology.
Specific problems assigned to students for investigation under faculty direction.

BOTANY

40—General Botany. Four hours.
Four hours of laboratory and two hours of lecture per week.
Anatomy physiology and reproduction of major plant grouping, with emphasis on problems in the basic plant sciences; an introduction to cellular physiology and structure; and an introduction to taxonomy and taxonomic systems.

101—Economic Botany. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Botany 40 or its equivalent.
A study of plants of economic importance to man, including plants that are used for timber, cereal, grains, fruits, gums and resins, spices, drugs, etc.

117—Botany I. Four hours.
Two theory periods and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
A study of gross and microscopic structures, physiology, life cycles, and economic significance of the Thallophytes.

118—Botany II. Four hours.
Two theory periods and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
Prerequisite: Botany 117.
A study of the Bryophytes and Pteridophytes.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.

120—Taxonomy of Higher Plants. Four hours.
Prerequisites: Botany 117 and 118.
A study of the classification of both wild and cultivated seed plants, including theoretical, laboratory, and field work.

139—Bacteriology. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
Prerequisites: Biology 37, 38, and 39, except for students majoring in home economics.
A general course in bacteriology dealing with fundamental principles, and with morphological and cultural characteristics of several forms. Protoboa, molds, and yeasts considered.

145—Applied Bacteriology. Four hours.
Two theory periods, and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.
Prerequisite: Bacteriology 139.
A course supplementing Bacteriology 139. Emphasis upon some of the less elementary bacteriology techniques in common laboratory use, and upon an introduction to the types of techniques employed in laboratory diagnostics.

157 or 457—Marine and Fresh Water Algae. Four and one-half hours.
Prerequisites: General botany and plant taxonomy, and Biology 139. Taught at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.
A morphological, systematic, and physiological study of the representative algae flora of the laboratory area. Field and laboratory studies.

170—Plant Geography. Four hours.
Four theory periods per week.
Prerequisites: Botany 40 and 120.
Designed to acquaint the student with the distribution, both in time and space, of the major groupings of vascular plants. Emphasis on the present distribution of the families, genera, and species of flowering plants.

187—Bacteriology. Four hours.
Four lectures per week.
A course supplementing Bacteriology 139, with special emphasis on molds, yeasts, and bacteria associated with disease.

193. Plant Physiology I. Four hours.
Two theory and two laboratory periods per week.
Prerequisite: General botany (Botany 40 or its equivalent). General and organic chemistry recommended.
Designed to acquaint the student with basic physiological processes of green plants. Extensive use of the greenhouse in laboratory work.

194—Plant Physiology II. Four hours.
A continuation of Biology 193.

ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY

119—Alcohol Studies. Two hours.
The application of scientific findings to the solution of a social problem. Based on subject matter as presented by the Yale University Summer School on Alcohol Studies.

129—Physiology. Four hours.
Three lectures and one two-hour laboratory period each week.
It is recommended that a quarter of general chemistry and general biology precede this course.
Study of the general physiology of the human body. Emphasis upon facts of physiology in their relation to the interpretation of diseases.

136—Human Anatomy. Four hours.
Four lectures per week.
Prerequisite: One quarter of general biology is highly recommended.
Study of the structure of the human body. Designed as a first course in human anatomy.

182—Kinesiology. Four hours.
Four lectures per week.
Prerequisites: Biology 37, 38, and 39, and Biology 136 or Health 166. Designed primarily for majors in health and physical education.
Study and analysis of movement of human body. Study of principal bones and muscles relative to their contributions to support and motion of body segments.

188—Zology for Teachers. Six hours.
Prerequisites: No biological background required.
Designed to provide teachers of biological sciences in elementary and secondary schools, with opportunity to become acquainted with marine life. Field trips to shrimping grounds, oyster reefs, and seafood processing plants, with opportunity to make teaching collections of marine organisms.

DIVISION OF COMMERCE

J. A. Greene, Jr., Chairman

PURPOSE

The continuing aim of the Division of Commerce is to train young men and women to enter the business world and high school teaching positions beter prepared for success than those who preceded them. This training includes general education courses, general business courses, economics, management courses, and specialized courses in the various commerce areas.

ORGANIZATION

The Division of Commerce is organized into five departments: Accounting, Business Administration, Business Education, Economics, and Marketing. Majors are offered in the following areas: accounting, business administration, business education, economics, foreign trade, office management, personal management, marketing, and secretarial studies. In addition, a student may choose a field of specialization in accounting, business administration, or marketing. For the student who cannot attend four years, a two-year curriculum in secretarial training is offered.

CURRICULUM—BASIC COLLEGE CORE

For the core curriculum requirements of the college and the Division of Commerce requirements on the freshman and sophomore levels, the student is referred to the curriculum as outlined under the Basic College section. The general commerce major is reminded that he should have completed Business Administration 40, Business Education 35 or 36, Economics 55 and 56, and Accounting 71, 72, and 73 before his junior year.

CURRICULUM—COMMERCE CORE

Students majoring in accounting, business administration, economics, marketing, office management, personnel management or secretarial studies are required to take the following core in commerce in addition to their major requirements. This core constitutes a minor in business administration and meets the college requirement in that respect. Business administration majors may minor as specified in the departmental curricula.

Course	Title of Course	Hours
Business Education 103	Business Correspondence	4
Marketing 130	Principles of Marketing	4
*Economics 133	Money and Banking	4
Business Administration 166, 167	Business Law	8
Business Administration 142	Principles of Management	4
Business Administration 140 or 189	Business Organization and Finance or Corporation Finance	4
	TOTAL	28

*A secretarial studies major may substitute Economics 107 or 108.

CURRICULUM—MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

The majors are outlined under the departments in which they are located. With the consent of his advisor, a student occassionally may make a substitution for one of his required courses.

CURRICULUM—ELECTIVES

Electives are courses a student chooses. They may be selected from any department in the college.

DEPARTMENT OF ACCOUNTING

Ben L. Forbes, Acting Head
Anderson, H. O. Jackson, Maxey

In recent years, due to taxation, governmental regulations, and the necessity for business to have adequate accounting records and information to meet competition, there has been a tremendous increase in the demand for accountants. The demand for the general accountant has been supplemented by the demand for the specialist. The Department of Accounting provides for the supply of both types by providing programs with emphasis on industrial or public accounting as well as the general accounting program.

Accounting majors should take Accounting 71, 72, and 73 in their freshman year and postpone part of their core. They should follow with Accounting 100, 101, and 150 in their sophomore year.

The following courses are recommended for students planning to minor in accounting: Accounting 72, 73, 100, 101, and three other advanced accounting courses.

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

J. A. Green, Jr., Head
Edgeworth, Harlan, Turner, Santa Cruz

Success in business today demands maximum preparation. This is true whether one intends to own his own business or work for some company. The curricula in the Business Administration Department are designed to given the student the broad knowledge of the business and economic world necessary to prepare him for the vast majority of non-specialized positions open to the graduating student. Specialized courses are offered for the student who definitely knows the area of business he wishes to enter.

The recommended minor in business administration for a non-commerce major is: Accounting 71 and 72; five advanced courses in business administration which may include Marketing 130 or Economics 133.

The recommended minor in personnel management for a non-commerce major is: Accounting 71 and 72 or Economics 55 and 56; Economics 127; Business Administration 142, 182 and 183; and Psychology 149.

The recommended minor in personnel management for a commerce major is: Business Administration 182 and 183; Psychology 149 and 178; and Business Education 160 or Markeing 155.

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS EDUCATION

Martin Stegenga, Acting Head

Reck, Ewell, Coleman, H. O. Jackson

The business education curriculum is the one within the Division of Commerce that qualifies the student to teach business courses in secondary schools. In addition to this curriculum the Department of Business Education offers curricula in office management, secretarial studies and a two-year program in secretarial training.

Education is the minor in business education.

The recommended minor in office management is: Accounting 71 and 72; Business Administration 142 and 182; Business Education 118, 150, and 160.

The recommended minor in secretarial studies is: twelve hours in typewriting; twelve hours in shorthand; and twelve hours in advanced business education courses. High school courses taken in typewriting and shorthand will reduce the number of required hours.

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

W. B. Nation, Acting Head

Greene, Jordan, Harlan, Edgeworth

The curriculum in economics is intended to prepare the student for many positions in business or government or give him the background necessary for further study in a graduate school. For the non-major the courses in economics have become popular as a minor or as electives, for they add greatly to one's understanding of the social and economic environment in which he lives, thereby making him a better citizen as well as a better-informed businessman.

The Department of Economics, in cooperation with the Latin-American Institute and the Social Studies Division, also offers a major in foreign trade as outlined below. In addition, a Bachelor of Arts degree is offered in economics, the curriculum below being changed as needed by the department head.

The recommended minor in economics consists of Economics 55, 56, 112, 133, 169 and two other advanced courses. A commerce major must substitute Eoconmics 180 for Economics 133, which is in the commerce core.

DIVISION OF EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

Roy G. Bigelow, Chairman

A major concern of this division is to offer those courses in education and psychology required in the preparation of teachers for elementary and high school. A second major concern is to give basic training in the field of psychology for the student who will continue his work in graduate schools, pursuing advanced degrees in this field. A third major concern is to serve other divisions and departments of the college having special needs which are usually met by professional schools of education and psychology.

Organizational Plan of the Division

Seven undergraduate departments, areas, and special services are found in the Division of Education and Psychology, each of which has an administrative head or director. These areas are the Departments of Elementary Education, Secondary Education, and Psychology, the Special Education Services, the Reading Clinic, the Audio-Visual Education Library, and the George Hurst Laboratory School.

Teacher-Education Curriculum

It is assumed that a student desiring to qualify for a license to teach possesses the requisite personal qualifications to become a successful teacher. Such a student should seek counsel and guidance early in his college career regarding the academic, professional, and personal requirements necessary to qualify. Courses in education and psychology required for teachers' licenses, popularly known as professional courses, are best taken in sequence and not crowded into one or two quarters. Such qualifications are established by state boards of education or similar agencies, and usually require the candidate to follow a course pattern extending over two or more years. The division faculty will gladly advise a student wishing to apply for a teacher's certificate in Mississippi or other states and assist in planning schedules.

The Basic College curriculum, required of all freshmen and sophomores, is found in its own pertinent section of this bulletin.

The core curriculum for the student desiring to teach in the elementary school (grades 1-8) is set forth in detail elsewhere in this bulletin, and the senior college curriculum is given on the following pages. The student will major in elementary education in this case.

A student who wishes to teach in high school (grades 6-12) will major in an academic department of his choice, such as English or chemistry. The professional courses which he will take to qualify for a teaching license are listed also in a separate section.

Special education is the general term used to designate that area of education for children who are atypical, such as those with physical, hearing, visual, or special defects; those who are mentally, emotionally or socially retarded; and the mentally accelerated. The curriculum for special education is set forth elsewhere.

DEPARTMENT OF ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Leo R. Miller, Head

Black, Dent, Dowell, Durkee, Easterling, Staiger

A student desiring to teach in grades one to six will major in this department and choose a minor in some academic department. It is not possible to have a minor in elementary education. The Basic College curriculum for elementary education majors is set forth in detail elsewhere.

(It is recommended that Conservation 147 be taken in the junior year to avoid conflict with directed teaching.)

DEPARTMENT OF SECONDARY EDUCATION

N. L. Landskov, Head

Boroughs, Hagenson, J. R. Johnson, Sr., Keena, McQuagge, Morgan

A student desiring to qualify for a high-school certificate will major in some academic field which is taught in high school. In addition the student will complete the professional courses in education and psychology listed below. Successful completion of this requirement will entitle the student to the professional diploma. The sequence of courses listed below will meet certification requirements in most states. Division or department heads should be consulted for such requirements. In case of daubt inquire of the Head of the Division of Education and Psychology.

AUDIO-VISUAL EDUCATION

S. L. Knight

The audio-visual courses are designed primarily for teachers and ad-administrators with emphasis upon the use of sound and visual classroom teaching aids. Much attention is given to the sources, selection, and use of audio-visual materials and equipment. Practical problems of developing the teaching program and appraising its adequacy and effectiveness are considered form a study of functions, organization, and administration of the program.

The film library, one of forty-nine in the United States with over 1000 primary instructional films, is an important part of the audio-visual courses providing many stimulating opportunities for students enrolled in audio-visual education.

GUIDANCE

J. R. Johnson, Sr., Director

The courses in guidance are planned to give public school teachers, supervisors, and administrators a foundation in the understanding and use of guidance services and for the preparation of specialists in this area. Selections from the following courses may be used to meet the requirements for a master's degree in personnel and counseling, and for qualification for certificates in school and vocational counseling. By careful planning and advisement a secondary school teacher may qualify for both a Secondary AA Certificate and a Counselor Certificate by taking graduate hours in addition to those required for either certificate alone.

Background courses recommended: Psychology 65, 116, 119, and 132; and Education 136, 169, 512, 532, and 574.

(Note: The courses in guidance: Education 136, 506, 522, 571, 587, 588, 590, 591a, b, c, 592, 594, and 596a, b, c, are being offered to meet the minimum state requirements for those desiring to become counselors.)

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

Ralph S. Owings, Head

Bigelow, Boroughs, Easterling, J. R. Johnson, Sr., Landskov
McQuagge, Miller, Morgan, Sumrall

The Department of Educational Administration has the responsibility of training school administrators for various supervisory and administrative positions. Principals, supervisors, and superintendents are now required to have completed certain specified courses in this area of service, and such courses are offered in this department and in allied departments of the college. A major in this department leads to the Master of Arts degree in school administration and supervision.

The degree of Master of Arts is also offered with majors in these areas: secondary education, elementary education, elementary supervision, administrative personnel and counseling, psychology of reading, health and physical education, home economics education, general speech, speech correction and hearing, teaching of biological sciences, teaching of commerce, teaching of business education, teaching of English, teaching of mathematics, and teaching of history or the social sciences.

The degree of Master of Education, representing two years of graduate work, is offered with majors in school administration and supervision, secondary education, and elementary education.

Full treatment of curricula, course offerings, and requirements is given in the Graduate School Bulletin.

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

Ray S. Musgrave, Head

Austin, Durkee, Freeny, Frye, Staiger, Sumrall

The Department of Psychology offers two types of major sequences, leading either to the Bachelor of Science degree or the Bachelor of Arts degree.

General Psychology Major—Non-Professional

This major is provided for the student who is interested in psychology and who plans to enter an occupation other than professional psychology. Courses are selected in accordance with the interests of the student and with the approval of his advisor. Psychology 65 and Psychology 129 are the only specified courses in the major department.

The student with this general major will not be recommended for professional work in psychology or for graduate professional work in this field. Students aspiring to advanced professional training in psychology take the pre-professional sequence.

Psychology Major—Preprofessional

This major sequence is planned to provide the student with the background and skills essential for graduate professional training in psychology. The required courses include Psychology 65 as prerequisite for all others, and Psychology 129, 139, 178, 180, 187, 190, 194, and eight additional quarter hours in psychology.

The Department of Psychology also is service department to teacher education, offering certain courses required for teacher certification. It also stands in this same service relationship to other divisions and departments of the college which require or recommend courses in psychology in their respective curricula.

Students may elect either the Bachelor of Arts degree or the Bachelor of Science degree. Those who contemplate advanced graduate work and elect the Bachelor of Science degree are reminded that reading knowledge of two foreign languages is often required, and the undergraduate program is an excellent place to take work in at least one language.

Degree Requirements for a Major in Psychology

Mississippi Southern College is a member of the National Association of Schools of Music and is accredited by that organization. The requirements for entrance and for graduation are in accordance with the published regulations of the National Association of Schools of Music.

The Department of Music was organized for a four-fold purpose: (1) to combine musical and literary studies as a broad basis for regular college work; (2) to use the art of music as a means of intellectual, aesthetic, and moral culture; (3) to furnish instruction to special and general students; and (4) to train vocal and instrumental supervisors of music.

Admission

First, as a regular student. For any curriculum leading to a degree, the student must satisfy the entrance requirements of the college.

Students entering the piano, voice, violin, viola, violoncello, or organ program must give evidence that the preparatory course in piano, voice, violin, viola, or violoncello has been completed.

Freshmen must take entrance examinations in elementary theory. Those passing may enroll in the regular required courses. Students who have had preparatory work but cannot pass the examination may enroll for the regular required courses, but must do two hours of supervised work each week without credit in elementary theory until the entrance requirements are satisfactory fulfilled.

Second, as a special student. A student may, as a special student, elect any curriculum his previous training has qualified him to pursue with profit.

The curricula include systematic and progressive instruction in theory, history and practice of the arts to which they severally relate, and in those branches of language, philosophy, history, and criticism which bear most directly upon these arts, and without knowledge of which success in the higher domain of arts is impossible.

Students desiring to major in music should register for the Bachelor of Music degree with piano, church music and organ, voice, violin, viola, violoncello, or musical compostion as a major, or for the Bachelor of Music Education degree with vocal music education or instrumental music education as a major. However, any student of the college not registered for a music degree may pursue such courses in the Department of Music as he wishes if he pays the required fees.

Music majors who have taken music courses under private instruction or in such way as not to receive credit may be excused from required courses in the music curriculum on the basis of tests of proficiency.

I. The Curriculum in Piano

The best principles of modern piano technique form the basis of teaching in this department. The student is thoroughly gounded in the classics, including Bach's Inventions and Well-Tempered Clavichord, with Hanon, Czerny, Clementi, Chopin and Liszt Etudes, sonatas by Mozart and Beethoven, and selections from the compositions of the best composers of the clasic, romantic, and modern schools of composition.

In the junior and senior years of the course, concertos by Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Chopin, Grieg, Schumann, Liszt, and modern composers are studied and performed. Students to rank as freshmen must show that they have had the equivalent of four years of serious study of the piano.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Music with Piano as a major must present recitals selected from composers of the classic, romantic, and modern schools in their junior and senior years. Candidates with piano pedagogy as a major must be prepared to present part of a recital in their senior year and place more emphasis on the teaching of piano.

II. The Curriculum in Voice

The Department of Music recognizes the need of thorough fundamental training in the technique of singing as a prerequisite of the study of songs. The course of instruction is based upon the principles of the Italian school of singing.

Attention is given to the study of breath control, voice placing, tone production, vowel formation, the development of resonance, range, flexibility, tone color, and style. Song literature of the classic and modern schools is given to build an adequate repertoire, as well as to enrich and broaden the musical experience and appreciation of the student. Upon graduation the student must possess a repertoire of recitatives and arias from the standard oratorios, and representative operatic arias, as well as a repertoire of songs from English, French, Italian and German schools. Students to be classified as freshmen in the vocal degree course must show by examination that they have the technical and musical development equivalent to one year of vocal study, as well as preparatory piano.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Music with voice as a major must be prepared to present recitals of standard songs and arias selected from the classic and modern schools of composition in their junior and senior years. Candidate with vocal pedagogy as a major must be prepared to present part of a recital in their senior year and place more emphasis on the teaching of voice.

III. The Curriculum in Violin

It is the aim of the Violin Department to offer instruction that will thoroughly train the student to meet the demands of the orchestra and concert violinist as well as to prepare for the field of teaching. Throughout the course careful attention is given to the development of technique, musical style, interpretation, and musicianship. Special emphasis is placed on ensemble in advanced classes.

The material studied is selected according to the individual needs of the student from the following studies: Sevick, Leonard, Kayser, Mazas, Schradieck, Kruetzer, Rhode, and others. For the development of style and interpretation, sonatas by Tartini, Nardini, Handel, Haydn, and Bach are used, and concertos by Viotti, Rode, DeBeriot, Mendelssohn and Wieniawski. For graduation, selections are made from concertos by Beethoven, Bruch, Mendelssohn, Vieuxtemps, and others of equal difficulty, and miscellaneous compositions from Paganini, Sarasate, Wieniawski, Hubay, and representative modern composers.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Music must be prepared to present a recital from composers of the classic, romantic, and modern schools in their junior and senior years.

IV. The Curriculum in Violoncello

The aims of this department are the same as those of the Violin Department.

The material studied is selected according to the individual needs of the student from the following studies: Dotzauer, Grutzmacher, Duport, Popper, and Piatti. For development of style and interpretation sonatas by Coverette, Locatelli, and Boccherini, and suites for violoncello alone by J. S. Bach, concertos by Romberg, Davidoff, Servais, Popper, Golterman, Saint-Saens, Lalo, Haydn, Dvorak, D'Albert, and Schumann. Concert pieces by Tchaikowsky, Davidoff, Popper, and Boellman.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Music must be prepared to present a recital of selected composers of the classic, romantic, and modern schools in their junior and senior years.

V. The Curriculum in Composition

This course offers special study in the practical writing of original work for instruments or voice, including the larger forms such as the sonata-allegro form, variations, art songs, anthems, and other forms of freer content.

The latest developments distinctive of modern harmony, the various melodic, and rhythmic idioms of the present day are made available to the student through discussion and practical use.

The course in advanced composition is given by private instruction only, and is designed for the talented student who is especially qualified to enter the field of musical composition.

VI. The Curriculum in Music Education

The teaching of music in the public schools is now considered the work of a specialist of broad training. The importance of laying a thorough musical foundation in the grades is generally recognized and calls for great ability in the teacher of music. In the high school, music is now accorded a place of importance, and the demand for teachers who can organize and direct choral, instrumental, theoretical, and appreciation courses is increasing from year to year.

The courses in public school music supervision are designed to give not only thorough and practical training in music pedagogy but also adequate preparation in practical and theoretical music, psychology, education, and cultural subjects.

The degree of Bachelor of Music Education is offered upon completion of the four-year curriculum. There is an increasing demand for supervisors of music and junior and senior high school music teachers holding a bachelor's degree. This course offering a degree combining music and education is planned to meet the demand in music education.

VII. The Curriculum in Church Music and Organ

The organ course is designed to provide a thorough and sufficient education for both the concert and the church fields, the latter being particularly stressed. It includes a fundamental study of the manual touch, pedal technique, the independence of the hands and feet, and elementary and advanced registration. The earlier literature is designed for the special needs of the individual student, and includes technical studies, the short preludes and fugues of Bach, the choral preludes, etc.

Practice

Regular hours of practice are assigned each student by the chairman of the division. The number of hours of daily practice depends on the classification of the student. Bachelor of Music students are required to practice four hours daily throughout their four years. If students of other classifications, one or two hours of daily practice are required.

Recitals

In order that students may become accustomed to appearing in public, frequent afternoon recitals are given. Public recitals are given by advanced students as often as is consistent with their regular work.

All applicants for the Bachelor of Music and Bachelor of Music Education are required to appear on afternoon programs, once in the freshman year, twice in the sophomore year and three times in both junior and senior years.

Opportunities are given students to hear the best music in concerts given by the members of the music faculty and visiting artists. Attendance at all recitals is obligatory.

Special Requirements

All non-resident students are required to practice in the Fine Arts Building under supervision.

All students, regular or special, are required to sing or play in any chorus, quartet, orchestra, or band, in which their presence may be desired.

No student in the Department of Music may appear as a representative of the college in a public musical performance, except by permission of the chairman of the Division of Fine Arts.

DIVISION OF HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND RECREATION

Lloyd Milam, Chairman

Instruction: Hill, M. C. Johnson, Kubik, Switzer, Townley, Von Ehrenkrook, Watkins, Yarrow.

Varsity Coaching: Dale, Finley, Green, Stuart, Taylor, Vann.

The health and physical education program is operated for the following purposes: (1) to promote the health and fitness of college students; (2) to build a basis in scientific information for good health attitudes and habits; (3) to train in habits of exercise; (4) to offer opportunity for recreation; (5) to prepare teachers, coaches, health educators, supervisors, administrators, and other specialists in the fields of school and community health, physical education, and recreation.

Six hours of physical education activity courses are required of all students. Those students showing proficiency may choose activities during the sophomore year. Varsity players may receive credit for activity courses during the regular season.

Following the medical examination, students are interviewed in order to guide them into appropriate remedial procedures.

Men are required to have suitable unforms consisting of "T" shirts, shorts, and soft-soled shoes. Freshman women must wear all-white gym suits. Modern dance students will wear leotards and sandals. Frehmen need bathing suits in September.

Course numbers followed by "w" indicate courses open only to women. Course numbers followed by "m" indicate courses open only to men. Courses without the letter are coeducational.

DIVISION OF HOME ECONOMICS

Bertha M. Fritzsche, Chairman

Campbell, Chichester, Fowler, Gill, Hesson, Owings, Patton, Thompson

Courses in the Division of Home Economics are planned for students who wish to major or minor in home economics, or who wish to select their electives from this area. The curricula and courses are planned to place emphasis on improved family living by preparing students for homemaking and for vocations which will further the improvement of family living.

Curricula for Majors

Curricula leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in home economics are (1) home-economics education, designed to prepare students for teaching homemaking education in any of the schools in Mississippi or to participate in the extension-service program; (2) institution management, designed to prepare students as school-lunch managers, community nutritionists, or food-service directors, or for dietetic internships; (3) general home-economics, designed for homemaking or for home economists in equipment, or other positions in business; (4) clothing merchandising, which prepares students for positions in the retail field; and (5) child development, which prepares students for work with the pre-school child.

Those who select the home-economics education curriculum may follow the plan for (a) teaching homemaking or (b) home-economics extension service. Those who choose the curriculum for teaching homemaking education and complete the requirements will qualify for the vocational license to teach homemaking in the schools of Mississippi. Those who complete the curriculum for home-economics extension service will meet the requirements for assistant home-demonstration agent.

Those who select the general home economics curriculum may follow the plan for (a) home economists in equipment, which prepares students for work with the utility companies or household appliance dealers or manufacturers, or homemaking, which meets a need for students who plan to go immediately into homes of their own. Those wishing an A.B. degree in general home economics may follow the plan for a major in homemaking.

The major in clothing merchandising makes advancement more readily available to those seeking positions as buyers for apparel specialty stores or apparel departments in department stores. Also, it leads to the management of one's own small store or to the management of ladies' apparel chain stores.

The child development curriculum is designed to interest majors with special abilities and interests in young children. It provides opportunities to observe and work with infants and nursery school children. Specialization in this area of home economics prepares students for nursery school teaching and administration and for leadership in educational programs of children's institutions. This major is appropriate for persons who wish to begin study for positions in such areas as the handicapped child and child welfare, or who wish to pursue graduate courses.

Offerings for Non-Majors

Students may earn a minor in home economics by selecting twenty-eight hours of work from the following courses: Child Development 39, and 138; Clothing and Textiles 23, 26, 50, and 104; Foods and Nutrition 37, 85, 123, and 135; The House and Home Management 105; Marriage and Family Life 51, and 151. These same courses may be selected fo relectives. The only prerequisite to these courses for non-majors is the necessary academic standing; courses with junior or senior numbers may not be taken by freshmen and sophomores. Non-majors who wish to substitute other courses for those named above, may do so if they have had the necessary prerequisites to the courses.

Two-Year Certificate Course

A two-year schedule of courses which leads to a certificate is planned for school-lunch managers. The program includes general education courses as well as those designed to add to the special preparation of the individual as a school-lunch manager.

All freshmen and sophomores majoring in home economics will follow the core curriculum outlined in the section devoted to the Basic College. Following are outlines for the junior and senior years.

Prerequisite: Approval of instructor.
One lecture and six hours of laboratory.
Application of basic principles of cookery to preparation of food in large quantities; standardization of formulas with reference to quantity, manipulation, and cost. Use of institution food service equipment.

DIVISION OF INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Zed H. Burns, Chairman

Burns Thomas

The Division of Industrial Arts is primarily concerned with courses for the training of teachers. All students who plan to teach industrial arts should take at least 45 quarter hours with a minimum in the following fields: general shop—4; woodwork—8; metals—8; graphic arts (drawing and/or printing)—8; electives (electricity, plastics, leather, ceramics, etc.)—17. Twenty-eight quarter hours are required for a minor in industrial arts.

Students who are interested in the technical phase of industrial arts may plan to take only 36 quarter hours in this field. This will not prepare the student for the teaching profession but will furnish an excellent background of training to enter certain technical phases of industry. A special four-year curriculum is provided for architectural draftsmen.

Four-hour course.

Continuation of Industrial Arts 31, with emphasis on the selection of projects to implement the objectives of an industrial arts program. The importance of individual design.

63b—Continuation of 63a—Advanced Woodwork. Two hours.

64—Metal Work. Two hours.

An introduction to the application of hand and machine processes. Simple pattern drafting. Study of materials. Working cold iron; cutting, forming, seaming, burning, crimping, and fastening, as applied to the making of sheet metal products.

126—Engineering Drawing. Four hours.

Use of instruments, engineering lettering, freehand sketches, applied geometry, orthographic projection, pictorial drawings, sectional views, and working drawings from written descriptions as well as from actual objects.

128—Planning and Equipping of the School Shop. Four hours.

Planning the laying out of rooms and other building facilities. Purchase and arrangement of equipment. Selection of suitable equipment for special conditions. The cost of equipment, supplies, and maintenance.

129—Shop Care and Management. Four hours.
A study of machine placement; student movement; arrangement of safety zones; upkeep and repair of tools; tool storage and distribution; storage of materials; assembly areas; and the general appearance of the shop.

135—Descriptive Geometry. Four hours.
A study of the general principles of descriptive geometry and their application to engineering, architecture, and geology.

137—Statics. Four hours.

140—Welding. Four hours.
Introduction and practice in welding steel and iron by the oxy-acetylene and electric processes.

142—Machine Shop. Four hours.
Introduction to the procedures in grinding; thread cutting; quick change gears; the drill press and its operation; taper turning; cutting tools; grinding machines; and the assembling of machine parts.

144—Plastics and Leather. Four hours.
A study of plastics most commonly used in school shops; general operations in design; shaping and finishing selected projects in plastic. Instructions in tooling, embossing, lacing, and designing selected leather projects.

150—Organization and Administration of Industrial Arts. Four hours.
Objectives of industrial arts for different school levels. Bases of organization. Character of work for different levels and different types of schools. Organization of courses of study and teaching materials. Class organization for individual and group work.

154—Handicrafts for Elementary Teachers. Four hours.
A course for teachers of both lower and upper elementary work. Intended as an aid to the teacher in her preparation to guide the children in all free activities. Cardboard and wood construction, weaving, coping saw work, and letter cutting.

160—Industrial Arts Electricity. Four hours.
An introduction to some phases of electricity such as magnetism, bell wiring, bell transformers, repair of electrical appliances, sources of electrical energy, house wiring, and generators and motors.

170—Architectural Design I. Four hours.
Use of drawing tools, delination, lettering, shadows and perspective, elementary design problems .

171—Architectural Design II. Four hours.
Analysis and solution of simple problems of architectural design, study of space and mass, structural details, outline specifications.

172—Architectural Design III. Four hours.
Analysis and solution of architectural problems of moderate complexity, emphasis on domestic problems and simple commercial buildings. Attention is given to construction and finish details through research, discussion, drawings, and models.

180—Structures I. Four hours.
Analysis of fundamental structural principles, application of mathematics to structural theory.

181—Structures II. Four hours.
Study of statistically determined structures including shear and bending moments, torsion, slope and deflection, design of beams, columns, trusses, struts, problems dealing with wood, reinforced concrete, steel, and other materials.

190—History and Philosophy of Industrial Arts. Four hours.
Open to juniors and seniors.
A critical consideration of various points of view; important contributions to general education; philosophy of industrial arts education.

Requirements for majors: 45 hours in English, including 25, 26, 27, 73, 74, 100, 104, 105, and 106. At least 24 of the 45 hours must be in courses numbered above 100.

Note one: The student who is working for the B.S. degree with English as his major field must take English 141.

Note two: The English major who wishes to qualify as a part-time librarian will need 18 hours of library science. For the specific requirements, see Department of Library Science.

Note three: English 25, 25, 27, and 8 hours of sophomore literature are prerequisites for any English course numbered 100 or above.

Recommendations for minor: English 25, 26, 27, 73, 74, 100; eight hours from English 104, 105, 106.

Students who make superior scores on the English placement test for freshmen may apply to the head of the English Department for permission to substitute a more advanced course for English 25.

All students are required to pass an examination demonstrating a mastery of the minimum essentials of composition. This examination is given every quarter by the English Department and should be taken during the first quarter of the student's junior year.

JOURNALISM

Frank Buckley, Head

Lowrey Liles

The Department of Journalism offers professional training leading to a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree. A student must complete a minimum of thirty-six quarter hours in journalism to qualify for a major in that field. A minor requires twenty-eight hours. Students may also schedule journalism courses to satisy avocational interests.

Required courses for majors interested in the editorial sequence are 57, 58, 75, 76, 134, 136, 150, 151, 180, and 185. Required courses for students interested in public relations are 57, 58, 130, 134, 136, 150, 157, 158, 165, and 170. All majors and minors are required to do practical work on THE STUDENT PRINTZ. Others are invited to join the staff.

LIBRARY SCIENCE

Anna M. Roberts, Head
Flynt

Students majoring in Library Science may register for either the Bachelor of Arts degree or the Bachelor of Science degree. School librarians are considered teachers and must meet the requirements for certification by the State Department of Education. Students planning to become librarians should have a broad, general education. Preparation should stress academic rather than professional courses, and emphasis should be placed on literature and social science. A knowledge of one or more foreign languages is recommended for students who expect to meet entrance requirements for graduate library schools. Since much of the work is done on the typewriter, a knowledge of typing will be decidedly advantageous. Junior or senior standing is prerequisite with at least average scholastic record during the first two college years for a library science major.

Students may qualify for the Class A Certificate by completing at least 36 quarter hours of library science:

Books and related materials for children and young people	8 qtr. hrs.
Administration of libraries	8 qtr hrs.
Electives in library science	20 qtr. hrs.

No correspondence or extension work is counted toward this credit.

Four hours of the directed teaching may be in school library practice. Education 116 (Audio-Visual Education) may be counted toward the major in library science, provided it is done in residence.

Students who are planning to study librarianship should consult the head of the Department of Library Science for advice regarding their curricula.

An intensive course through group study in the analysis of special problems in the library field. Full-time work for five days, offered during the summer quarter; to to conducted through the cooperative efforts of the Department of Library Science and the State Department of Education.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

William G. Burks, Head

Johnson Weiersheuser

Foreign Language Majors and Minors: Candidates for either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree may choose a major or a minor in French, German, or Spanish. The requirement for a major, in terms of hours, is 24 quarter hours in courses numbered 100 or above. Two college years (24 hours) or its equivalent in high school and college courses is prerequisite to beginning study at the level of the major or minor.

Electives	30 to 42

*Students who have had two years of a language in high school should not schedule freshman courses

The phonetics course is required for French and Spanish majors.

Related Majors: Credit for all Spanish courses is accepted for majors in the Institute of Latin-American Studies; credit in French or German is accepted for minors.

The major in foreign trade within the Division of Commerce includes a study of the Spanish language and of Latin-American literature and culture and automatically gives the student a second major in Spanish. Credit in French is accepted for Latin-American students who major in foreign trade.

The major in foreign service within the Division of Social Studies is also planned to give the student a second major in the foreign language of his choice.

Method: Emphasis is placed upon the oral aspect of the language in the teaching of Spanish and French, so that the first four quarters the classes may be conducted to some considerable degree in the language. This fact tends to be less true in German, where there is greater demand for reading knowledge for science majors.

Advanced Language Courses: As the student progresses into the more advanced courses, studies in the literature and civilization of the French-, German-, or Spanish-speaking countries will receive greater emphasis. Oral and written treatment of this material will be largely in the foreign language.

Registration for Courses: In all courses which run throughout the year, the first quarter is prerequisite for the second and both the first and second are prerequisites for the third. No credit is granted for any part of the first year of a language until the third quarter has been completed.

It is understood that a student, whether studying a foreign language as a part of his "core curriculum," as a requirement in a "related major," or as a major or minor in itself, will begin the language in college at the level of his achievement at the time of entrance. If he should be placed in a language course above the beginning level, he will not receive college hours of credit for the courses not studied in college.

Class Attendance: Because of the special nature of teaching and learning a foreign language, a minimum amount of "contact time" is essential. Foreign language students, therefore, are expected to attend all classes except those from which they are excused by reason of illness, administrative sanction, or the judgment of the instructor.

FRENCH

Burks Johnson

THE INSTITUTE OF LATIN-AMERICAN STUDIES

Reginald C. Reindorp, Director

Adams, Jenkins, J. R. Johnson, Jr.

The Institute of Latin-American Studies was organized at Mississippi Southern College in 1947 to coordinate the study program and administer the affairs of the many Latin-American students on the campus. In this respect the director of the institute is foreign student adviser.

In 1951 the institute was reorganized in order to provide for certain needs of American students. In common with many other institutions of higher learning, the college found it advisable to provide channels through which regular students might take advantage of study plans not open to them through the usual system of majors and minors. Among these are area studies and curricula offering preparation in special fields of inter-American affairs.

The principal aim of the institute is to foster and promote better understanding and relationships between the Americas. To implement this aim the institute offers two general types of courses, one for Latin-American students who come to the United States for the purpose of learning English and United States culture and customs. These are called orientation courses for Latin-Americans.

The second general type of course is organized for the purpose of offering training to North American students who wish to prepare themselves for work or a career in inter-American affairs. These courses are called Latin-American studies. All courses in the institute are designated by the letter "L". For further information concerning the Institute of Latin-American Studies, the interested student may consult the Bulletin.

Orientation Courses For Latin Americans

Each quarter the institute offers a twelve-week orientation course with classes in the English language, conversation, composition, grammar, culture and customs of the United States. These courses are attended by business and professional people, and students, all of whom are international guests representing the best of Latin-American homes and society in Latin America.

During the months which comprise the summer vacation for the schools of Latin America (December, January, and February) the institute offers a special course for teachers. The course is of eight weeks only and is intended for teachers. More advanced training of a technical nature is offered for both United States and Latin-American teachers of English as a foreign language.

An organized program of social activities for these visitors includes excursions to various places of historic and scenic interest, which serves to give an insight into United States civilization. In addition, various clubs, business firms and civic organizations entertain the students with trips, programs, banquets, and other activities. The course offerings are listed in detail in a bulletin which may be had free on request.

Latin-American Studies

The student who is interested in inter-American affairs will find many opportunities for study at Mississippi Southern College. There is also the advantage of mingling with Latin-American students to become acquainted with their customs and culture and practice in speaking Spanish and Portuguese. The various departmental and divisional offerings in this field have been coordinated and developed into several inter-departmental curricula providing the following courses or degrees:

I—The Bachelor of Arts degree in Latin-American studies, with emphasis on culture and history.

II—The Bachelor of Arts degree and the Bachelor of Science degree in foreign service.

III—The Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in foreign trade.

IV—The Bachelor of Science degree with a major in economics and related fields, with minor in Latin-American studies.

V—The Bachelor of Arts degree in secretarial studies.

VI—A two-year course for bilingual secretary-interpreters or receptionists specializing in inter-American relations.

VII—A one-year intensive course in Latin-American studies for graduate students, business men, professionals and technicians, and teachers.

VIII—The Bachelor of Scienec degree in Latin-American studies, leading to certification as a teach of Spanish.

IX—The Bachelor of Science in Latin-American studies, which prepares for service careers in Latin America in the following areas: elementary education, reading specialists, home economics and homemaking, health education, sanitation, and sanitary engineering.

Core Requirements

The core requirements for the B.A. and B.S. degrees may be found in the appropriate sections of this catalogue. The total core requirements of 100 hours for the B.A. degree leave a remainder of 92 hours which will be taken in major, minor and elective courses. The total core requirements of 78 hours for the B.S. degree leave 114 hours to be distributed among major, minor, and elective fields.

For a sample curriculum in foreign trade and other major and/or departmental courses which may be counted as Latin-American studies, see the institute bulletin.

Note: Students who major in Latin-American studies may not minor in Spanish.

Proficiency Examinations

The Institute of Latin-American Studies offers two types of proficiency examinations as follows:

(1). All students whose mother tongue is not English are required to present a certificate of proficiency in English when registering in the college. This certificate is issued by the institute when the student has passed the proficiency examination. This examination is given at the end of each quarter and may be taken as many times as necessary. There is a charge of $1.00 for each examination, except the first, to cover the cost of materials.

(2). All students who plan to teach or major in French, Spanish or English as a foreign language or in Latin-American studies are required to demonstrate their ability to speak, understand, and write the language they have studied, by passing the proficiency examination.

Application forms for the above examination may be obtained in the institute office.

DIVISION OF MILITARY SCIENCE AND TACTICS

SFC Harold J. Douglas

AUTHORIZATION

Mississippi Southern College was authorized by the Department of the Army to activate on April 3, 1950, a volunteer unit of the senior division Reserve Officers' Training Corps. Training offered was to be a general military science course. The unit was organized June 14, 1950, under the authority of the act of Congress, June 3, 1916, and subsequent amendments thereto.

OBJECTIVES

The general objective of the course of instruction is to produce junior officers who by their education, training, and inherent qualities are suitable for continued development as officers in the United States Army. Training in military leadership will be emphasized. Instruction will be given in subjects common to all branches of the army. It is intended to attain this objective during the time that the students are pursuing the general or professional studies, with the least possible interference with their civil careers, by employing methods designed to fit them physically, mentally, and morally for pursuits of peace as well as pursuits of war. It is believed that such military training will aid greatly in the development of better citizens.

MISSION

The major mission is the training of officers to serve with the reserve components of the Army of the United States, i.e., The United States Army Reserve, and the National Guard. In addition, the ROTC provides the principal source of procurement of junior officers for the regular army.

VETERANS

Veterans may receive credit for the basic course for military service completed within five years prior to enrollment in ROTC. Veterans who have been honorably discharged, or transferred to the Enlisted Reserve Corps and relieved from active duty, may receive credit toward eligibility for the advanced ROTC course on the following basis:

(1) For more than six months and less than one year of active service in the Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, credit in lieu of the first year basic course.

(2) For more than one year of such active service, credit in lieu of two years or the entire basic course.

ENROLLMENT REQUIREMENTS

The general requirement for enrollment and continuance in the ROTC is that the student be a citizen of the United States, physically qualified as prescribed by the Department of the Army, and accepted by the institution as a regularly enrolled student not less than 14 years of age but less than 23 years of age at the time of anrollment (except for veterans). The student must successfully complete such general survey or screening tests as are given to determine eligibillty for admission to the basic and advanced courses, and agree in writing upon admission to the advanced ROTC course to complete the course of instruction offered, unless released by the Department of the Army. Should a student fail to continue the prescribed course while a student at Mississippi Southern College, he may be requested to refund to the government any sums previously paid. The contract will expire if the student's attendance at the school is interrupted for more than two calendar years.

TRAINING COURSES AND ALLOWANCES

The course of training covers four years and is divided into two periods.

The Basic Course. The basic course consists of a minimum of three hours of instruction weekly during the first two academic years of military science. No credit will be allowed for basic ROTC unless the entire basic course is completed. A complete uniform of the type worn by the U. S. Army officers will be issued to each basic course student without cost.

The Advanced Course. The advanced course consists of five hours of instruction weekly during the third and fourth years of military science, with a six-week summer camp which is normally held at the end of the junior year. No credit will be allowed for advanced ROTC unless the entire advanced course is completed. The advanced course is not open to all students completing the basic course, nor to all veterans. Only those will be selected whose past military and academic records are of such high standing as to warrant the belief that they will become qualified reserve officers of the Army of the United States.

Students taking the advanced course of instruction are paid by the federal government at a rate fixed by the secretary of defence. The present rate is approximately $27.00 per month. Normally, there are about 105 days between the end of the spring quarter and the beginning of the fall quarter. ROTC students who have finished the first year of the advanced course will be required to spend 42 days in summer camp. They will be paid a ration value of 90 cents per day for the remaining 63 days of their summer vacation. This amount (approximately $57.00) will be paid when students return to school in the fall. See information covered under "Summer Camp" below concerning pay and allowances for the 42 days while at summer camp.

All clothing, equipment, and textbooks necessary for the pursuance of military science course are loaned, fee of charge, to the student. However, any such article lost or damaged by any means other than fair wear and tear, must be paid for by the student to whom it is issued. A deposit of ten dollars is required of all students enrolled in ROTC. This fee is refunded when the student clears his supply account with the Division of Military Science and Tactics. Students who fail to clear their accounts with the military property custodian before leaving the institution will not only have their academic credits withheld, but will face the possibility of federal prosecution for illegal possession of government property.

SUMMER CAMP

The six-week summer camp is normally attended by students upon completion of the first year of the advanced course of military training. Students are paid five cents per mile for the distance from the institution to the place of camp and return. While at camp each student will receive food, uniforms, medical attention, and pay of the first grade of the U. S. Army (currently $75.00 per month) from the government.

At this camp the students meet young men from many of the best institutions in the United States, thus broadening their contacts and gaining opportunity to make friendships that may be of great value in later life. In addition to the many physical, moral, and mental benefits from the healthful camp life, there are sufficient recreational features provided to make the stay thoroughly enjoyable.

COMMISSIONS IN THE ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES

Students successfully completing the advanced course and the summer camp are tendered commissions as reserve officers in the Army of the United States.

There are certain stipulations whereby a student who completes the first year advanced course may be designated a "Distinguished Military Student". A student so designated who maintains such standards until he graduates will be designated a "Distinguished Military Graduate" and will be eligible for consideration for appointment in the regular army.

AWARDS

Each year the outstanding ROTC cadet in each class is selected on the basis of leadership, scholarship, and military aptitude. The cadet so honored is awarded a key, and his name is engraved on the appropriate plaque displayed in the Military Science Building. Plaques were donated by the following civic organizations:

Outstanding Senior Award—Rotary Club.

Outstanding Junior Award—Kiwanis Club.

Outstanding Sophomore Award—Elks Club.

Outstanding Freshman Award—Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The following students were selected as the outstanding cadets in their respective classe for 1955-56:

Outstanding senior—Charles D. Young.

Outstanding junior—John M. Britt.

Outstanding sophomore—James K. Travis.

Outstanding freshman—Troy R. Young.

A certificate of meritorious leadership achievement designed to recognize cadet leadership is awarded annually to the graduating cadet selected by the head of the institution on the basis of leadership development throughout his ROTC career. The student selected for this award for 1955-56 was Charles D. Young.

CURRICULUM

31, 32, 33—Military Science. Three hours each.
Organization of the army and ROTC, individual weapons and marksmanship, American militaryhistory, physical training, school of the soldier and exercise of command.

61, 62, 63—Miliary Science. Three hours each.
Map and aerial photograph reading, crew-served weapons and gunnery, physical training, school of the soldier, and exercise of command.

121, 122, 123—Military Science. Three hours each.
Small unit tactics and communications, organization, function and mission of the arms and services, military teaching methods, leadership, school of the soldier, and exercise of command.

161, 162, 163—Military Science. Three hours each.
Logistics, operations, military administration and personnel management, service orientation, school of the soldier, and exercise of command.

DIVISION OF PHYSICAL SCIENCES AND MATHEMATICS

C. E. Lane, Jr., Chairman

CHEMISTRY

Hurst, Lane, Propst, Stocker

Students who are majoring in general science with an education minor (those following the professional teaching program with the expectation of teaching in the high school) are required to take eighteen hours in chemistry, eighteen hours in a biological science (including botany), and twelve hours in physics.

Students who are planning to major in the various fields of chemistry or are preparing for the professional field of education will find programs listed below.

Students who desire to prepare for the professional fields of medicine, industry, etc., and who desire to major in chemistry will find appropriate programs outlined below.

SUGGESTED PROGRAMS

The program for the first two years will be found in the section on the Basic College. The programs below include the required courses only. Completion of the core requirements is necessary. Any unassigned hours are electives.

Specialization in Physical Chemistry

Chemistry 130, 132, 155, 157, 181, 182, and 183
German 35, 36, 37, 125, 126, and 127 (French may be substituted)
Physics 90, 91, and 92
Mathematics 180, 182, and 185

Specialization in Organic Chemistry

Chemistry 130, 131, 132, 181, 182, and 183 (160, 161, and 162 are suggested)
German 35, 36, 37, 125, 126, and 127 (French may be substituted)
Physics 90, 91, and 92
Biology 37, 38, and 39 are suggested

Specialization in Scientific Professions

Chemistry 130, 131, 132, 181, 182, and 183
German 35, 36, 37, 125, 126, and 127 (French may be substituted)
Physics 90, 91, and 92
Biology as needed for profession chosen.

Specialization in Secondary Education

Chemistry 130, 131, 132, 181, 182, and 183
Physics 90, 91, and 92
Psychology 119 and 132
Fine arts 4 hours
Education 113, 116, 128, 151J, 169, 185, and 186
Biology 37 and 38. (Eight additional hours will permit certification in biology)

25—Inorganic Chemistry. Four hours.
Three theory periods and one double laboratory period per week.
A course in general inorganic chemistry stressing the fundamental principles and their application in industry, medicine, etc. Not a prerequisite for chemistry majors and not accepted in that program.

26—Inorganic Chemistry. Four hours.

Three theory periods and one double laboratory period per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 25.
Continuation of Chemistry 25.

27—Inorganic Chemistry. Four hours.

Three theory periods and one double laboratory period per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 26.
Continuation of Chemistry 26.

31—Inorganic Chemistry I. Five hours.

Four theory periods and one three-hour laboratory period per week.

Prerequisite: Algebra, or Mathematics 31 and 32 taken concurrently with Chemistry 31 and 32.

A course in general inorganic chemistry stressing fundamental principles, and a comparative study of the elements. Emphasis upon fundamental laws, theories, and application.

32—Inorganic Chemistry II. Five hours.

Four theory periods and one three-hour laboratory period per week.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 31.
Continuation of Chemistry 31.

33—Inorganic Chemistry III. Five hours.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 32.
Four hours lecture and one three-hour laboratory period per week.
Continuation of Chemistry 32.

75—Analytical Chemistry—Inorganic Qualitative Analysis. Four hours.

One theory period and three double laboratory periods per week. One hour recitation.

A course intended to give a knowledge of the methods used in qualitative analysis. A study of the reactions and methods of separation and identification of the common metals and anions, and of chemical equilibrium.

76a—Analytical Chemistry—Qualitative Analysis. Two hours.

One theory period and three double laboratory periods per week. One hour recitation.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 75.
Qualitative analysis completed.

76b—Analytical Chemistry—Quantitative Analysis. Two hours.

One theory period and three double laboratory periods per week. One hour recitation.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 76a.

A study of the techniques necessary in making quantity determinations, both volumetric and gravimetric.

77—Analytical Chemistry—Quantitative Analysis. Four hours.

One theory period and three double laboratory periods per week. One hour recitation.

Quantitative work completed. Typical gravimetric and volumetric determinations, with an introduction to instrumental analysis.

92—Organic Chemistry. Four hours.

Three theory periods and one double laboratory period per week.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 27.

A short course in organic chemistry designed for students majoring in home ecenomics. Aliphatic and aromatic hydrocarbons; the applications of organic chemistry to the home.

100—Glass Blowing. Two hours.

Prerequisite: Senior college standing.

Four hours laboratory per week.

A course in the practice of handling both soft and pyrex glass. The operation of gas oxygen burners and the fabrication of simple equipment.

130—Organic Chemistry. Four hours.

Two theory and two double laboratory periods per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 27.

A course intended to give the student a knowledge of the fundamental principles of the compounds of carbon. Reactions of the aliphatic hydrocarbons, their derivatives, their nomenclature, classification, relationships and general applications.

131—Organic Chemistry. Four hours.

Two theory and two double laboratory periods per week.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 130.

A continuation of Chemistry 130, completing the study of the aliphatic hydrocarbons and beginning the study of the aromatic hydrocarbons.

132—Organic Chemistry. Four hours.

Two theory and two double laboratory periods per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 131.

A continuation of Chemistry 131, completing the study of the aromatic hydrocarbons.

136—Food Chemistry. Four hours.

Three theory periods and one double laboratory period per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 92.

A brief course in the composition and properties of foods: proteins, carbohydrates, fats, and salts.

155—Advanced Quantitative Analysis. Five hours.

One hour consultation and nine hours laboratory or library per week.
Prerequisites: Chemistry 77 and 132.

Offered on demand, but no more often than in the odd-numbered years.

A course in the analysis of minerals, alloys and organic substances, with emphasis on methods taken from recent literature and applied to analytical problems.

157—Qualitative Organic Analysis. Five hours.

Two hours lecture and six hours laboratory per week.
Offered in the odd-numbered years.
Prerequisites: Chemistry 77 and 132.

Emphasis on the systematic identification of pure organic chemicals and the analysis of mixtures.

160—Biochemistry. Four hours.

Two theory and two double laboratory periods per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 132.
Offered in even-numbered years.

A course designed to acquaint the student with the chemistry of living organisms. A study of the carbohydrates, proteins, lipids; their digestion and metabolism; and the accompaning vital processes, such as respiration and detoxication.

161—Biochemistry. Four hours.

Two theory and two double laboratory periods per week.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 160.
Continuation of Chemistry 160.

162—Biochemistry. Four hours.

Two theory and two double laboratory periods per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 161.
Continuation of Chemistry 161.

165—Physiological Chemistry. Four hours.

Three theory periods and one double laboratory period per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 136.
A course designed for home economics students, with emphasis on a study of the chemistry of the human body.

181—Physical Chemistry. Four hours.

Three theory periods and one double laboratory period per week.
Prerequisites: Chemistry 77 and Mathematics 176.
A mathematical treatment of the laws governing chemical and physical changes. A study of the fundamental principles of chemistry and physics in their relation to each other.

182—Physical Chemistry. Four hours.

Three theory periods and one double laboratory period per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 181.
Continuation of Chemistry 181.

183—Physical Chemistry. Four hours.

Three theory periods and one double laboratory period per week.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 182.
Continuation of Chemistry 182.

190-191—Chemistry Honors Course. Four hours each.

Prerequisite: Calculus, Chemistry 132 and 183, or physical chemistry taken concurrently.

Available to chemistry majors during their last two quarters of residence, upon recommendation of the Chemistry Department faculty.

A course in library and laboratory research on a problem chosen in consultation with the advisor.

Curriculum Leading to the Bachelor of Science Degree in GEOLOGY

Olin T. Brown, Head
Connell, Livingston, Nyholm

Students electing geology to satisfy the college one-year science requirement will take Geology 44, 45, and 46. Students majoring in geology will take Geology 44, 50, and 104. Geology majors must elect a minor in mathematics, physics, biology, chemistry, or general science. For requirements for a general science minor, see core requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree. Students expecting to enter the field of geophysics should complete mathematics through calculus, and elect a physics minor.

Except as explained below, all geology majors must include the following courses in their programs of study:

Geology 105—Invertebrate Paleontology
Geology 106—Invertebrate Paleontology
Geology 119—Sedimentation
Geology 130—Structural Geology
Geology 180—Geology Summer Camp

Women students are excused from Geology 180 until a permanent camp with suitable quarters and chaperones is available. Certain physically handicapped students may be excused by the department. In either case the department will require the student to offer nine quarter hours of specified work in substitution for Geology 180.

For the work of the first two years see catalog section on the Basic College.

Junior Year

Physics 80, 81, and 82, or 90, 91, and 92	12
Geology 119, 130, and 137	12
Physical education or health	4
[1]Minor field	12
[2]Electives	8
	48

Senior Year

Geology electives numbered above 100 (to be selected from Geology 138, 139, 153, and 160)	12
[1]Minor and electives	36
	48

[1]Students planning to specialize in paleontology and straitgraphy should elect a biology minor, or include one year or more of biology if electing the general science minor. The student is cautioned that he must have a total of 68 hours numbered above 100 to be eligible for graduation. In addition, it should be remembered that French and German are required by many graduate schools.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

44—Physical Geology. Four hours.

Three lectures and two hours laboratory each week.

An introduction to earth science, including the physical processes responsible for shaping the major features of the landscape. Laboratory study of common minearls and rocks.

45—Elementary Physiography. Four hours.

Three lectures and two hours laboratory each week.

Prerequisite: Geology 44.

A study of land forms, their origin, structure, and relationship to the geologic processes at work, accounting for the relief of the earth's surface. Laboratory study of selected topographic and physiographic maps.

46—Historical Geology. Four hours.

Three lectures and two hours laboratory each week.

Prerequisite: Geology 44.

A study of earth history as revealed in the character and fossil content of rocks. One field trip for collecting fossils. Laboratory study of fossils, geologic maps, structure sections, and columnar sections.

50—Historical Geology of North America. Four hours.

Three lectures and two hours laboratory each week.

Prerequisite: Geology 44.

Designed for majors and minors in geology.

The geologic history of North America, including the nature and fossil content of rocks of various ages, stratigraphic associations, paleogeography, and the continental framework.

102—Invertebrate Zoology. Four hours.
For description see Biology 102.

104—Introduction to Minerals and Rocks. Four hours.
Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory each week.
Prerequisites: Geology 44 and Chemistry 25.
Analysis and identification of the important rock-forming minerals. The origin, occurrence, and classification of rocks, and their identification.

105—Invertebrate Paleontology. Four hours.
Two lectures and four hours laboratory each week.
Prerequisites: Geology 50, and Biology 102.
A study of invertebrate fossils, devoted to the Protozoa through Echinodermata, with attention to the history of the science, rules of nomenclature, and environments of lower animals.

106—Invertebrate Paleontology. Four hours.
Two lectures and four hours laboratory each week.
Prerequisite: Geology 105.
A continuation of the study of invertebrate fossils, begining with the Bryozoa and extending through Arthropoda.

119—Sedimentation. Four hours.
Two lectures and four hours laboratory each week.
Prerequisites: Geology 44, 50, and 104.
A concentrated study of weathering, transportation, deposition, and lithification of sedimentary materials. Regional and local sediments investigated, classified, and mechanically treated with laboratory apparatus. Microscopic analysis of selected samples.

122—Petroleum Geology. Four hours.
Three hours lecture and two hours laboratory each week.
Prerequisite: Senior standing in geology.
The origin, occurrence, distribution, and methods of recovery of petroleum and natural gas.

125—Advanced Physiography. Four hours.
Three lectures and two hours laboratory each week.
Prerequisites: Geology 44, 50, and 104.
An advanced course stressing the origin of major order relief features, namely: continents and ocean basins, physiographic provinces (constructional land forms), and the third order destructional forms.

130—Structural Geology. Four hours.
Four hours lecture each week.
A study of the mechanical principles of rock formation, including folding, faulting, unconformities, and regional and local tectonics.

137—Stratigraphy of North America I. Four hours.
Four hours lecture each week.
Prerequisites: Credit or enrollment in Geology 106, and 130.
An analysis of stratigraphic principles, followed by a study of the pre-Cambrian through the Silurian of North America. Emphasis on correlation, distribution of rock units, sedimentation, structural and stratigraphic history, and occurrence of petroleum-bearing strata.

138—Stratigraphy of North America II. Four hours.
Four hours lecture each week.
Prerequisite: Geology 137.
A continuation of the study of stratigraphy, involving rocks ranging from the Devonian through the Permian. Attention to the importance of stratigraphy to petroleum accumulation.

139—Stratigraphy of North America III. Four hours.

Four hours lecture each week.

Prerequisite: Geology 138.

A continuation of the study of stratigraphy, involving rocks ranging from the Triassic through the Pleistocene. Emphasis on petroleum possibilities in Mesozoic and Cenozoic rocks.

143—Advanced Mineralogy. Four hours.

Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory each week.

Prerequisites: Geology 104, and Chemistry 26 and 27.

A comprehensive study of the physical properties, occurrence, uses, and identification of minerals.

144—Marine Geology. Four and one-half to nine hours, or one and one-half quarter hours each week.

Prerequisites: Permission of the department head and twelve hours of geology.

Taught at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

A general introduction to principles of marine geology with a study of bottom contours of shelves and ocean basins, coast formation and erosion, with special attention to deltas and bottom deposits of low-lying coasts.

145—Economic Geology. Four hours.

Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory each week.

Prerequisites: Geology 130 and 143 and Chemistry 27.

The origin, production, distribution, and utilization of metallic and nonmetallic mineral deposits. Field trips included when possible.

153—Plane Table Mapping. Four hours.

Seven hours field work and one hour classroom instruction each week.

Prerequisites: Geology major, upper class standing, and permission of the department head.

Fundamental methods used in topographic mapping. Local areas assigned for mapping and contouring to scale. Instruction by individual assignments.

154—Problems in Marine Sedimentation. Four and one-half to nine hours, or one and one-half quarter hours each week.

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department Head.

Sometimes taught at Gulf Coast Research Labortory.

A study of present marine sedimentation along the Gulf Coast. Mechanical and microscopic analysis of the collected samples.

160—Petrology. Four hours.

Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory each week.

Prerequisite: Geology 143.

A study of the origin, mode of occurrence, and determination of the common types of igneous, sedimentary, and metamorphic rocks. The methods of petrology used; approximately 150 common rocks studied.

161—Micropetrography. Four hours.

Two hours lecture and four hours laboratory each week.

Prerequisite: Geology 143.

A systematic study of rocks, and identification of their constituents by means of the polarizing microscope; interpretation of textures; problems of genesis; qualitative and quantitative classification.

168—Micropaleontology. Four hours.

Eight hours laboratory each week.

Prerequisites: Geology 106, one year of biology, and upperclass standing.

An introduction to the study of micro-fossils (particularly Foraminifera), with emphasis on Gulf Coastal Plain forms.

180—Geology Summer Field Camp. Nine hours.

One and one-half hours credit per week in the field, the camp to be held in the southern Appalachians at Spring City, Tennessee.

Prerequisites: Geology 104, 105, 106, 119, 130 and 153, and upper class standing.

Designed to give experience in solving stratigraphic, paleontologic, and structural problems in the field. Introduction to field methods, instrumentation, and collection of field data and specimens. Weekly assignments in lieu of field report.

191—Field Geology of Mississippi. Four hours.

Minimum of eight hours field and instructional work each week.

Prerequisites: Geology 44, 50, 104, 105, 106, 130, and permission of the Department Head.

Direction in the study of the geology of the State of Mississippi and adjacent areas (Alabama and Tennessee), with field trips to selected stratigraphic sections. Lectures, discussions, and reading assignments preparatory to field studies.

194—History of Geology. Two hours.

Two hours lecture each week.

Open to advanced majors in geology.

Discussions of the development of geology as a science, and of the pioneers who contributed to the various phases of geology.

195—Special Problems in Geology. Four hours.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department head.

Independent study or research, to provide an opportunity for well-qualified advanced students to pursue supervised individual work in fields of special interest.

PHYSICS

St. Clair

A student may major in physics by taking thirty-six quarter hours in the department. The student must take either Physics 90, 91, and 92, or Physics 80, 81, and 82. It is recommended, however, that the physics major take Physics 90, 91, 92. In addition, the student must take twenty-four quarter hours of work selected from the following courses: Physics 102, 112, 113, 150, 160, 161, 164, 182, and 183.

Many graduate schools require French and German .

20—Acoustics. Four hours.

Four theory periods a week.

A non-laboratory course in physics for students of music and speech.

23a—Physical Science. Four hours.

A non-laboratory survey of the physical sciences.

80—General Physics I. Four hours.

Two theory periods and two double laboratory periods a week.

Prerequisites: Mathematics 32 and 35.

A tradiiional course in general physics intended for liberal arts and premedical students. Mechanics.

81—General Physics II. Four hours.

Two theory periods and two double laboratory periods a week.

Prerequisite: Physics 80.

Heat and sound.

82—General Physics. Four hours.
Two theory periods and two double laboratory periods a week.
Prerequisite: Physics 81.
Light, electricity, and magnetism.

90—Technical Physics. Four hours.
Two theory periods and two double laboratory periods a week.
Prerequisites: Mathematics 35 and 175 (may be taken concurrently).
A first course in college physics designed for engineering students and science majors. Mechanics.

91—Technical Physics. Four hours.
Two theory periods and two double laboratory periods a week.
Prerequisites: Physics 90 and 176 (may be taken concurrently).
Heat, sound and light.

92—Technical Physics. Four hours.
Two theory periods and two double laboratory periods a week.
Prerequisite: Physics 91.
Electricity and magnetism.

102—Basic Electronics. Four hours.
Three theory periods and one double laboratory period a week.
Prerequisite: A year of general physics, and Mathematics 35.
Electronic instrumentation for science majors.

112—Sound. Four hours.
Four theory periods a week.
Prerequisite: Physics 81 or 91.
An intermediate course in sound.

113—Modern Physics. Four hours.
Four theory periods a week.
Prerequisite: Physics 82 or 92.
A study of the advances in physics made during the last few decades.

137—Household Physics. Four hours.
Three theory and one double laboratory period per week.
A course in physics for students of home economics.

150—Optics. Four hours.
Four theory periods a week.
Prerequisites: Mathematics 176 and general physics.
An intermediate course in light covering both geometrical and physical optics.

160—Electricity and Magnetism. Four hours.
Four theory periods and one two-hour laboratory period a week.
Prerequisites: Mathematics 176 and general physics.
An intermediate course in the theory of electricity and magnetism.

161—Electricity and Magnetism. Four hours.
Three theory periods and one two-hour laboratory period a week.
Prerequisite: Physics 160.
Further studies in electricity and magnetism.

164—Heat. Four hours.
Four theory periods a week.
Prerequisites: Mathematics 176 and general physics.
An intermediate course in heat.

182—Analytical and Applied Mechanics. Four hours.
For description see Mathematics 182.

183—Vector Analysis. Four hours.
For description see Mathematics 183.

MATHEMATICS

B. O. Van Hook, Head

Bradley, Felder, Foote, Karolyi, Leone, Munn, Spikes, Stinson, Temple

The Department of Mathematics offers a major or minor for students who are candidates for the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree. The courses required for a major or minor are listed below by groups, in order to facilitate the proper selection of sequences of courses.

Groups:

(a) Mathematics 32, 35, 75, 175, 176, and 177
(b) Mathematics 178, 180, 181, 182, 183. 185, 187, 189, 190, and 192
(c) Mathematics 31, 60, 76, 120, and 145, and Industrial Arts 135

Requirements for Majors:	Hours
(1) All courses listed in group (a)	24
(2) At least three courses selected from group (b)	12
Total	36

Recommendations for minors:
(1) All courses listed in group (a)	24
(2) At least one course selected from group (b) or group (c)	4
Total	28

The following courses are strongly recommended for:

Prospective high school teachers—Mathematics 178
Prospective elementary teachers—Mathematics 21 and 60
Majors in business administration, economics, or sociology—Mathematics 120 and 145.
Majors in geology—Mathematics 48

21—Basic Mathematics. Four hours.

An elementary treatment of fundamental concepts including logic, the number system, ratio and proportion, percentage, operation and computation exponents, linear equations, and elementary statistical procedures.

31—College Algebra I. Four hours .

A first course in college algebra.

32—College Algebra II. Four hours.

A second course in college algebra; a continuation of Mathematics 31.

35—Plane Trigonometry. Four hours.

36—Spherical Trigonometry. Four hours.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 35.

47—Use of Slide Rule. Two hours.

A study of the use of the slide rule in the fundamental operations of multiplication, division, squares, square roots, powers, logarithms, sines, cosines, tangents, and cotangents.

48—Plane Surveying. Four hours.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 35.

Theory and practice in the use of instruments of surveying, measurement of horizontal and vertical distances, angles, traverse, curvilinear and topographic surveys, triangulation, measurement of latitude, longtitude, azmith, and time.

60—Mathematics of Finance. Four hours.
Prerequisite: A knowledge of geometric progressions and logarithms.
A course in mathematical principles of such things as building and loan associations, sinking funds, bonds, investments, life insurance, installment buying, and amortization of debts.

61—Mathematics of Finance Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 60.
Designed for students of commerce.
A continuation of Mathematics 60, including a study of simple annuities, sinking funds, and amortization of loans.

75—Analytic Geometry. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 35.

76—Analytical Geometry. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 75.
A continuation of Mathematics 75.

120—Elementary Statistics. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 21 or 31.
A study of statistical series, frequency distribution, measures of central tendency, dispersion and skewness, trend, seasonal and cyclical variation, linear correlation, the normal curve, index numbers, presentation of data, collection of data, and sampling.

131—The Teaching of High School Mathematics. Four hours.
A course designed to acquaint the student with the aims, purposes, and problems of teaching mathematics in the high school and to aid the student in organizing and presenting the subject matter of mathematics.

138—The History of Mathematics. Four hours.
Familiarty with mathematical terminology is necessary.
A study of the development of mathematical concepts.

145—Statistics. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 120.
Average, dispersion, skewness, regression lines and planes, simple correlation, linear and non-linear trends, and normal curve.

175—Differential Calculus. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 75.

176—Integral Calculus. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 175.
A continuation of Mathematics 175.

177—Calculus. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 176.
A continuation of Mathematics 176, emphasizing the application of differential and integral calculus.

178—College Geometry. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 75.
Geometry of the triangle and the circle beyond ordinary Euclidean geometry.

180—Theory of Equations. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 175.

181—Introduction to Modern Algebra. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 180.
Theory of groups, rings, ideals, integral domains, and fields with applications.

182—Analytical and Applied Mechanics. Four hours.
Prerequisites: Mathematics 177 and Physics 82.
A study of vectors, concurrent forces, coplanar forces, resultants, equilibrium, forces in space, moments of inertia, center of gravity, hydrostatics, work, kinetic energy, and dynamics of a rigid body.

183—Vector Analysis. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.
Vector algebra and vector calculus, with applications to physics, mechanics, and geometry.

185—Differential Equations. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 177.
Simple types of ordinary differential equations of the first and second order, linear equations with constant coefficients, and applications to geometry and physics.

187—Advanced Calculus. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 177.
Infinite series, continuity, limits, Gamma and Beta functions, and vector analysis. Fourier series.

189—Introduction to Mathematical Statistics. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 120 and Mathematics 177.
Multiple and partial correlation, analysis of variance, non-parametric methods, testing statistical hypothesis, statistical design in experiments, and sequential analysis.

190—Theory of Functions of a Complex Variable. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.
Complex numbers, analytical functions, infinite series, analytic continuation, Reimann surfaces, conformal mapping, Cauchy's integral theorem.

192—Theory of Functions of a Real Variable. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.
Real number system, point set theory, Lebesgue integration, Stieltjes integrals.

600—Advanced Calculus. Four hours.
Prerequisites: Mathematics 175, 176, and 177.
A basis for any graduate work in pure and applied mathematics. Especially beneficial to senior high school and to junior college teachers of matehmatics.

601—Algebra for Secondary Teachers. Four hours.
A consideration of problems peculiar to the teaching of algebra, and a study of special algebraic principles.

602—Introduction to Higher Geometry. Four hours.
Prerequisites: Mathematics 76, 175, and 178.
Generalization of geometrical concepts, treated principally from the analytic standpoint.

605—Professional Subject Matter. Four hours.
A study of ways to enrich the teaching of high school mathematics by the introduction of elementary topics from college mathematics.

606—Geometry for Secondary Teachers. Four hours.
A consideration of problems peculiar to the teaching of geometry, and a study of special geometric principles.

607—Materials in the Teaching of Mathematics. Four hours.
A study of materials to be used in the teaching of secondary mathematics for multi-sensory aids, mathematics clubs, evaluation, and applications.

608—Application of Mathematics to Navigation and Astronomy. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 185.

609—Advanced Professionalized Subject Matter. Four hours.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 605.

DIVISION OF SOCIAL STUDIES

Leon A. Wilber, Chairman

General Notes on Course Patterns

(1) B.A. and B.S. candidates not electing majors or minors in Social Studies Division.

B.A. and B.S. students who do not intend to major (or minor) in any one of the social studies, but wish to elect courses in the division for their cultural value, or to meet core requirements, are advised to elect courses from the list following: Geography 33, Government 25, History 27 and 28 (as a sequence), History 61, 62, and 63 (as a sequence), History 109, and Sociology 63 or 107.

(2) B.A. and B.S. Candidates electing majors or minors in Social Studies Division.

Students electing majors in the Social Studies Division are required to elect at least 36 hours in one social study, e.g., geography, government, history, religion and philosophy (combined), or sociology. The same principle applies to students electing minors, except that only 28 hours are required. Social studies as a general field may not be chosen as a major or minor, except by elementary education majors, who may choose the general field as a minor.

Although much freedom is permitted in the election of courses, the student should not ordinarily take an advanced course until after completing the corresponding survey course.

(3) Candidates for licenses to teach in second schools.

Students preparing to teach social studies in high school may follow the pattern outlined below:

		Hours
Core curriculum (not including social studies)		62
*Professional requirements		36
Economics 54 (or 55 and 56)		4
Courses in the social Studies Division:
Geography 170	4
Government 25	4
History 27, 28, 61, 62, and 63	20
Sociology 63 (or 107 in junior year)	4
Electives in one subject to make a total in that subject of 36 hours	12 to 36
Total in Social Studies Division (not including economics)		44 to 68
Electives to bring total to 192 hours		22 to 46
		192

*These should be started at once when the student becomes a junior, and should be spread over the junior and senior years. Psychology 119, Education 113, Psychology 132, and History 125 (in that order) should be taken first.

These courses should be taken in the Basic College.

(4) Preparation for Civil Service

The United States Government offers young college graduates attractive positions as management interns. Such officers are employed in many of the government departments and bureaus. The required examination is in two parts: (1) general abilities test for which the best preparation is a general college education, and (2) a test on either administrative problems, or public affairs. Various courses in social studies will be helpful in preparing for this test.

(5) Requirements to teach schol studies as a second field.

Students wishing to prepare to teach social studies (in high school) as a second field should take the following courses:

	Hours
History 27, 28, 61, 62, and 63	20
Education 151L	4
Government 25	4
Economics 54 (or 55 and 56)	4
Sociology 63 or 107	4
Geography 170	4

This list is designed to cover the principal fields a teacher might be called upon to teach. It does not meet requirements for a minor, however, since for a minor a student must take 28 hours in the same subject, e.g., geography, government, or history.

GEOGRAPHY

Arthell Kelley. Head

Bolton Kelley

The increase in travel, especially by American Armed Forces, and the increase in the importance of international trade, and international politics during the last generation, have created a new importance for a knowledge of geography by the American college graduate. The courses offered in geography are designed partly to meet these new needs for the general student, and partly to meet the increasing demand for trained geographers in government service, and in industry.

Students majoring in geography should select courses according to the following pattern:

	Hours
Geography 33 and 43	8
Geography 100 or 180	4
From Geography 110, 118, 131, 138, 139, and 140	12
From Geography 145, 160, 170, and 176	12
Total	36

NOTE: The Civil Service Commission expects 45 hours for a major.

Courses of Instruction

33—Principles of Global Geography. Four hours.

An introductory course dealing with the elements of geography, both physical and cultural. Student applications of the geographic principles studied in interpreting interests and activities of different peoples.

43—Economic Geography of Selected Countries. Four hours.

A regional survey of important countries, their products, and trade relations. Emphasis on United States, South America, and Europe.

100—Cartography. Four hours.

A course in methods of representing landscape features and geographic data on maps and graphs. Includes map projections, with student diagrammatic sketching from nature and from maps.

110—Geography of the United States and Canada. Four hours.

Open to sophomores.

A regional study, covering people, resources, products, trade, world relations, and acquaintance with U. S. census statistics.

118—Geography of South America, Mexico, and the Caribbean Countries. Four hours.

Open to sophomores.

Intended to acquaint the student with geography of regions differing from his own.

131—Geography of Mississippi. Two hours.

Natural regions, soils, products, industries, and people,. Map-making from U. S. census statistics.

138—Geography of Europe. Four hours.

A study of the people, resources, products, and possible future development.

139—Geography of Asia. Four hours.

A regional study, with emphasis on Russia, India, China, and Japan.

140—Geography of Africa. Two hours.

A regional study.

141—Geography of Australia. Two hours.

A regional study.

145 or 445—Advanced Economic and Commercial Geography. Four hours.

Includes a short survey of geographic principles governing primary, secondary, and teritiary production.

160—Geographic Influences in American Development. Four hours.

A study of how geography has influenced American history: exploration, settlement, and political, industrial, and social development.

170 or 470—World Political Geography. Four hours.

A study of the world political situation, present and future, in its relationship to natural environmental backgrounds.

176—Conservation of Natural Resources. Four hours.

A study of the problems of conservation of natural resources of the United States and the world, including soil, minerals, natural vegetation, native animals, water, and people.

180 or 480—Climatology. Four hours.

A detailed study of types of world climates. Reference made to distribution of patterns of vegetation, soil, and population resulting from climates.

194a, b—Tour of Geographical Places. 1½ hours each.

Prerequisite: Consent of the instructor. May be taken twice as "a" and "b", but only once for credit toward a major or minor in geography.

A three- or four-week, conducted tour of places of geographical interest, varied from year to year. Conducted by a regular faculty member, with prepared lectures and study materials.

500—Seminar in Geography. Four hours.

Research in some field of geography, largely individualized.

GOVERNMENT

Davis, Gonzales, Jackson, Nau, Wilber

Introductory Notes

(1) Government 25 should normally be the first course taken.

(2) Students desiring a complete survey of government in the United States should take courses 25, 45, 130, and 135.

(3) Economics 129, and Economics 147 may be elected as government for meeting requirements for major or minor if approved by the student's adviser.

(4) History 179, and History 190 may be elected as government for meeting requirements for major, if approved by the student's adviser.

25—American Government. Four hours.
A survey of our national government, with some related study of Mississippi courts and the state election system.

45—County Government. Four hours.
A study of local rural government, with some emphasis on Mississippi.

106 or 406—American Potlitical Parties and Pressure Groups. Four hours.
A survey of party structures, problems, and methods of political leaders, and present pressure groups and their methods.

129—Public Finance. Four hours.
Same as Economics 129.

130 or 430—State Government. Four hours.
A study of the organization and problems of state governments, with some emphasis on Mississippi.

135 or 435—American Municipal Government. Four hours.
A study of the principal systems of municipal government in the United States, with emphasis on Mississippi.

145—Current Problems in Citizenship. Four hours.
A study of current problems before the national, state, and local governments at the time the course is taught. Different problems studied in different years.

147—Government and Business. Four hours.
Same as Business Administration 147.

150 or 450—Comparative Government. Four hours.
A survey of the principal types of government abroad, especially British, French, and Russian.

157 or 457—International Politics. Four hours.
A study of the types of International organization and the methods and forces involved in international political struggles.

160 or 460—Public Administration. Four hours.
An introductory study including administrative organization, personnel management, and fiscal management.

185 or 485—International Law. Four hours.
A sampling of the field, based largely on cases.

554—Seminar in Problems in Mississippi Government. Four hours.
An individual study of current governmental problems before the state at all levels.

714—Mississippi State and Local Government. Four hours.
Same as Education 714.
A detailed study of the state, county, and municipal governments of Mississippi.

HISTORY

Davis, Fortune, Gonzales, Jackson, LaForge, McLemore, Nau, Steede, Walker, Wilber

Introductory Notes

Several courses are parts of sequences, and an entire sequence should usually be taken if any part is taken. These sequences are History 27 and 28, History 61, 62, and 63, and History 128 and 129. History 127 also fits well with History 128 and 129.

Economics 112, and Religion 51, 130, and 132 may be elected as history for meeting degree requirements, if approved by the student's adviser.

27—World Civilization to 1648 A. D. Four hours.
A study of the cultures of ancient and medieval peoples, including those of the Middle East, Europe, India, China, and America. Cultural aspects emphasized more than political history. Intended to be of value to the general student as well as history majors.

28—World Civilization since 1648 A. D. Four hours.
A continuation of History 27, with emphasis in the latter half upon the twentieth century.

61—American History to 1844. Four hours.
A survey of political, social, and economic history.

62—American History from 1844 to 1896. Four hours.
Open to transfer students as a half course: 62a or 62b (two hours each); course dividing point at 1865.
A continuation of History 61.

63—American History since 1896. Four hours.
A continuation of History 61 and 62.

109—Mississippi History. Four hours.
Based largely on library readings. Economics and social history emphasized as much as political. Relationships between Mississippi affairs and the corresponding national and international affairs.

127—Inter-American Relations. Four hours.
A brief study of the Latin-American states from 1830 to the present, with emphasis on international relations among them and with the United States. Emphasis on the ABC powers, Mexico, and Cuba. Intensive study of the Monroe Doctrine, Pan-Americanism, Caribbean problems, and U. S.-Mexican relations.

128 or 428—American Foreign Relations to 1898. Four hours.
A survey of U. S. foreign policy from the Revolution to 1898. Emphasis on the Monroe Doctrine and problems of expansion.

129 or 429—American Foreign Relations since 1898. Four hours.
A continuation of History 128. Emphasis on imperialism, the World War, and U. S. relations with international organizations.

138 or 438—History of the Old South. Four hours.
A reading, research, and discussion course on the ante-bellum South. Special attention given to slavery, plantation life, and manners and customs.

140 or 440—Civil War and Reconstruction. Four hours.
An intensive study of the period from 1861 to 1877.

141 or 441—History of the New South. Four hours.
A study of the South since 1877. Covers social, economic, cultural, and political developments. Special attention to Bourbon rule, the Agrarian revolt and developments during the twentieth century: political, industrial, and educational.

142 or 442—Contemporary American History. Four hours.
American history since 1920. Social, economic, and cultural development, and political events.

151—American Intellectual and Social Development to 1856. Four hours
A study of the intellectual and social forces that have influenced American thought and action. Emphasis to such topics as the influence of racial stocks, and development of religion, literature, science, art, architecture, music, recreation, and political and economic thought.

152—American Intellectual and Social Development Since 1865. Four hours.
A continuation of History 151.

156—Survey of Western Intellectual Development. Four hours.
Designed not to duplicate Philosophy 104 and 106.
A survey of western intellectual development outside the United States, from 1400 to the present. Includes humanism, growth of science, mercantilism, the Age of Reason,, romanticism, liberalism, socialism, and nationalism.

160 or 460—Greek Culture. Four hours.
A study of the literature, art, politics, religion, and philosophy of the ancient Greeks. Emphasis on the Age of Pericles.

162 or 462—Roman Culture. Four hours.
A study of the Roman Republic and the early Roman Empire, covering literature, religion, art, philosophy, jurisprudence, administration and political institutions—especially the last three.

164 or 464—The Middle Ages. Four hours.
An advanced course in European history from the end of the western Roman Empire to the beginning of the Renaissance.

166 or 466—Renaissance and Reformation. Four hours.
An advanced course in European history from the beginning of the Renaissance to 1648, covering art and literature, the rise of capitalism, origins of modern science, the Protestant revolt, and Catholic revival.

167 or 467—The Eras of Absolutism, the French Revolutism, and Napoleon.
An advanced course in social, economic, and political developments in Russia, Prussia, Austria, France, and England from 1648 to 1815. Emphasis on 18th century philosophy, the "Glorious Revolution," expansion of the British Empire, the French Revolution, and the spread of democratic ideas by troops of Napoleon.

168 or 468—Nineteenth Century Europe. Four hours.
A study of Europe from 1815 to 1914. Emphasis on development of the great state, commercial imperialism, and international rivalry.

170 or 470—Recent European History. Four hours.
A study of the period from 1918 to the present.

171 or 471—History of Russia. Four hours.
Political, economic, social, and cultural history since the ninth century. Kievan, Tartar, Muscovite, and Imperial eras, with emphasis to the Soviet period.

172 or 472—The Far East Since 1853. Four hours.

A historical study of Siberia, China, Japan, southeastern Asia, and the Pacific Islands. Diplomacy, cultural and economic developments, and nationalism.

174 or 474—Early English History. Four hours.

Recommended for English majors.

A survey of ancient and medieval England to 1603, with emphasis on customs, literature, and institutions.

175 or 475—Modern English History. Four hours.

A study of England beginning with the Stuarts. Emphasis on development of political institutions, the Industrial Revolution, and imperialism.

179 or 479—Constitutional History of the United States. Four hours.

May be elected as government for a major or minor. Especially recommended for prelaw students.

A historical study of the development of American constitutional law, largely based on cases.

190 or 490—English Constitutional History. Four hours.

May be elected as government for a major or minor. Especially recommended for prelaw students.

A study of the development of English political institutions from Anglo-Saxon times to the establishment of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

192a-b or 492a-b—Mississippi Materials. Two hours each.

May be taken tiwce (as "a" and "b") with permission of the instructor.

194 or 494—Tour of Historic Places. One and one-half hours per week.

Prerequisite: Consent of the instructor.

May be taken twice (as "a" and "b"), but only once for credit toward a major or minor in history.

A one- to three-week tour of historic places conducted by a regular member of the faculty, who presents lectures and study materials on the places visited.

514b—Thesis. Eight hours.

Preparation of a master's thesis, with the help of a member of the graduate faculty. Credit withheld until the thesis is completed.

548—Biographical History of the United States. Four hours.

A seminar study of the lives of prominent persons in United States history.

550—United States Foreign Relations. Four hours.

A survey of current United States foreign policies and problems, including a survey of the State Department organization.

552—Seminar in Southern History. Four hours.

A research course, largely individualized.

553—The West in American History. Four hours.

An advanced study of characteristics of the frontier, and of the influence of the frontier on American life and culture.

562—European Diplomacy, 1870-1919. Four hours.

An intensive study of the strained relations which led to World War I, and of the immediate diplomatic aftermath of the war. Includes social, economic, and political background of the diplomacy.

570—Seminar in the Civil War and Reconstruction. Four hours.

A research course emphasizing causes of the war, economic, political, social, and psychological aspects of the war, and the effects of Reconstruction on later developments. Individual research by each student, for training in research, historical writing, and interpretation.

575—Seminar in Recent European and Asiatic History. Four hours.

Individualized research in European and Asiatic developments since 1914.

RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY

John Nau

The purpose of this department is to offer cultural materials for the general student. Courses in religion and philosophy may be combined for a major or minor.

RELIGION

20—The Old Testament. Two hours.

A general survey, covering types of literature, and general content of the books of the Old Testament, with some attention to Hebrew historical movements.

22—The New Testament. Two hours.

A general survey, covering New Testament life and times, nature and content of the New Testament books, the ministry of Jesus, and the launching of the Christian movement.

51—History of Non-Christian Religions. Four hours.

May be elected as history.

A study of the grounds for religious beliefs of men, the emergence of tribal and national religions in antiquity, and a survey of the principal non-Christian faiths of ancient and modern times.

121—The Minor Prophets of Israel. Two hours.

A study of the lives and teachings of the Old Testament prophets; the social, political, economic, and religious backgrounds to their work; and the relevance of their messages to modern times.

123—The Major Prophets of Israel. Two hours.

A course similar to 121, but dealing primarily with Isaiah, Jeremiah, and Ezekiel.

126—The Gospels. Four hours.

A study of the biography of Jesus and literary problems of the synoptic Gospels approached through intensive work on Mark; with materials integrated from the Gospel of John.

130—History of Christian Culture. Four hours.

May be elected as history.

A study of the cultural development of Western Europe during the Christian era, with emphasis on religious thought, and on religious aspects of institutions, literature, and art.

132—Religion in the Rise of American Culture. Four hours.

A study of the origin and development of the major religious groups and of the shifts in religious thought in the United States from colonial times to the present.

146—The Types of Literature in the Bible. Four hours.

May be elected as English 146.

An analysis of the types of literature in the Old and New Testaments and a comparison of these with similar writings of other Jewish writers of the same periods, and with related types of writing among other peoples.

PHILOSOPHY

100—Introduction to Philosophy. Four hours.
A course intended to acquaint the student with the general nature of philosophical study. Covers values, methods, themes, the nature of reality, epistemology, ethics, and aesthetics.

101—Representative Philosophers I. Four hours.
An introduction to the great thinkers of the world, beginning with Plato. Based on selections from their writings.

102—Representative Philosophers II. Four hours.
A continuation of Philosophy 101.

104—History of Ancient and Medieval Philosophy. Four hours.
A study of the main philosophic movements, and of the findings of Greek pioneers, the patristic writers, and the scholastics.

106—History of Modern Philosophy. Four hours.
A study of the main problems and movements in philosophy from the Renaissance to the present. Attention to the impact of philosophy on the great revolutionary movements in religion, politics, and education.

130—Logic. Four hours.
A study of the methods and problems of accurate and critical thinking. Induction, deduction, the syllogism, fallacies, the scientific method, and symbolic logic. Emphasis on practical applications.

177—Ethics. Four hours.
May be elected as sociology.
A study of the evolution of moral ideas from primitive to modern times, and a critical analysis of ethical theories and of social institutions such as the state, property, and the family.

SOCIOLOGY

John N. Burrus, Head

General Statement

Students may pursue courses in sociology for any of three objectives: (1) a major in sociology; (2) a minor in sociology; (3) a major in sociology with emphasis on social work training. In addition, students who are not sociology majors or minors may select individual courses according to their interests.

Majors should usually select their minor field from among the following: geography, history, government, psychology, economics, and religion and philosophy. Students planning to train for careers in research sociology should be well prepared in fundamental mathematics.

Ordinarily all students should take Sociology 63 as their first sociology course. Majors should include these sociology courses: 63, 107, 112, 118, 128, 130, and 181. The exact program of courses should be worked out with the major professor.

Economics 127, Home Economics 151, and Psychology 139 may be used to satisfy major or minor requirements if approved by the adviser; however, only one of these may be used toward a minor.

Sociology Major for Preprofessional Training in Social Work

Many undergraduate majors in sociology are planning to enter some phase of social work. There are numerous opportunities for trained workers in the fields of child welfare work, family, medical, and psychiatric social work, in parole and probation positions, and in other areas. A student planning to enter professional social work should obtain a well-balanced undergraduate education with courses selected from all major academic divisions. He should plan to obtain his professional training in a graduate school of social work. The student planning to do professional social work usually takes a major in sociology with a minor in another social study. In addition to the minor, the student should take courses in each of the fields in the social studies division. The core curriculum should be completed in the first two years. The student may take either the B.A. or the B.S. degree.

A four-year program should be worked out with the sociology adviser. DIVISION OF SPEECH ARTS

Paul D. Brandes, Chairman

M. Brown, George, Hartwig, Maclin, McCroskey, Peters, Treser

PURPOSE

The Division of Speech Arts aims to improve effectiveness of oral communication.

ORGANIZATION

The Division of Speech Arts has five areas of study: oral interpretation of literature, public address, radio and television, speech correction and hearing, and theatre. Students may follow a generalized program in speech or may specialize in one of the five areas.

CURRICULUM—BASIC COLLEGE CORE

Since core requirements for majors in the several areas and in general speech are listed in the section devoted to the Basic College, it is suggested that speech students study page 75 of this catalog.

GENERAL STATEMENTS CONCERNING MAJORS AND MINORS

Recommended for minor: 28 hours in speech, including Speech 31 and any three of the following courses: Speech 40, 50, 53, 60, 131, and 152.

Note One: Elementary education majors who choose a minor in English and speech should elect Speech 131 as a part of their minor.

Note Two: English majors wishing to satisfy the state requirements for certification to teach English and/or speech in the secondary school should elect, in addition to Speech 31, the following courses: Speech 40, 50, and 60. The minor may be completed with any additional twelve hours in speech.
